Representative PERRY of Calais moved that the House ACCEPT the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report.

Representative MORRIS of Turner REQUESTED a roll call on the motion to ACCEPT the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report.

More than one-fifth of the members present expressed a desire for a roll call which was ordered.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Dexter, Representative Foster.

Representative FOSTER: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. Contrary to what --

The SPEAKER: The Member may defer. The Chair recognizes the Representative from Winter Harbor, Representative Faulkingham, and inquires why he rises at this time.

Representative FAULKINGHAM: Madam Speaker, I move we table this item.

The SPEAKER: The motion is out of order. The Member may proceed.

Representative FOSTER: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. Contrary to what some of my senior fellow Members have told me, that it doesn't make sense to waste time to stand up in this room, you won't gain another vote, I'm here with hat in hand asking that the Members listen carefully and consider what I'm about to tell you as we move to act on this motion.

Currently, Ohio, Tennessee, Illinois, Missouri, Georgia, Wyoming, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Vermont, Texas, Kentucky, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Florida, Virginia, Iowa and Maryland all offer some form of accommodation that allows a religious group to self-insure automobiles. LD 1004 would make that opportunity available to Mennonites who settled in Maine from some of these 18 states the last several years. Mennonites believe they are to provide for their own and that they must stay from under the yoke of the government or insurance companies and not depend on others, such as us, outside of their faith to provide for them. The number of Mennonites in Maine is low compared to other regions of the country. The members of the local group in Central Maine currently own about 15 vehicles. Members of another group in Brownfield own up to 70. I'm not aware of others, but the number of Mennonites relocating to Maine from other states has been growing. In the communities where they settle, they are recognized for their honesty, hard work, integrity and self-reliance. They are good neighbors who care for their families, keep up their properties and improve their farmland, often purchasing old farms that have been abandoned to that use. They pay their taxes and provide for others in need while asking for no help from the government. Their conviction to provide for their own financially expands beyond their local group to others in Maine and beyond State borders when needed.

Current Maine Statute allows any person or group to self-insure. Yes, even us. But it requires that you provide proof of financial responsibility of $175,000 for each insured vehicle. LD 1004 would allow a qualifying religious group to self-insure multiple vehicles starting at a higher amount, with increases depending on the total number of vehicles covered. A few of the many requirements of LD 1004 include recognition by the federal government as an eligible religious group by meeting Internal Revenue Code Regulations, opting out of Social Security, Medicare and other government benefit programs; as these folks have done; demonstration of past and present financial solvency, depositing with the State an irrevocable letter of credit or deposit of money and securities of $250,000 for five to 10 vehicles and $5,000 for each additional vehicle with no upper limit.

If passed, this bill would be as restrictive and more financially burdensome than any other state offering this opportunity. The Mennonites, by this bill are committed to pay any and all damages or claims resulting from any auto accidents from their own financial holdings. Should they fail to do so within 30 days of a judgment, the opportunity to self-insure may be revoked by the Secretary of State and the deposited funds would be held until payment is made. Should the payment not be made, the deposited funds would be used to do so. There is only one reason that Mennonites have continued to have this opportunity for many years in other states; it's because they have not failed to cover claims when they occurred. And that is true even today in the State of Maine for the very few claims and issues that they have had here.

In the 128th Legislature, LD 426, "An Act To Allow Hunters Whose Religion Prohibits Wearing Hunter Orange Clothing to Instead Wear Red" was introduced. Mr. Tim Peabody, the Deputy Commissioner of the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife testified in support of LD 426 and wrote, quote; the Department supports LD 426 as it provides visibility for a hunter and a choice for persons who have a religious opposition to wearing hunter orange. The bill sponsor's testimony, Representative David H. McCrea, included, quote; it is also my understanding that under no circumstances will this group wear hunter orange. I see this religiously-based belief and our current State of Maine Statute requiring the wearing of hunter orange on a collision course. I have attached a copy of the Religious Freedom Restoration Act passed by the First Session of the 103rd United States Congress in 1993; unquote. The sponsor went on to write, quote; how many times have we been made aware of the fact that many of the early European settlers of our land came here so that they could escape religious persecution and practice their faith as they so desired. In a small way, and with this bill, we as legislators have an opportunity to stand a little bit taller and cast our vote in support of religious freedom. By the way, the bill was co-sponsored by then-Senator Shenna Bellows.

