For an employee in a call center in Aroostook County or Washington County, "qualified employee" means a new, full-time employee hired in this State by a qualified business, for whom a retirement program subject to the federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, 29 United States Code, Chapter 18 and group health insurance are provided, and whose income derived from employment with the applicant, calculated on a weekly basis, is greater than the average weekly wage for the most recent available calendar year as derived from the quarterly census of employment and wages and provided annually by the Department of Labor, as long as ~~Maine income tax withholding gross wages paid~~ attributed to the qualified employee ~~is~~ are subject to reimbursement to the qualified business under this chapter. "Qualified employee" does not include an employee who is shifted to a qualified business from an affiliated business. The commissioner shall determine whether a shifting of employees has occurred. The calculation of the average weekly wage must include data from the counties of Androscoggin, Aroostook, Franklin, Hancock, Kennebec, Knox, Lincoln, Oxford, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Sagadahoc, Somerset, Waldo and Washington. Notwithstanding this subsection, with respect to a call center in Aroostook or Washington county, in a county in which the average annual unemployment rate at the time of certification for the most recent calendar year is greater than the state average for the same year, the wage threshold is 90% of the average weekly wage as derived from the quarterly census of employment and wages. Notwithstanding this subsection, with respect to a call center in Aroostook or Washington county and upon approval of the commissioner, a qualified business located in a county in which the average annual unemployment rate at the time of certification for the most recent calendar year is greater than the state average for that same year qualifies for a phase-in of salary threshold requirements. Failure to meet any of these requirements results in automatic revocation of certification.

Related Conservation Efforts to Protect Soils and Wildlife and Fisheries Habitat from Solar and Wind Energy
Development and High-impact
Electric Transmission Lines
Under the Site Location of Development Laws

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. 38 MRSA §484-C is enacted to read:

§484-C. Solar energy compensation fee for impact to high-value agricultural land

1. Compensation fee. The department shall establish a solar energy compensation program in accordance with this section. The program must require a person who obtains approval under this article to construct or cause to be constructed a solar energy development located on high-value agricultural land as defined in section 3201, subsection 1 to pay a compensation fee or other form of compensation in accordance with this section for any portion of the development, including associated facilities, that is located on high-value agricultural land, referred to in this section as "the impacted area."

2. Calculating fee. The compensation fee under this section must be calculated by the department, in consultation with the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, using the square footage of the impacted area and applying a per square foot compensation fee set by the department. The fee must be based upon the fair market value of the impacted area and include reasonable costs, including stewardship costs, for a compensation project, as defined by the department by rule, that is completed in whole or in part with the compensation fee. Square footage of the impacted area that is already subject to the compensation fee under section 484-D may not be included in calculating the compensation fee under this subsection. The compensation fee may be reduced by the department, in consultation with the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, if the applicant proposes mitigation strategies, including, but not limited to, dual-use agricultural and solar production. The fee may be increased by the department, in consultation with the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, based on the severity of the adverse impacts on the impacted area. For purposes of this subsection, "dual-use agricultural and solar production" means the productive use of land for agricultural production and solar energy production in accordance with standards established by rule adopted by the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, in consultation with the department and the Governor's Energy Office.

3. Collection of fees. All compensation fees collected under this section must be deposited in an account in the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry and must be distributed at the discretion of the commissioner for the purpose of farmland conservation and solar mitigation projects. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, eligible investment earnings credited to this account become part of the assets of the account and any balance remaining in the account at the end of a fiscal year must be carried forward for the next fiscal year.

4. Conservation option. The department shall allow an applicant to meet the requirements of this section by conserving other land in accordance with this subsection. The amount of land conserved must be equal in square footage to the impacted area. The conserved land must be subject to a perpetual conservation easement or fee ownership by a public, quasi-public or municipal organization or a private, nonprofit organization that ensures the land remains available for agricultural production. An applicant who wishes to meet the requirements of this section in accordance with this subsection shall submit with the application a plan to execute the option and shall complete the fee purchase or conservation easement prior to the start of construction.

5. Location and type of projects. A compensation project funded in whole or in part by a compensation fee or land designated for a conservation option under this section must be located in the same region as the solar energy development and must consist of soils comparable to those in the impacted area unless otherwise approved by the department.

