SENATE PAPERS

The following Joint Resolution: (S.P. 492)

JOINT RESOLUTION DECLARING THE WEEK
OF APRIL 9, 2017 AS MAINE PUBLIC SAFETY
TELECOMMUNICATORS WEEK

WHEREAS, the United States Congress recognizes the 2nd week of April as "National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week"; and

WHEREAS, over 500,000 dedicated men and women are engaged in the operation of emergency response systems for federal, state, county and local governmental entities throughout the United States; and

WHEREAS, these unseen first responders are responsible for responding to the telephone calls of the general public for police, fire and emergency medical assistance and for dispatching assistance to help save the lives and property of our citizens; and

WHEREAS, Americans place their trust in these individuals, not just this week, but every day of the year, and rely on their knowledge and professionalism as they make critical decisions, obtain information and quickly dispatch needed aid; and

WHEREAS, the calls for help include not only police, fire and emergency medical service calls but those governmental communications related to natural disasters, forestry and conservation operations, highway safety and maintenance activities and all other operations that modern governmental agencies must conduct; and

WHEREAS, Maine's public safety telecommunicators daily serve the public in countless ways without due recognition by the beneficiaries of their services; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Legislature now assembled in the First Regular Session, on behalf of the people we represent, take this opportunity to recognize the week of April 9, 2017 as Maine Public Safety Telecommunicators Week.

The 128th Legislature of the State of Maine
State House
Augusta, Maine

Dear Honorable Members of the 128th Legislature:

Under the authority vested in me by Article IV, Part Third, Section 2 of the Constitution of the State of Maine, I am hereby vetoing LD 12, "An Act To Incorporate Protections for Living Donors into Maine Law."

Once again, the Legislature seeks to compel Maine to become an outlier in regulatory policy. This bill would make Maine one of the only states in the nation to prohibit life, long-term care, and disability insurers from considering living organ donor status among prospective policyholders.

While the decision to donate a kidney or other organ is commendable, it carries significant health risks that could affect other policyholders in the insurance context. It is important to note this bill does not apply to health insurance, where donors already have guaranteed issue rights and other important protections. It applies only to more discretionary policies that concern finances, such as life, long-term care, and disability income insurance. These types of coverage have always been subject to risk-based underwriting and rating, and prohibiting those practices would substantially change the nature of the market for these lines of insurance.

This bill would allow people to buy these coverages immediately prior to their organ donation procedure, which would create adverse selection and skew insurers' actuarial estimates. LD 12 is borne of good intentions but surely the Legislature can think of a better way to help those who donate organs than making Maine the first state to tinker with voluntary insurer risk pools in this way.

For these reasons, I return LD 12 unsigned and vetoed. I strongly urge the Legislature to sustain it.

Sincerely,
S/Paul R. LePage
Governor

READ and ORDERED PLACED ON FILE. Sent for concurrence.

The accompanying item An Act To Incorporate Protections for Living Donors into Maine Law

(H.P. 13) (L.D. 12)
(C. "A" H-6)

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Winslow, Representative Nadeau.

Representative NADEAU: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I'm only going to give you a synopsis of this — very brief. Living donors should not face discrimination or unnecessary hardships because they have helped someone in need, but this is not the reality in some living donor's cases. My bill protects the living organ donors by prohibiting insurance companies from denying them coverage or increasing their premiums for life insurance, disability insurance, and long-term insurance. I appreciate being able to talk and I would like to have the Committee Report read, please.

The same Representative REQUESTED that the Clerk READ the Committee Report.

The Clerk READ the Committee Report in its entirety.

After reconsideration, the House proceeded to vote on the question, 'Shall this Bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?' A roll call was taken.

The SPEAKER: The pending question before the House is 'Shall this Bill become a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor?' All those in favor will vote yes, those opposed will vote no.

(H.P. 44) (L.D. 57)

TABLED - April 4, 2017 (Till Later Today) by Representative TUCKER of Brunswick.

PENDING - ACCEPTANCE OF EITHER REPORT.

Subsequently, Representative TUCKER of Brunswick moved that the House ACCEPT the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Brunswick, Representative Tucker.