HR 1308, the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993, sponsored by Representative Charles E. Schumer, prohibits any agency, department or official of the United States or any state, the government, from substantially burdening a person's exercise of religion, even if the burden results from a rule of general applicability except that the government may burden a person's exercise of religion only if it demonstrates application of the burden to the person furthers a compelling governmental interest and is the least-restricted means of furthering that compelling governmental interest.

Representative McCrea in his testimony also stated, quote; I feel that failure to do so will almost certainly lead to a legal confrontation between the State of Maine and this group of Amish people. A battle that is absolutely unnecessary and one that can almost certainly be resolved in exactly the same manner that LD 426 aims to prevent.

Madam Speaker, I will say that this was not a consideration for the Mennonites that I represented in this bill. They are a non-litigious people. They don't believe in suing the government, their neighbors or anyone else, which is one of the reasons that they require their persons to not have insurance, besides the fact that they would be dependent upon the rest of us to help pay any claims, whether it's medical, homeowners or, in this case, automotive insurance that they may have.

Just in the 131st Legislature, LD 1277, "An Act to Amend the Laws Regarding Property Investment by Credit Unions" was introduced. In the sponsor's testimony, Senator Rotundo wrote, quote, Sharia-compliant financing is financing activity that complies with Islamic Law. That law prohibits riba, which can be defined as interest paid on all loans of money or interest received from a deposit account. Some religious practices within the Muslim community forbid riba, as it is seen as an unethical practice. According to the website, Investopedia, Islam aims to promote charity and helping others through kindness and to remove sentiments of selfishness and self-centeredness which can create social antipathy, distrust and resentment. By making riba illegal, Sharia Law creates opportunities and context at which people are encouraged to act charitably, loaning money without interest. This means that many credit union customers within our Muslim community are not offered the same opportunities to purchase land, businesses or homes unless they choose to violate their religious beliefs.

Testifying in support, Krista Simonis, Director of Governmental Affairs at the Maine Credit Union League wrote, quote; some religious practices within the Muslim community forbid the payment of interest or riba. With traditional models of banking, this leaves many without access to the capital needed to buy homes, expand businesses or even hold savings accounts. Our credit unions have worked with their communities when possible to provide products, like savings accounts, that respect religious beliefs and still provide access to services. However, current law does not allow for the creation of a mortgage product that would allow credit unions to accomplish this goal.

Madam Speaker, testifying neither for nor against, Attorney Gordon Laurendeau of the Bureau of Financial Institutions wrote, quote; it is the Bureau's understanding that the Maine Credit Union League has been working with the sponsor on this proposal, which is intended to make it easier for credit unions to assist those members seeking alternative mortgage products due primarily to the member's religious prohibitions against paying interest on loans. He went on to say, quote; the Bureau supports the general concept of making home ownership available to more Mainers and is willing to work with the sponsor, Committee and industry stakeholders to develop legislation that will achieve this goal.

Madam Speaker, that bill I believe yesterday was passed out of Committee unanimous Ought to Pass. Within a couple of days of the Committee vote of Ought Not to Pass for the bill that I sponsored, I began getting questions from area residents telling me they heard their neighbors were leaving the State and wondering why. First was my town manager. He said I understand the Mennonites are packing up, they need to leave, and he asked me why and I explained to him. During the Committee hearing, they were not inclined to threaten that they might leave the State if this bill was not passed because of the type of people that they are and their faith. However, one of the Committee Members from the other side of the aisle asked me during the work session, Representative, what do you think will happen if we don't pass this bill? I told them I think they will probably leave the State. Others of my constituents asked me, who visit their businesses, have hired them to do carpentry work, saw out logs, butcher their deer or their cattle, why they're leaving and I've had to explain to them.