6. Responsibility for additional compensation. The requirements of this section are in addition to the requirements of section 480-Z and section 484-D.

7. Rulemaking. The department shall adopt rules to implement this section. Rules adopted pursuant to this subsection are major substantive rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

Sec. 2. 38 MRSA §484-D is enacted to read:

§484-D. Compensation fee program for renewable energy development

1. Compensation fee program. The department shall establish a compensation fee program to fund a compensation project as an alternative means of satisfying requirements related to off-site habitat improvement or preservation that the department determines necessary to mitigate the adverse effects of a renewable energy development on wildlife and fisheries habitats, as defined by the department, to comply with section 484, subsection 3. For purposes of this section, "renewable energy development" means a development subject to the requirements of this article that is:

A. A solar energy development and associated facilities;

B. A wind energy development as defined in Title 35-A, section 3451, subsection 11 and associated facilities; or

C. A high-impact electric transmission line as defined in Title 35-A, section 3131, subsection 4-A.

A compensation project funded in whole or in part from compensation fees under this section must be approved by the department.

2. Calculating compensation fee. The department shall establish criteria for determining compensation fee amounts based upon the fair market value of land consisting of habitat comparable to the habitat affected by the development under this section and including reasonable costs, including stewardship costs, of a compensation project completed in whole or in part with the compensation fee. A portion of the fee may be used to cover the cost of administering a compensation fund in subsection 3. The fee may not include compensation for an area as defined by section 480-Z, subsection 7.

3. Compensation fund. The department shall establish one or more compensation funds to receive compensation fees under this section for restoration, enhancement or preservation activities under paragraph A or to provide compensation fees to an organization authorized by the department under paragraph B. The department may require compensation fees to be remitted to another fund or funds created by the Legislature that can carry out the purposes of this section. Funds may be used by an agency required to assist with implementation of the requirements of this section to hire contract staff.

A. The department may establish a nonlapsing compensation fund for the purpose of receiving compensation fees, grants and other related income to carry out a compensation project dedicated to payment of costs and related expenses of restoration, enhancement or preservation activities of the project. The department may make payments from the fund consistent with the purpose of the fund. Income received under this paragraph must be deposited with the Treasurer of State to the credit of the compensation fund and may be invested as provided by law. Interest on investments under this paragraph must be credited to the compensation fund.

B. The department may enter into an enforceable, written agreement with a public, quasi-public or municipal organization or a private, nonprofit organization with expertise in the conservation of natural or working lands. The organization must demonstrate the ability to receive compensation fees, administer a compensation fund and ensure that compensation projects are implemented consistent with local, regional or state management priorities. If compensation fees are provided to an authorized organization, the organization shall maintain records of expenditures and provide an annual summary report as requested by the department. If the organization is a state agency other than the department, the agency shall establish a fund meeting the requirements specified in paragraph A. If the organization does not perform in accordance with this paragraph or with the requirements of the written agreement with the department, the department may revoke the organization's authority to conduct activities in accordance with this paragraph.

4. Location and type of projects. A compensation project funded by a compensation fee under this section must be located in the same biophysical region as the renewable energy development unless otherwise approved by the department and must consist of habitat comparable to the habitat affected by the renewable energy development. The department shall base approval of a compensation project on the management priorities for the biophysical region in which the project is located. For purposes of this subsection, "biophysical region" has the same meaning as in section 480-Z.

5. Relationship to other provisions. The payment of a compensation fee under this section does not relieve the renewable energy development of the requirement to comply with any other provision of this article, including but not limited to the requirement to avoid and minimize adverse impacts on natural resources to the greatest extent practicable.

6. Rules. The department shall adopt rules to carry out the purposes of this section. Rules adopted pursuant to this subsection are major substantive rules under Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

Sec. 3. 38 MRSA c. 35 is enacted to read:

CHAPTER 35

PROTECTION OF AGRICULTURAL SOILS FROM SOLAR ENERGY DEVELOPMENTS

§3201. Definitions

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

1. High-value agricultural land. "High-value agricultural land" means land that has a high value for agricultural use, as determined in accordance with rules adopted by the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, in consultation with the department and the Governor's Energy Office.