Representative TUCKER: Thank you, Madam Speaker. The title of the amended bill, as amended, is "An Act To Reduce Waste by Promoting the Use of Reusable Bags and Recyclable Food Service Containers." My history with single-use plastic shopping bags began in the early 1960s. I was 13 or 14, one of my summer chores was to clean the manure gutters in my uncle's dairy barn. We pushed manure down the scuttles to the barn's cellar below. For years, we used paper bags to carry grapefruit rinds, chicken bones, and other household food scraps out to the barn. We threw them down the scuttle into the manure pile in the cellar. It was also my chore to spread manure on the fields. On hot summer days, I'd back the manure spreader into the barn cellar with a small tractor and load up the manure. Though I didn't realize it, my aunt had switched to using single-use plastic shopping bags to dispose of the garbage. Anyway, one day I loaded the spreader with a soupy load. After driving the dripping spreader across the road, I stopped in a field, pulled the beater lever down, and hopped back on the tractor. As you all know, the beaters, like rotating whirligigs, throw manure off behind the spreader in a wide arc. I think you know where I'm going...It was a hot day, and I wore no shirt. After about 50 yards, a single-use shopping bag wrapped around the shaft of the rear beater. A tangled bag whirled around and around in the soupy manure and yes, the plastic bag whirled the manure forward over and over, splattering me with manure from head to foot. This is the history of single-use plastic bags. So, I admit a conflict of interest, I admit a personal bias concerning single-use plastic shopping bags. The relevance of this experience was that yes, a single-use plastic shopping bag, they are sometimes reused by frugal people. I admit that. But most single use shopping bags are not reused and are thrown out. The goal of this bill is to reduce the one-half billion single use shopping bags in Maine's waste stream, as well as to reduce wasted polystyrene food containers. Hardly any bags are actually recycled, because it is uneconomical. First, from stores that collect the bags, although large and chain stores may get sufficient volume for recycling, small and medium sized stores and independent stores have insufficient resale volume to justify the cost of pickup and transportation. And secondly, recycling single-sort plastic bags from a single sort is a horrendous job that generates very little revenue for recyclers. Ecomaine, in Portland, describes the difficulty. "At least once a day, we have to shut down the entire recycling facility and send three or four intrepid employees, armed with box cutters, into the sorters to cut loose the plastic bags that have wound around moving parts." Manager Tunney of Waste Management Recycling in Chicago says five times a day the whir of the conveyor belts at the recycling center come to a halt, and crews wearing kneepads clamber onto the sorting screens. Using hook knives and reciprocating saws, they cut away the plastic bags, garden hoses, and other stuff that are wrapped around the rotating shafts that help separate paper from cans and bottles. "If we don't do this, four hours from now, none of the containers would fall through because the plastic would plug the gaps." Workers, clipped to safety ropes, untangle the plastic bags from the equipment. More than five hours every day are spent cutting away materials from the shafts, mostly plastic bags. Doing a back-of-the-envelope calculation, Tunney estimated the cost was an additional $9,000 a month in labor. Sometimes, the bags can break the equipment. So, plastic bags and polystyrene are extremely durable and nearly indestructible. The chemicals are not biodegradable and are a plague on the waste disposal system. If you go to landfills, you will see them all over the place, clogging the machinery, blowing in the wind. The landfills do not want them. Not only that, when broken down, the plastic chemicals may be toxic to animal life.

Turning to the amended bill before you, the original version of LD 57 would have imposed a statewide ban on plastic bags. In the original version of another bill before our committee on polystyrene food containers, the committee decided on a different approach, which is before you in the amended bill with the changed title. The bill outlines a nonregulatory approach that supports voluntary action at the local level through nonbinding state goals. This bill is not a state mandate. There is no cost on the fiscal note. The bill simply states that it is the policy of the state to promote the use of reusable bags and also to promote locally recyclable alternatives to disposable polystyrene food service containers. This is in accordance with the Maine waste management policies in Title 38, the so-called waste hierarchy. The bill sets the following voluntary goals: that 20 towns will adopt a reusable bag ordinance and a polystyrene ordinance by the end of 2019, 35 towns by the end of 2024, and 50 towns by the end of 2029. The DEP will simply act as a website clearinghouse for information on local ordinances that deal with single-use plastic bags and polystyrene food containers. And, where available, the DEP will provide computer links to these ordinances. It does not establish a statewide ban or a one-size-fits-all policy. Madam Speaker, it allows local control and provides a positive step to address sources of plastic pollution that end up in the ocean and in our landfills. Local communities can experiment to see what methods work or don't work. I urge you to vote green for the bipartisan, 9-4 Majority Report on this very modest bill. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Limington, Representative Kinney.