With no threat of leaving the State during the bill hearing, they have begun that process. As a matter of fact, the first day that I drove back to Augusta as I went by one of their brand-new buildings that they erected a couple years ago for the opportunity to build sheds and other buildings inside and then sell to the public, I noticed they had a small for sale sign on their sign board out front. It was one like you or I might put on a picnic table out in front of our yard with a few trinkets on it. They had that on their business. This morning when I rode by, they had a brokerage sign in front of that business. I will remind folks that although they decided that they did not want to pursue the litigation route on this, it is clear what Federal Law says.

And, lastly, I will address the fiscal note put forward by the Secretary of State, who opposed this bill. It is unexplainable how her office would need three people to administer such a program. Once this money is set aside for protection of us should something happen and they don't pay, it is held. It is held for up to six years if they should leave the State of Maine or cease the program. Not only that, should they violate even once the program guidelines, the Secretary of State has the ability and probably would likely end the program.

Madam Speaker, I will end this by saying in my first campaign, when traveling the back roads of Dexter with the Honorable Former Senator Paul Davis, we stopped at a house that he knew, it was a new house, and he said these folks will let us put a sign up. When we went in, I noticed all the little fellas running around in their modest clothes and their mother in the kitchen and I said I don't think these folks are going to put a sign out for us, it's not the same people that used to live here. It was Mennonites who had purchased the home and we gave them our materials, spoke with the lady for a moment and as we were leaving, I asked her, I said, if you don't vote for me, I just ask that you vote. And as I suspected, and I told her so, she said we don't vote, we pray. And I said I can use your prayers. And I appreciate that. So, this is not out of gain for me or any other Republican that would support this bill. This is clearly an issue to keep folks who want to be in Maine, who pay their own way, they don't take a nickel from the State of Maine or the Federal Government, and who support their communities in very many ways, who just want to live here in peace and treat others with that same respect that they ask for themselves, to stay here in this State. And this bill, even though some think it's onerous because they won't have coverage should a major accident occur, well, guess what, if we have limited coverage made, say, a half a million dollars of liability, we could be involved in an accident on the way home that would go well above damages of that amount and most of us don't have that much coverage.

So, Madam Speaker, I would ask that you consider this as we move to the motion on the floor, I ask that we vote against the pending motion and I especially ask that we consider not only the two bills that have been passed in this Legislature respecting religious liberties in the State of Maine but others that I have not brought up that may have been passed or may have been voted Ought Not to Pass in respect of religious freedoms for any other group that we may not be familiar with, may not understand their reasons for doing it but, as with us, we respect the opportunity for them to worship and have their religious freedom here in the State of Maine as well, as they do in the rest of the United States. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Representative FAULKINGHAM of Winter Harbor moved that the Bill be TABLED until later in today's session pending the motion of Representative PERRY of Calais to ACCEPT the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Presque Isle, Representative Underwood.

Representative MOONEN: Point of Order.

The SPEAKER: The Member may defer. The table motion is not debatable. The Member may defer. The Chair recognizes the Representative from Portland, Representative Moonen.

Representative MORRIS: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise in opposition to the pending motion. What this bill is about is it is about helping our small businesses as well as our individuals by ensuring that they have more choices in the health insurance marketplace. The reason for this bill is because, while we have a merged market, the reality of it is the reason that small business owners and why individuals buy health insurance are for two different reasons, generally, and having only 12 plans limited that are the same offered to both groups doesn't make a lot of sense. What would make more sense is to have two separate 12 clear choice plan designs, and that's what we are seeking to do with the Minority Report.

The issue is that when someone is a small business and they're seeking to buy health insurance, they're seeking based on the plans based on who their members are as well as a recruitment tool to bring in more talent. When someone is buying on the individual market, they're seeking a plan that suits the needs that they have for their family. They're not looking for as rich of a plan design, they're just looking for something that is going to cover what they need covered versus, as I said, with a small business, they may be looking for something as a recruitment tool. So, this would allow those people, allow the Bureau; require the Bureau to design different plans based upon the differing needs of the two groups. So, for those reasons, I encourage this Body to follow my light, reject this motion. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: A roll call has been ordered. The pending question before the House is Acceptance of the Majority Ought Not to Pass Report. All those in favor will vote yes, those opposed will vote no.

The SPEAKER: The Member may proceed.