2. Solar energy development. "Solar energy development" means a development that:

- A. Uses ground-mounted solar arrays and installations to convert solar energy to electrical energy;
- B. Occupies 5 acres or more; and
- C. Is wholly or partially located on high-value agricultural land.

§3202. Permitting of solar energy development

Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person may not construct, cause to be constructed or operate a solar energy development without a permit from the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry has permitting authority over solar energy development. The Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry shall adopt rules to implement this section, which must include, but are not limited to:

1. Administration. Administrative procedures relating to the permitting process, including required fees;

2. Permit; standards. Standards for the approval of a permit;

3. Delegation. Standards and conditions for delegation of the authority to issue permits for solar energy development to a municipality or the Maine Land Use Planning Commission; and

4. Enforcement. Procedures for the enforcement of this section.

Notwithstanding Title 5, section 8071, subsection 3, rules adopted pursuant to this section are routine technical rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

Sec. 4. Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry and Department of Environmental Protection to adopt rules. By December 31, 2023, the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, in consultation with the Department of Environmental Protection and the Governor's Energy Office, shall initiate rulemaking to define "high-value agricultural land" under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, chapter 35, establish tiers of high-value agricultural land with variable compensation amounts for each tier and define "dual-use agricultural and solar production," and the Department of Environmental Protection, in consultation with the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife and the Governor's Energy Office, shall initiate rulemaking to establish a compensation fee program to accept and administer compensation fees under Title 38, sections 484-C and 484-D and to define "wildlife and fisheries habitats" under Title 38, section 484-D, subsection 1, which must include but not be limited to large undeveloped habitat blocks, important wildlife corridors and other habitat types identified in consultation with the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife. The rules must establish variable compensation amounts based on the value of the habitats and high-value agricultural land affected and the degree of adverse effect caused by the development and must establish mitigation strategies that may reduce or otherwise alter any compensation fee, including but not limited to the use of wildlife-friendly fencing and dual-use agricultural and solar production. Notwithstanding Title 5, chapter 375, the Department of Environmental Protection may allow for the payment of a compensation fee prior to the adoption of final rules using interim criteria established in consultation with the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry, the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife and the Governor's Energy Office.

Sec. 5. Application. That section of this Act that enacts the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 38, chapter 35 applies to solar energy developments on which construction begins after September 1, 2024.

- (1) The contractor or subcontractor shall provide the opportunity to fill a minimum of 50% of all remaining construction worker hours to contractors or subcontractors that use a hiring hall in order to meet their workforce needs.
- (2) If contractors and subcontractors that use a hiring hall in order to meet their construction workforce needs cannot maintain the miniimum threshold of 50% of the remaining construction worker hours for a period of 10 consecutive business days, the requesting contractor or subcontractor may use any means considered necessary by that requesting contractor or subcontractor to fulfill the contractor's or subcontractor's contractual obligations, including continued engagement with contractors and subcontractors that use a hiring hall in order to meet their construction workforce needs, in order to maintain the 50% threshold.

E. Subject to compliance with all other provisions of this subsection, a contractor or subcontractor responsible for construction work may continue to operate and implement a registered apprenticeship program and other relevant continuing education programs in order to meet an ongoing or new construction workforce demand. The registered apprenticeship program must have graduated apprentices within one year prior to the commencement of the registered apprenticeship program's sponsor's or subsponsor's construction work on the offshore wind power project.

F. If a contractor or subcontractor responsible for construction work determines the construction workforce needs to be decreased at any point throughout the completion of the offshore wind power project, reductions in the construction workforce or layoffs must be performed in the following priority:

- (1) Based on the skills needed, keeping those workers whose skills are still needed for the completion of the offshore wind power project; and
- (2) Based upon seniority on the offshore wind power project, with the last construction worker commencing work on the offshore wind power project being the first construction worker to receive a layoff.