Representative KINNEY: Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition to the pending motion and wish to speak.

The SPEAKER: The member may proceed.

Representative KINNEY: Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, when I was a child in the 60s, I don't recall single-use bags anywhere. But, thank goodness for Wonder Bread because I used their bags as socks. Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, while I appreciate the passion of the bill's supporters, I cannot support a bill that eliminates plastic shopping bags. Most Mainers do the right thing. They use reusable shopping bags when it makes sense. They reuse plastic bags as waste can liners, to pick up pet waste, they carry a number of items around. And when I have excess bags, I along with many Mainers take them back to the retailers for them to be recycled. It is widely documented that paper bags use more energy to produce and have a greater environmental footprint than plastic bags. It is not a reasonable alternative for retail locations -- in regard to procurement, inventory, storage, plastic bags require less space and are significantly cheaper. Our small retail outlets utilize available space for maximum retail space. Banning plastic bags is akin to a tax, placing undue hardship on both the retailers and the customers. It takes the form of a regressive tax, impacting consumers already struggling to keep up with the rising living expenses; taking money out of the pocket of many Maine consumers by increasing their grocery bills is a bad policy. How would Maine citizens receiving SNAP and WIC assistance, who are prohibited from using their benefits to purchase nonfood items, be expected to come up with the cash to purchase reusable bags? Federal rules restrict treating SNAP participants differently than other customers. Singling out SNAP clients by asking them to pay for a reusable bag with their own money conflicts with the federal regulations, which states that no retail food store may single out coupon or EBT card users for special treatment in any way. The grocery retail model is, at best, a penny business. These businesses operate on one percent margins, and those who do not easily absorb government mandates must pass them along to their customers. Proponents are adamant that plastic check-out bags are the target of litter and waste stream concerns, but I ask you to consider the plight of these bags. They are filled with grocery items, taken inside the home, unpacked and then tucked away to be used in 101 different ways or taken back to the stores to be recycled in the collection bins. A 2014 study of the Northeast found plastic check-out bags make up a mere 1.2 percent of litter. I feel we, as a state, should continue to educate in recycling all items. Maine retailers are doing the right thing by collecting an increasing amount of these bags and other plastic film, thereby reducing Maine's waste stream. They have invested in collection, bundling, and transport of these plastic bags, along with signs in the parking lots. In the past, the Legislature has rejected similar bills, acknowledging the leadership of the retail community sustainable business practices, recognizing that bans unfairly penalize low-income, elderly population, and acknowledge that the product bans do not change undesirable behavior. Perhaps the time has come to reach out to the retailers and their business partners, instead of imposing costly mandates on them and their customers. Perhaps the time has come to engage in a comprehensive and meaningful effort that examines Maine's recycling goals in an effort that does not rely on cumbersome, onerous, and costly mandates. Don't impose increased costs on Mainers and visitors, and don't increase regulatory burden on the retail community that is already doing the right thing. And finally, I've talked to people in towns with bans, they now go to the grocery store and buy small bags in quantities of 50 to 100 in a box so that they can use them 101 different ways and then throw them away. Thank you, Madam Speaker, and I request a roll call.

The same Representative REQUESTED a roll call on the motion to ACCEPT the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report.

More than one-fifth of the members present expressed a desire for a roll call which was ordered.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Newcastle, Representative Devin.

