Fiscal Detail and Notes

The bill creates a new Class C crime of retaliation against a witness, informant, victim or juror. Any future charges brought under this new crime are likely to coincide with criminal charges for conduct that is already a violation of existing law. As such, additional new cases and individuals incarcerated as a result of the establishment of this crime are expected to be few. Any additional costs to the Maine Commission on Indigent Legal Services to defend against this new charge are expected to be minor and can be absorbed within existing budgeted resources.