(1) Shall carry workers' compensation coverage and contribute to unemployment insurance for each construction worker on the site of the project;

(2) May not hire or employ the services of a temporary staffing agency or organization;

(3) Is prohibited from employing or using independent contractors as defined in Title 39-A, section 102, subsection 13-A, not including Maine-based individual owner-operators or sole proprietors in the transportation industry;

(4) Shall keep an accurate record showing the name and occupation of all construction workers employed by the contractor or subcontractor performing construction work on the offshore wind power project. The record must also show for each construction worker the hours worked, the title of the job, the hourly rate or other method of remuneration and the actual wages or other compensation, in compliance with the Maine emerging industry compensation threshold. The contractor or subcontractor shall keep a copy of the record at the construction site and allow inspection of the record during all reasonable hours by Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Standards and, as applicable, the public authority and its officers and agents that let the contract;

(5) Shall post a clearly legible statement of all Maine emerging industry compensation threshold wage and benefit rates to be paid to each class of construction worker employed on the offshore wind power project. This statement must be kept posted throughout the duration of the offshore wind power project and be easily accessible at the offshore wind power project construction site; and

(6) Shall retain documentation of compliance with the requirements of this subsection. The records made pursuant to this subsection must be retained for 3 years after the termination of the contract for the construction work performed.

H. If a construction worker performing construction work at the offshore wind power project site who is paid less than the Maine emerging industry compensation threshold, that construction worker may recover from the contractor or subcontractor responsible for the construction work a penalty equal to the difference between the actual wage and benefits paid and the Maine emerging industry compensation threshold and, in addition to the penalty, reasonable attorney's fees. The surety for the contractor or subcontractor responsible for the construction work is not liable for the penalty or attorney's fees.

I. A contractor or subcontractor shall guarantee against strikes, lockouts or similar disruptions.

J. A contractor or subcontractor shall demonstrate adherence to the inclusive bidding standards and document that adherence.

The Department of Labor shall adopt routine technical rules, as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A, to implement this subsection.

Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection to the contrary, an agreement that meets the requirements of 29 United States Code, Section 158(f) for the covered work is deemed to comply with the requirements of this subsection.

Sec. 14. 38 MRSA §3106, sub-§5-A is enacted to read:

5-A. Cost apportionment; waiver process. A dealer or redemption center may apply for and the department may approve a temporary waiver during which the dealer or redemption center may apportion beverage container costs to distributors using an alternative method that does not require processing of all beverage containers through a reverse vending machine or similar technology requiring the scanning of each container.

A. Prior to approving a temporary waiver under this subsection, the department shall establish procedures regarding the administration of the temporary waiver process. In establishing those procedures, the department shall solicit and consider input from interested persons. The procedures must require that, prior to approving any submitted application from a dealer or redemption center for a temporary waiver, the department solicit input from interested persons regarding the application.

B. The department may approve a temporary waiver upon a finding that the dealer or redemption center has demonstrated to the department's satisfaction that it will implement an alternative method of apportioning beverage container costs to distributors that:

(1) Uses a beverage container count method based on a statistically valid sample of beverage containers that is at least as accurate as the beverage container count method currently used by the dealer or redemption center;

(2) Apportions beverage container costs to distributors using the beverage container count method described in subparagraph (1) by approximating the costs currently apportioned to distributors by the dealer or redemption center in a manner that is at least as accurate as that used under the auditing process described in section 3109, subsection 5-B; and

(3) Implements a process by which the dealer or redemption center will return to a distributor an amount of beverage containers by weight that corresponds to the amount of the beverage container costs apportioned to the distributor in accordance with subparagraph (2).

C. A temporary waiver approved by the department may not exceed one year in duration. Prior to the expiration of an approved waiver, the dealer or redemption center may apply to the department for an extension of the waiver. The department may approve the waiver for a period not to exceed one additional year in duration upon a finding that the dealer or redemption center has submitted sufficient information to the department to demonstrate that the alternative apportionment method implemented during the previous waiver period satisfies the requirements of paragraph B.