Representative BRADSTREET: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House. We applaud all the efforts that are going into our efforts here in the Legislature to provide for housing. However, if you look at the Minority Report, the reason we have a Minority Report is because we don't believe that we need to add positions to do this. We have many, many unfilled positions in the State right now and I think when we go forward looking at other bills that do require or ask for positions, we keep that in mind. Representative PARRY of Arundel moved that the House RECEDE AND CONCUR.

Representative TERRY of Gorham REQUESTED a roll call on the motion to RECEDE AND CONCUR.

More than one-fifth of the members present expressed a desire for a roll call which was ordered.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Arundel, Representative Parry.

Representative PARRY: Thank you, Madam Speaker. This was my bill I put in. I thought it was a fairness issue where all candidates would be treated the same on the amount of signatures that they had to put in, no matter if they were Republicans, Democrats or unenrolled. In the original bill, there was a deadline change to make them all the same, which I thought was a good idea also but there was a couple legal issues with that so that's why the Committee pulled that out. So, it's just treating all candidates exactly the same. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Pittsfield, Representative Collamore.

Representative COLLAMORE: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise today in support of the motion and would just remind our Members and you, Madam Speaker, that we work really hard in our Committees to come out with; even though we may not agree with Majority Reports; to come out with reports that we feel are fair and well-worked. And I would just wonder and ask what, again, is the point of us doing all of this work, taking the time away from our families and our jobs, losing money to be here, if we're going to continuously be running Minority Reports. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Bangor, Representative Supica.

Representative SUPICA: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I just wanted to remind you and all the folks that while, yes, sometimes these bills have good ideas, we find out that they have unintended consequences and can create uneven playing fields for folks who are unenrolled, for folks who are not in the two-party system. So, instead of doing a piecemeal approach to trying to address these issues, you know, I believe that we should look at it holistically and bring all parties to the table. That way, we're not disadvantaging some over the others. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Arundel, Representative Parry.

Representative PARRY: Madam Speaker, could the Clerk please read the Committee Report?

Representative PARRY of Arundel REQUESTED that the Clerk READ the Committee Report.

The Clerk READ the Committee Report in its entirety.

So, five, six, seven, eight, and best wishes to this Ellsworth studio on your 50th year anniversary.

Subsequently, this Expression of Legislative Sentiment was PASSED and sent for concurrence.

the Penobscot Theatre Company, of Bangor, which is celebrating its 50th Anniversary. Founded in 1973 as Acadia Repertory Theatre, Penobscot Theatre Company was incorporated as a 501(c)(3) organization in 1983 and is the only year-round, professional regional theatre in Northern Maine. In 1997 the company acquired the Bangor Opera House, which now serves as its base of operations. Over the last 50 years, more than 500 shows have been produced, providing engaging and thought-provoking theatre to the heart of Maine and beyond. We extend our congratulations and best wishes;

Cosponsored by Senator BALDACCI of Penobscot, Representative PERRY of Bangor, Representative ROEDER of Bangor, Representative SUPICA of Bangor.

On OBJECTION of Representative ROEDER of Bangor, was REMOVED from the Special Sentiment Calendar.
READ.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Bangor, Representative Roeder.

Representative ROEDER: Madam Speaker, Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, I rise to honor Penobscot Theatre Company today, an organization I feel very close to not only because I used to work there, but because it and I were both established in 1973. It was in 2014, I got a job as the education director of Penobscot Theatre and moved from Chicago to Brewer, Maine. Three months later, I came to my senses and moved to Bangor; sorry, Representative O'Connell. It was at Penobscot Theatre that I both practiced and taught one of the foremost principles of modern theater and one I believe we as legislators could learn from. That principle is this; early is on time, on time is late, late is unacceptable.

Penobscot Theatre's artistic and cultural importance to our State is indisputable. For 50 years, it has delighted and challenged its audiences, but its work is not just about what happens within the building. Penobscot Theatre's impact is felt across the community, through partnerships with organizations such as the Bangor Humane Society, the Maine Science Festival and the Penobscot Nation. The latter partnership resulted in a world premier piece of theater based on traditional Penobscot stories and history. That project was the first, but not the last time, the Penobscot language was spoken on the Penobscot stage.