Representative DEVIN: Thank you very much, Madam Speaker. Madam Speaker, Men and Women of the House, I stand today to give you a few facts and perspectives on plastics in general, and plastic bag bans and other laws addressing plastic pollution from around the world. It is calculated that 275 million metric tons of plastic waste was generated by 192 coastal countries in 2010, with two to five percent of that plastic waste entering the ocean. Without waste management infrastructure improvements, the cumulative quantity of plastic waste available to enter the ocean from land is predicted to increase by more than an order of magnitude by 2025. An order of magnitude means ten times. Being nondegradable, plastic disintegrates in small bits but remains in the environment, essentially forever. These microplastics are then consumed by many filter-feeding and grazing organisms. One study found that 10 percent of the weight of one animal analyzed, consisted of material, containing material without DNA. That animal was 10 percent plastic. Now for my good friend from Limington, and he discussed the hardships, and for those who do not believe plastic bags, and other plastics, are a problem or believe it is too difficult or expensive to address plastic bags and polystyrene, I'm just going to give you a list of some of the countries in and around the world that have outright banned plastic bags or some other sort of restriction on plastic bags. In the continent of Africa: Botswana, Eritrea, Kenya, Mauritania, Morocco, Rwanda, South Africa, Tanzania, Tunisia, Uganda. On the continent of Asia: Bangladesh, China, Hong Kong, India, Indonesia, Israel, Malaysia, Myanmar, Taiwan. From the continent of Europe: the European Union, Denmark, France, Germany, Ireland, Netherlands, Romania, Switzerland, Wales, Northern Ireland, Scotland, and England. From North America: Canada and Mexico. Oceania: Australia, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea. And from South America: Colombia and Argentina. I believe that if these 40 countries can ban plastic bags, I think the United States could do it too. But having said that, in the United States, 18 states plus American Samoa, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico have laws or ordinances addressing plastic bags. Nine towns in Maine have enacted some sort of ordinance on plastics, plus Bangor, Bath, and Belfast are seriously considering restrictions at this stage. Based on 806 publications, there are 1,317 species that are affected by plastics in the ocean. Finally, as you decide how you will vote on LD 57, please consider these two thoughts: number one, plastics ultimately end up, and the vast majority of these bags, don't end up hanging in trees, they end up in our marine environment, and our marine economy is one of our most valuable to the state. Commercial fishing alone is valued at over $1 billion annually. And second, a study published in the highly respected Journal of Science in 2016 analyzed fish stocks and plastics in the ocean. This study forecasts that there will be more plastics than fish by weight in the ocean by 2050. So, my question to you, is how much longer will we wait to address plastic bags and polystyrene, while our commercial fisheries and aquaculture industries, while our recreational fisheries and our tourism, which includes birders and people who take day trips to view whales, seals, birds, and other large animals, suffer from these ubiquitous, insidious plastics? Madam Speaker, thank you very much.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Dresden, Representative Pierce.

Representative PIERCE: Thank you, Madam Speaker and Ladies and Gentlemen. LD 57 would have Maine following in the footsteps of 40 countries. That leaves 129 countries that hasn't banned this, for no proven reason. It's not clear what LD 57 will do for Maine's environment. The answer is not clear what it will do for the Maine taxpayer. There is no clear answer for what LD 57 will do for Maine's small, rural businesses and interstate job creators. Plastic bags gathered at the retail stores go to make microfleece, which North Face, Patagonia, and L.L. Bean uses. There are 127 jobs in Maine that make microfleece. Are we going to kick them to the curb by banning plastic bags? They're dying for reusable material. So, all our microfleece is made out of recycled plastics. Plastic bags and #1 plastics, #2 plastics, and the little caps we all throw away. What LD 57 appears to be is a recipe for regulatory payoffs. Different rules, different bag thicknesses, mandates, different bag fees, different compliance regulations throughout Maine. Imagine being a Shaw's, or a Hannaford, or a Walmart, and having 50 different communities that you have to have 50 different policies for, and then think of our small grocers, who are going to be struggling under the cost of managing paper bags because now they're going to need a garage area for them instead of the small space the plastic bags have used, after we now do not make paper bags in this state anymore. Businesses and shoppers will have to navigate the maze of local authorities that will have to enforce them. If there were any clear, compelling cases to be made that the patchwork of bag ordinances would be necessary to lead meaningful reduction in waste and litter, marine or otherwise, we would have a substantive conversation to weigh the cost and benefit. But there is no proof that bag ban policies lead to a broader waste and litter reduction. It's no wonder Maine's DEP testified in opposition to this legislation, along with all the small grocers and large retail businesses. I urge you to vote no on LD 57. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Hudson, Representative Duchesne.