D. A distributor that had beverage container costs apportioned to it by a dealer or redemption center using an alternative apportionment method under a waiver approved pursuant to this section may apply to the department for reimbursement of beverage container costs or other financial losses incurred as a direct result of the alternative apportionment method if the distributor can demonstrate to the department's satisfaction that the distributor:

(1) Would have been paid additional beverage container costs if the distributor's beverage containers were processed through a reverse vending machine or similar technology that scanned each container; or

(2) Otherwise suffered a financial loss as a direct result of the alternative apportionment method implemented under the waiver.

A distributor must submit a request for reimbursement under this paragraph prior to December 31, 2025. If the department determines that a distributor is eligible for reimbursement under this paragraph, the department shall reimburse the distributor using funds from the Cost and Carbon Efficient Technology Fund established under section 3114-A.

As used in this subsection, "beverage container costs" means a beverage container's refund value as established by section 3103 and the amount of the reimbursement of handling costs as established by subsection 7.

On or before February 15, 2025, the department shall submit a report to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over environment and natural resources matters describing its findings or recommendations regarding the implementation of the temporary waiver process under this subsection. The report may be included in the report required pursuant to section 3115, subsection 3 that is required by February 15, 2025. After reviewing the report, the committee may report out legislation relating to the report.

This subsection is repealed January 1, 2026.

Sec. 15. 38 MRSA §3106, sub-§6, as amended by PL 2019, c. 526, §7, is further amended to read:

6. Obligation to preserve recycling container value. Notwithstanding subsection § 8-A, a distributor commingling group or its agent may refuse to accept, or pay the refund value and handling costs to a dealer, redemption center or other person for, a beverage container that has been processed by a reverse vending machine or account-based bulk processing program in a way that has, for a nonrefillable beverage container, reduced the recycling value of the container below current market value or, for a refillable beverage container, has damaged the container in a manner that prevents its reuse. This subsection may not be interpreted to prohibit a written processing agreement between a distributor commingling group and a dealer or redemption center and does not relieve a distributor commingling group of its obligation under subsection § 8-A to accept empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers. Beginning July 15, 2025, the cooperative, on behalf of its member commingling groups, shall negotiate agreements with dealers and redemption centers regarding processing payments for each beverage container material type. The department shall adopt rules to establish the recycling value of beverage containers under this subsection and the rules may authorize the use of a 3rd-party vendor to determine if a beverage container has been processed by a reverse vending machine or account-based bulk processing program in a manner that, for a nonrefillable beverage container, has reduced the recycling value below current market value or, for a refillable beverage container, has damaged the container in a manner that prevents its reuse. The rules must outline the method of allocating among the parties involved the payment for 3rd-party vendor costs.

Sec. 16. 38 MRSA §3106, sub-§8, as amended by PL 2019, c. 315, §19 and c. 526, §7, is further amended to read:

8. Obligation to pick up and recycle containers. ~~The~~ Prior to October 15, 2024, the obligation to pick up and recycle beverage containers subject to this chapter is determined as follows.

A. A distributor that initiates the deposit under section 3103, subsection 2 or 4 has the obligation to pick up and recycle any empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers of the particular kind, size and brand sold by the distributor from dealers to whom that distributor has sold those beverages and from licensed redemption centers. A distributor that, within this State, sells beverages under a particular label exclusively to one dealer, which dealer offers those labeled beverages for sale at retail exclusively at the dealer's establishment, shall pick up any empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers of the kind, size and brand sold by the distributor to the dealer only from those licensed redemption centers that are located within 25 miles from the dealer, as measured along public roadways. A dealer that manufactures its own beverages for exclusive sale by that dealer at retail has the obligation of a distributor under this section. The department may establish by rule, in accordance with the Maine Administrative Procedure Act, criteria prescribing the manner in which distributors shall fulfill the obligations imposed by this paragraph. The rules may establish a minimum number or value of containers below which a distributor is not required to respond to a request to pick up empty containers. Any rules adopted under this paragraph must allocate the burdens associated with the handling, storage, transportation and recycling of empty containers to prevent unreasonable financial or other hardship.

B. The initiator of the deposit under section 3103, subsection 3 has the obligation to pick up and recycle any empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers of the particular kind, size and brand sold by the initiator from dealers to whom a distributor has sold those beverages and from licensed redemption centers. The obligation may be fulfilled by the initiator directly or indirectly through a contracted agent.