I wanted to stand here and tell you how this incredible company has influenced my life but it's impossible. It's impossible to overstate the impact made on my life by the young performers I worked with every day in Penobscot Theatre's dramatic academy. It's impossible to describe the beauty of standing on the stage in front of my beloved community, telling the truth about the human condition with the playwright's words. It's impossible to encompass all that this magic place is, has been and will be in one short tribute. Penobscot Theatre is simply priceless.

I'll close with another transferable lesson. Before the closing performance of every show I directed, I shared a quote from a graduate school professor. I'd gather the cast together and say this is the very last time this particular group will be in the same room together. Pay attention, do your best work, make every moment count. So, as we embark on our work in the waning days of the First Session of the 131st Legislature, let us pay attention. Let us do our best work and let us, my beloved Colleagues, make every moment count. Thank you, Penobscot Theatre Company.

Subsequently, this Expression of Legislative Sentiment was PASSED and sent for concurrence.

READ.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Carmel, Representative Thorne.

Representative THORNE: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I appreciate the opportunity to rise and speak on Memorial Day coming up on Monday. We're all familiar with the phrase all gave some, some gave all. Every other calling and profession is able to operate because members of our Armed Forces are there to provide security, stability and support the values and unity of our nation. They protect our values. They are our heroes. President Kennedy once said a nation reveals itself not by the men it produces but also by the men it honors, the men it remembers. Today, we remember and honor the many men and women that our country produced and their sacrifices on our behalf. While it is impossible to remember every hero individually, today I will mention just one; Gary Gordon from Lincoln, Maine, who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor and who some of you may remember in the movie Black Hawk Down.

The Medal of Honor is the highest award of valor in action against an enemy force that can be bestowed upon an individual serving in the Armed Forces of the United States. Only a little over 3,500 recipients in the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps and Coast Guard have ever been awarded the acknowledgment of extraordinary achievement in military service.

Gary Gordon's official citation reads as follows: Master Sergeant Gordon, United States Army, distinguished himself by actions above and beyond the call of duty on 3 October 1993, while serving as sniper team leader, United States Army Special Operations Command, with a task force Ranger in Mogadishu, Somalia. Master Sergeant Gordon's sniper team provided precision fire from the lead helicopter during an assault and at two helicopter crash sites while subjected to intense automatic weapon and rocket-propelled grenade fire. While Master Sergeant Gordon learned that the ground forces were not immediately available to secure the crash site at the second location, he and another sniper, without hesitation, volunteered to be inserted to protect the four critically wounded personnel, despite being well aware of the growing number of enemy personnel closing in on that site. After his third request to be inserted, Master Sergeant Gordon received permission to perform his volunteer mission. When debris and enemy groundfire at the site caused them to abort the first attempt, Master Sergeant Gordon was inserted a half mile south of the crash site. Equipped with only his sniper rifle and pistol, Master Sergeant Gordon and his fellow sniper, while under intense small arms fire from the enemy, fought their way through a dense maze of shanties and shacks to reach the critically injured crew members. Master Sergeant Gordon immediately pulled the pilot and the other crew members from the aircraft, establishing a perimeter which placed him and his fellow sniper in the most vulnerable position. Master Sergeant Gordon used his long-range rifle and sidearm to kill an undetermined amount of attackers until he depleted his ammunition. Master Sergeant Gordon then went back to the wreckage, recovering some of the crew's weapons and ammunition. Despite the fact he was critically low on ammunition, he provided some of it to the dazed pilot and then radioed for help. Master Sergeant Gordon continued to travel the perimeter, protecting the downed crew. After his team member was fatally wounded and his own rifle ammunition exhausted, Master Sergeant Gordon returned to the wreckage, recovering a rifle with the last five rounds of ammunition, gave it to the pilot with the words good luck. Then, armed with only a pistol, Master Sergeant Gordon continued to fight until he was fatally wounded. His actions saved the pilot's life. Master Sergeant Gordon's extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest standards of military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit and the United States Army.

Hard to imagine, isn't it, Madam Speaker? Master Sergeant Gordon's actions and what they represent is the reason we gather on the last Monday of every May. Memorial Day is celebrated so that we will not forget the sacrifices of those who have served our country, many of whom paid the ultimate price of the freedom that we all enjoy today. May God bless those men and women and the countless families who sacrificed along with them. May God bless Maine and our United States of America. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Waldo, Representative Hymes.