Representative DUCHESNE: Thank you, Madam Speaker and Men and Women of the House. This bill doesn't ban anything. This is a big problem, and we know it's a big problem and you've heard evidence of the big problem. Diamonds are forever, but polystyrene is also forever and it's cheaper. I try to convince my wife of that every time we discuss jewelry. Plastics in the ocean is a big problem, but it's a bigger problem in cities and coastal communities. In my rural area, I'll admit, it's not quite as big a problem. In fact, my towns don't have much money. If we didn't have plastic bags in trees we wouldn't have any holiday decorations. This is a local control bill. Admitting that, yeah, we do have a statewide problem, it's worse in some areas. So, this bill encourages communities that do have the biggest problems to do something about it, if they want to. That's all it is. It says we have a statewide problem, it's local control, if you want to do something, we encourage it, please do it. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Farmington, Representative Harvell.

Representative HARVELL: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. When the good Representative from Brunswick got up, he brought back the trauma of my youth of hauling around manure spreaders.

When the words "soupy load" came, my heart began to race, and after the speech, we were asked to remove our jackets, anxiety gripped me. But then I realized that, not seeking the counselor's couch years ago for these traumatic events, I decided to get into politics and spread a little myself. The good Representative from Hudson is right, this doesn't ban anything, and in fact it's unnecessary unless we feel that we have to remove a traumatic experience from all 1.3 million members of our state when they're faced with that terrifying decision asked by every cashier: Paper or plastic?

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Montville, Representative Zeigler.

Representative ZEIGLER: Thank you, Madam Speaker, fellow Representatives. Is this bill about manure or is this a bill about -- this isn't a ban, this isn't a mandate, this is a conversation, this is local control, this is the towns showing us the trends that they are involved in. The state needs and DEP, initially, we're talking about two --

The SPEAKER: The member will defer. The House will be in order and may the member please raise his voice just slightly. Thank you.

Representative ZEIGLER: Is this enough? So, once again, local control, no ban, no mandate, no manure spreader, okay? This bill is very, very simple. Let's see what the towns are doing. Let's see where the trends are going. That's all, no cost.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Pittsfield, Representative Strom.

Representative STROM: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise today in opposition of this bill. They're right, the bill does nothing. It is a watered-down version of what we started with in our committee, and communities are already banning these bags if they so choose. I believe they are banned in Portland already. So, why do we need a bill to allow towns to ban something that they already have the ability to do? We're just giving them permission to do something that they already have permission to do, and that's why I will not support this bill, is because it's unnecessary and unneeded. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Limington, Representative Kinney.

Representative KINNEY: Madam Speaker, sorry to rise a second time. During one of the conversations in here, I received a text message from Canada, bags are not illegal in Canada. Some stores charge 5 percent, big box stores, such as Lowe's and Home Depot, the bags are free. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Rumford, Representative Madigan.

Representative MADIGAN: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I'm currently the administrator of the Northern Oxford Regional Solid Waste Board. We're a six-town solid waste group that handles all the solid waste. We recycle plastic, we recycle metal, we recycle tin cans, cardboard, newspaper, white paper, you name it. We recently started to recycle food waste. I think the members of my board would think that this is something that might be a worthwhile goal to look into. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Pittston, Representative Hanley.

Representative HANLEY: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Madam Speaker, I have a question for the Chair if I may.

The SPEAKER: The member may proceed.

Representative HANLEY: Is there anything that prevents towns or cities from passing these ordinances now?

The SPEAKER: The Representative from Pittston has posed a question through the Chair, if anyone is able to answer. The Chair recognizes the Representative from Brunswick, Representative Tucker.