C. An initiator of the deposit under section 3103, subsection 2, 3 or 4 has the obligation to pick up and recycle any empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers that are commingled pursuant to a commingling agreement along with any beverage containers that the initiator is otherwise obligated to pick up and recycle pursuant to paragraphs A and B.

D. The initiator of deposit or initiators of deposit who are members of a commingling agreement have the obligation under this subsection to pick up and recycle empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers of the particular kind, size and brand sold by the initiator from dealers to whom a distributor has sold those beverages and from licensed redemption centers every 15 days. The initiator of deposit or initiators of deposit who are members of a commingling agreement have the obligation to make additional pickups when a redemption center has collected 10,000 beverage containers from that initiator of deposit or from the initiators of deposit who are members of a commingling agreement.

The obligations of the initiator of the deposit under this subsection may be fulfilled by the initiator directly or through a party with which it has entered into a commingling agreement. A contracted agent hired to pick up beverage containers for one or more initiators of deposit is deemed to have made a pickup at a redemption center for those initiators of deposit when it picks up beverage containers belonging to those initiators of deposit.

This subsection is repealed October 15, 2024.

Sec. 17. 38 MRSA §3106, sub-§8-A is enacted to read:

8-A. Obligation to pick up and recycle containers. Beginning October 15, 2024, in accordance with the requirements of this subsection and the rules adopted pursuant to this subsection, a designated pick-up entity has the obligation to ensure the timely pickup and recycling of all empty, unbroken and reasonably clean beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter from dealers and redemption centers, including from any locations where an account-based bulk processing program is in operation. As used in this subsection, "designated pick-up entity" means, prior to July 15, 2025, a commingling group or its pick-up agent and, beginning July 15, 2025, the cooperative or its pick-up agent or agents.

A. Notwithstanding any provision of this subsection to the contrary, prior to July 15, 2025, in the case of a designated pick-up entity that is a commingling group, the commingling group's responsibilities under this subsection apply only to those beverage containers from the initiators of deposit that are members of that commingling group.

B. The department shall adopt rules to implement this subsection. The rules must, at a minimum, establish pickup frequency standards based on the volume of beverage containers collected by each dealer or redemption center, accounting for any irregularities in volume, in a manner that promotes communication between designated pick-up entities and dealers and redemption centers and that increases transportation efficiency while maintaining the level of service provided to dealers and redemption centers such that dealers and redemption centers are not required to store collected beverage containers for extended periods of time without contact from and compensation provided by the designated pick-up entity. Rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph are routine technical rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

Sec. 18. 38 MRSA §3106, sub-§9, as amended by PL 2019, c. 526, §7, is further amended to read:

~~9. Plastic bags. A dealer or redemption center has an obligation to pick up plastic bags that are used by that dealer or redemption center to contain beverage containers.~~ Plastic bags used by a dealer or redemption center and the cost allocation of these bags must conform to rules adopted by the department concerning size and gauge. Beginning July 15, 2025, the cooperative shall provide to the dealer or redemption center, or reimburse the dealer or redemption center for the cost of the plastic bags used by the dealer or redemption center to contain redeemed beverage containers.

Sec. 19. 38 MRSA §3107, first ¶, as enacted by PL 2015, c. 166, §14, is amended to read:

Notwithstanding any ~~other~~ provision of this chapter to the contrary, 2 or more initiators of deposit may enter into a commingling agreement through which some or all of the beverage containers for which the initiators have initiated deposits may be commingled by dealers and operators of redemption centers as provided in this section. No later than October 15, 2024, each initiator of deposit shall enter into a commingling agreement pursuant to subsection 1-A or 1-B. If, by October 15, 2024, an initiator of deposit has not entered into a commingling agreement pursuant to subsection 1-A or 1-B, the initiator commits a violation of this chapter, is subject to penalties under section 3111 and, as long as the violation exists, is prohibited from selling or distributing in the State any beverage container subject to the requirements of this chapter, and a distributor or dealer may not sell or distribute in the State any such containers of the initiator and the department may remove from sale any such containers of the initiator.