Representative HYMES: Thank you, Madam Speaker. I rise today and thank you, Representative Thorne, for your kind remarks for the men and women that have given their lives for this country. Every morning I wake up, Madam Speaker, with one thought on my mind, and I encourage everybody in this building to think the same thing and to start thinking this, especially this coming weekend as we remember Memorial Day; be an American worth dying for.

In my 20 years of service in the Navy, I spent eight years with Joint Special Operations Command doing things in Iraq and Afghanistan. As Memorial Day approaches, it's one of those things that we really need to spend time reflecting on what we have and what we're blessed with because of the people that died in our nation's battles.

Thirty-eight is my number, Madam. Thirty-eight is the amount of brothers that I had to bury during my time in the military. Thirty-one died during an unfortunate helicopter crash in Afghanistan, two were shot, one stepped on an IED, one drowned and two of my brothers were not able to deal with the unintended wounds of being in Iraq and Afghanistan and took their own life. So, every Memorial Day, I remember those 38 individuals. And the reason I do that is it's a struggle almost every day when I come in here because we get so wrapped up in things that really, in the grand scheme of things, don't matter because we forget that we have the freedom to have this discussion in here. We forget that we have the freedom to come together and have constructive debates and criticisms on the bills and laws that we pass into the State of Maine.

So, I just want to encourage everybody this weekend, we have a nice three-day weekend; some of us do, some of us don't; I encourage you to take actual time this weekend and go to a cemetery, whether it's a veteran's cemetery or one of your local cemeteries, find a headstone of a veteran and to spend five to 10 minutes reflecting their sacrifice so that you can be here today, fighting for the State of Maine and fighting for that flag that we stand for every single time that we come in here. Because there's a lot of blood that's been spilled over the years so that we get to do this every single day. So, again, please be an American worth dying for. Thank you.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Bangor, Representative Roeder.

Representative ROEDER: Thank you, Madam Speaker. Madam Speaker, when my father was diagnosed with a service-related illness that was terminal, I reached out via Facebook to his shipmates on the USS Kawishiwi. There is a Facebook group and the gentlemen of the USS Kawishiwi welcomed me in as the daughter of one of their shipmates. I joined that group to see if anyone else on the ship had suffered the same kind of illness as my father, knowing that his case for disability would be stronger if they had. They had not but, when my dad's case was determined to be one for disability, everyone in that group and everyone on the ship was able to access those benefits more easily. But beyond that, those gentlemen lifted me up when I was losing my dad and every week another member of that group has gone. So, for the members we've lost from the USS Kawishiwi, fair winds and following seas.

The SPEAKER: The Chair recognizes the Representative from Orrington, Representative Campbell.

Representative CAMPBELL: Thank you, Madam Speaker, Men and Women of the House. I stand to honor a person I talked about earlier without a name; Loring Watson. We were schoolmates long ago and far away, 1967 at Brewer High School. He was a great athlete and, at that time, the Vietnam War was raging and we all scrambled to enlist. There was a draft and he decided he just wanted to be drafted. So, he was. They enlisted him in the Army. Then he was shipped to Vietnam. Loring Watson was a great kid. Athletic, competitive and he was ready to go. He went and he died days after he arrived in theater. Those are the people we speak of on Memorial Day. The heroes that have given their all. This is a special day. Let's honor it. Thank you, Madam Speaker.

Subsequently, the Joint Resolution was ADOPTED and sent for concurrence.

On motion of Representative LAJOIE of Lewiston, the following House Order: (H.O. 25)

ORDERED, that Representative Amy Bradstreet Arata of New Gloucester be excused May 11 for personal reasons.

AND BE IT FURTHER ORDERED, that Representative Daniel J. Hobbs of Wells be excused May 16 for health reasons.

AND BE IT FURTHER ORDERED, that Representative Michel A. Lajoie of Lewiston be excused Apr 18, 20, 25 and 27, May 2, 3, 4, 9, 11, 16 and 18 for health reasons.