Representative TUCKER: That's correct. Nothing prevents a town from passing an ordinance about single-use plastic bags or the polystyrene containers. However, this bill declares, as a matter of state policy, that we should try to use reusable bags to avoid getting the plastics into our waste stream. Let me just remind everybody about the waste hierarchy in Maine. The goals are in sequence. First, we try to reduce the waste generated. Secondly, we try to reuse materials. Thirdly, if that doesn't work, we recycle. If you can't recycle, we compost. If you can't compost, you go waste-to-energy. And, if you can't go waste-to-energy, you go to land disposal. It's part of our Maine waste hierarchy to discourage waste, and that's the purpose of this bill. It declares that policy, and it will encourage local communities to think about it.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Topsham, Representative Tepler.

Representative TEPLER: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. I stand before you representing a community that currently has a ban on both single-use plastic bags and polystyrene, and I stood before my select board a year ago as this policy was considered and said to the members of my select board, who are primarily representatives of the Grand Old Party, that the state should in fact do something about this. As they said to me, "Why do we have to adopt this ordinance in the Town of Topsham when the state should be doing something about this?" Well here we are. At least we're offering up a statewide policy to reduce the use of single-use plastic bags. And I'm going to go back to my town and I'm going to say I voted for a state policy and I think perhaps you should ask the members of this body on the other side of the aisle if they did so as well.

The SPEAKER: The Chair will remind members in the course of debate to be respectful to all other members in the chamber, to not question the motives of any member.

The Chair reminded all members that it was inappropriate to question the motives of other members of the House.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from South Berwick, Representative Parker.

Representative PARKER: Thank you, Madam Speaker and fellow members of the House, I rise in support of LD 57. A few weeks ago, I was driving home to South Berwick to attend a writers' and artists' night at my daughter's school. On my mind was rising for the first time on plastic bags and what I would be saying. When I reached my daughter's school and her locker, I was pleasantly surprised to see that she had written a piece entitled, The Troubles of Plastic Bags. So apparently, my daughter actually is listening at home. I would actually, just to be brief, would like to submit her story in place of my own. The Troubles of Plastic Bags, by Libby Houghton. "You might think plastic bags are most convenient and affordable, but plastic bags cause more trouble than you might think. I think plastic bags should not be used and this is why. If we don't stop now, it's not going to get any better. One plastic bag takes 20 to 1,000 years to degrade, and when it does degrade, it's still toxic. Plastic bags get into the soil and release toxic chemicals when they break down into the ground. Plastic bags are really harmful to our earth and it's time to do something about it. They affect all of us. Animals mistake them for food, they eat plastic bags and choke and die. Plastic bags get into our oceans killing tens of thousands of whales, birds, seals, and sea turtles. There are enough plastic bags to circle our earth 63 times. One alternative is reusable bags. They are made from canvas and denim, and they are much easier to reuse. Did you know that we humans use 500 billion plastic bags a year? So, that's a lot. So, if we want to lower this number, we need to start now. If we want to be healthier and we want to be kind to our earth, who has given so much to all of us, please reduce, reuse, recycle, and don't use plastic bags." That is from my daughter, who's 11 years old. I rise and speak to you and urge and plead that we use this act, not as a mandate, not as ban, but as a step forward in the right direction for our future generations of Maine. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Newport, Representative Fredette.

Representative FREDETTE: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Just in regards to the quick question posed by the Representative from Topsham in regards to listening to our constituents. Many communities in the state have already looked at putting an ordinance similar to this language in place, and certainly those communities are listening to their constituents. Thank you. I will be opposing this and ask you to follow my light.

The SPEAKER: A roll call has been ordered. The pending question before the House is Acceptance of the Majority Ought to Pass as Amended Report. All those in favor will vote yes, those opposed will vote no.

ORDERS

On motion of Representative STANLEY of Medway, the following Joint Resolution: (H.P. 987) (Cosponsored by Senator DAVIS of Piscataquis and Representatives: ALLEY of Beals, BICKFORD of Auburn, ESPLING of New Gloucester, HARLOW of Portland, HILLIARD of Belgrade, ORDMAN of Standish, SKOLFIELD of Weld, Senator: MASON of Androscoggin)

JOINT RESOLUTION MAKING APPLICATION TO THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES FOR CALLING A CONVENTION TO PROPOSE AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES TO LIMIT THE POWER OF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT

WHEREAS, executive orders by the President of the United States have become a vehicle through which the President may overstep the limits of the President's constitutional authority; and

WHEREAS, the concentration of power at the federal level has had the effect of making federal officials less responsive to the will of the people and more readily influenced by lobbyists, wealthy corporations and special interests in Washington, D.C.; and

WHEREAS, much of federal law is now made by federal bureaucrats who were never chosen by the people and have no accountability to the people whatsoever; and

WHEREAS, policy decisions made at the state level tend to be more responsive to the needs and desires of the people; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Government has created a crushing national debt through improper and imprudent spending; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Government has invaded the legitimate roles of the states through the manipulative process of federal mandates, many of which are unfunded to a great extent; and

WHEREAS, the states have the ability to restore the responsiveness of government to the people and to restrain abuses of federal power by proposing amendments to the United States Constitution through a limited convention of the states under Article V; and

WHEREAS, under the United States Constitution, Article V, the Congress of the United States, whenever two-thirds of both Houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to the United States Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments that, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the United States Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratification may be proposed by the Congress; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That the Legislature of Maine hereby applies to the Congress of the United States, under the provisions of Article V of the United States Constitution, for the calling of a convention of the states limited to proposing amendments to the United States Constitution that impose fiscal restraints on the Federal Government, limit the power and jurisdiction of the Federal Government and limit the terms of office for its officials and for members of Congress; and be it further

RESOLVED: That this application constitutes a continuing application in accordance with Article V of the United States Constitution until the legislatures of at least 2/3 of the several states have made applications on the same subject; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate and presiding officers of both houses of the legislatures of each of the several states in the nation, the Speaker and Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, the President and Secretary of the United States Senate and each member of the Maine Congressional Delegation.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

The following matter, in the consideration of which the House was engaged at the time of adjournment Tuesday, April 11, 2017, had preference in the Orders of the Day and continued with such preference until disposed of as provided by House Rule 502.

Expression of Legislative Sentiment Recognizing Stanley Shorey, of Penobscot

(HLS 71)

TABLED - February 14, 2017 (Till Later Today) by Representative WARD of Dedham.

PENDING - PASSAGE.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Dedham, Representative Ward.

Representative WARD: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Madam Speaker, any way you cut it, 25 years is a long time. A lot goes on in a quarter century, and if you've been an effective town selectman for that length of time, well you've probably had a hand in getting quite a lot done. Now, a few weeks ago I was privileged to attend the Penobscot Annual Town Meeting and I witnessed the last official act of duty for Stan Shorey, who has served the Town of Penobscot faithfully since 1992, doing the unglamorous things that public officials do in a small town. Now, over that time he and his fellow selectmen have led the construction of a new firehouse, a new overboard discharge facility for the Penobscot Community School, we've gotten many of the town roads paved, and moved from an open-burning trash dump to a landfill, to a recycler, and now it even has a compacter. He helped institute a building and equipment fund so the town wouldn't have to go deep in debt every time some new piece of equipment was needed. Stan's community involvement didn't end there, though. He's been a volunteer firefighter, he's been a Boy Scout leader, he's been a substitute teacher for fly tying and phys. ed, though not at the same time. And he can turn a wrench, too, and get just about anything running right. Mr. Shorey was also a bus driver for the Penobscot Community School for many years and, in fact, in 1997 he was named the Maine State School Bus Driver of the Year. It must have been that glaring look in the mirror that he gave all the kids when they acted up. Every great small town has this jack of all trades, and the one person who can help in just about any situation, Madam Speaker, well, Stan Shorey is one of those people, and Penobscot has been lucky to have had him all these years. Madam Speaker, at that meeting I was able to do something few people can claim, at least not those kids on all his bus rides, and that is to surprise Stan with a framed formal legislative sentiment signed by you, Madam Speaker, and President Thibodeau. The standing ovation he received from virtually the entire town that night is something I will never forget. So, I invited Stan and his very understanding wife, Roberta, here today, and I'm glad they took me up on the offer. Stan, on behalf of everyone, thank you for your service and dedication to your community and to the State of Maine. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Subsequently, this Expression of Legislative Sentiment was PASSED and sent for concurrence.