Sec. 20. 38 MRSA §3107, 2nd ¶, as amended by PL 2019, c. 526, §8, is further amended to read:

An initiator of deposit that enters into a commingling agreement pursuant to this section shall permit any other initiator of deposit to become a party to that agreement on the same terms and conditions as the original agreement. ~~Once the initiator of deposit has established a qualified commingling agreement pursuant to the requirements of subsection 1-A, the department shall allow additional brands of beverage containers from a different product group to be included in the commingling agreement if those additional brands are~~

~~of like material to those containers already managed under the commingling agreement.~~

Sec. 21. 38 MRSA §3107, 3rd ¶, as enacted by PL 2019, c. 526, §8, is amended to read:

For the purposes of this chapter and notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, the State, through the Department of Administrative and Financial Services, Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages and Lottery Operations, is deemed to be managing returned containers for which the State has initiated deposits in a commingling program pursuant to a qualified commingling agreement as described in subsection 1-A as long as the State allows a dealer or redemption center to commingle returned containers of like material, including, but not limited to, through use of an account-based bulk processing program.

Sec. 22. 38 MRSA §3107, sub-§1, as enacted by PL 2015, c. 166, §14, is amended to read:

1. Commingling requirement. If initiators of deposit enter into a commingling agreement pursuant to this section, commingling of beverage containers must be by all containers of like product group, material and size. An initiator of deposit required pursuant to section 3106, subsection 8 ~~or 8-A~~ to pick up beverage containers subject to a commingling agreement also shall pick up all other beverage containers subject to the same agreement. The initiator of deposit may not require beverage containers that are subject to a commingling agreement to be sorted separately by a dealer or redemption center.

Sec. 23. 38 MRSA §3107, sub-§1-A, as enacted by PL 2019, c. 526, §8, is amended to read:

1-A. Qualified commingling agreements. The department shall determine that a commingling agreement is qualified for the purposes of this chapter if:

A. Fifty percent or more of beverage containers of like product group, material and size for which the deposits are being initiated in the State are included in the commingling agreement; or

B. The initiators of deposit included in the commingling agreement are initiators of deposit for beverage containers containing wine and each initiator of deposit sells no more than 100,000 gallons of wine or 500,000 beverage containers containing wine in a calendar year; ~~or,~~

~~C. The commingling agreement has been approved by the department pursuant to subsection 3-A.~~

Sec. 24. 38 MRSA §3107, sub-§1-B is enacted to read:

1-B. Special commingling agreements. A designated pick-up agent for initiators of deposit that are not members of a commingling group and that cannot in the aggregate satisfy the requirements for a qualified commingling agreement under subsection 1-A, paragraph A shall execute and submit a special commingling agreement to the department for approval. Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the department may approve a special commingling agreement that, in accordance with applicable requirements of this section, provides for the commingling by dealers and redemption centers of the beverage containers for which those initiators have initiated deposits.

A. Once approved, the designated pick-up agent shall permit any initiator of deposit that is not a member of a commingling group to become a party to the special commingling agreement.

B. The department may approve up to 2 special commingling agreements pursuant to this subsection and shall adopt rules governing approval and administration of special commingling agreements, which must include, but are not limited to, rules regarding the administration of the agreement, data and reporting requirements for initiators that are parties to the agreement, beverage container sorting and auditing requirements, statewide assessment requirements for the pick-up agent to ensure geographical coverage and the process for addressing container count discrepancies and return of containers not covered by the agreement. Rules adopted pursuant to this paragraph are routine technical rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

Sec. 25. 38 MRS §3107, sub-§3-A, as amended by PL 2019, c. 526, §8, is repealed.

Sec. 26. 38 MRS §3107, sub-§3-B is enacted to read:

3-B. Commingling program operated by commingling cooperative. Subject to the requirements of this subsection and notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, by October 15, 2024, all commingling groups established pursuant to subsection 1-A and 1-B, including the State, through the Department of Administrative and Financial Services, Bureau of Alcoholic Beverages and Lottery Operations, shall collectively establish a commingling cooperative to provide for the management of all beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter under a single commingling program, referred to in this subsection as "the program."

