An Act To Require a Model Radon Standard for New Residential Construction

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 25 MRSA §2466 is enacted to read:

§ 2466. Radon standards

If a municipality determines that a radon code or standard for new residential construction must be adopted by that municipality, that municipality must adopt a radon code or standard recommended by the American Society for Testing and Materials or a successor organization.

SUMMARY

This bill requires that if a municipality intends to adopt a radon code or standard for new residential construction, that municipality must adopt a radon code or standard recommended by the American Society for Testing and Materials.