A. The cooperative must be established as a non-profit organization exempt from taxation under the United States Internal Revenue Code of 1986, Section 501(c)(3). The cooperative must be governed by a board of not less than 9 and not more than 15 members that represents the range of beverages and beverage container material types subject to the requirements of this chapter and that includes a board member representing each commingling group. The board shall convene an advisory group that includes as members representatives of the range of beverages and beverage container material types subject to the requirements of this chapter as well as representatives of dealers, pick-up agents, recycling facilities, redemption centers that primarily sort containers manually, redemption centers that primarily sort containers using reverse vending machines, entities operating account-based bulk processing programs and environmental advocacy organizations. The board shall invite representatives of the department to participate in and provide input regarding the activities of the advisory group.

B. By January 15, 2025, the cooperative shall submit a plan for the operation of the program to the department for review and approval. The plan must include, but is not limited to:

(1) The method by which the program will facilitate the transition from beverage container sorting at redemption centers by brand to sorting by material type and, for redemption centers that manually sort containers, by size within each material type. The program may facilitate the negotiation of agreements with redemption centers to gather brand data through use of reverse vending machines, account-based bulk processing programs or similar technology as long as the cost of such data collection is paid by the program;

(2) Standards to provide for fair apportionment of costs among the commingling groups and initiators of deposit included in the program, which may be based on:

(a) The combined beverage container sales by the initiators of deposit that are members of each commingling group;

(b) The unit or brand counts generated by reverse vending machines or account-based bulk processing programs as long as the reverse vending machines or account-based bulk processing programs are subject to periodic 3rd-party audits on a schedule approved by the department and with the costs of those audits paid by the program; and

(c) The rates of redemption, as determined pursuant to the method set forth in subparagraph (3) and in accordance with the requirements of subparagraph (5);

(3) A method for determining the rate of redemption for beverage containers, which must be verified through a 3rd-party audit paid for by the cooperative, expressed as a percentage of the beverage containers redeemed that are available for redemption; the rate of redemption by beverage type and by beverage container material type; and, to the maximum extent practicable, regional redemption rates in the State. The method for determining the redemption rate may not include in its calculation any unredeemed beverage containers collected or processed by municipal or other recycling programs. The program must ensure that a single redemption rate, determined by the method specified in the plan, is used by all commingling groups and initiators of deposit to determine cost apportionment pursuant to subparagraph (2);

(4) A budget for the program that includes, but is not limited to, identification of any start-up costs for the program that will not be ongoing, including, but not limited to, the costs of the study described in paragraph F, and a description of the method by which the cooperative will determine and collect payments from commingling groups to cover the program's start-up costs;

(5) The method by which the cooperative will collect deposits from initiators of deposit for nonrefillable beverage containers and handling fees for redeemed containers, whether directly from the initiator of deposit or through the commingling group of which the initiator of deposit is a member. The program must ensure that an initiator of deposit is not required to pay any handling fees for its beverage containers that exceeds the applicable redemption rate for those containers as calculated pursuant to subparagraph (3);

(6) A description of how the cooperative intends to segregate, maintain, calculate and expend unclaimed beverage container deposits in accordance with section 3108-A;

(7) A description of how the cooperative will provide a consistent beverage container pick-up schedule for each redemption center in accordance with the pick-up requirements of section 3106, subsection 8-A and the rules adopted pursuant to that subsection. The program must ensure that pick-up schedules are designed to reduce transportation distances and minimize costs but must allow each commingling group to provide for beverage container pickup of the commingling group's equivalent container material;

(8) Information on how the cooperative will be responsible for and ensure payment to a dealer or redemption center within 10 calendar days of any beverage container pickup of all applicable deposits and handling fees for the beverage containers picked up from the dealer or redemption center, except as otherwise provided under a written agreement entered into by the cooperative or a member commingling group and the dealer or redemption center, and the applicable costs of plastic bags provided to the dealer or redemption center in accordance with section 3106, subsection 9;

(9) Information on how the cooperative will ensure that each commingling group and each initiator of deposit that is a member of the commingling group maintains ownership over the commingling group's and initiator of deposit's share of the beverage containers redeemed, collected and processed for recycling under the program;

(10) Information on how the cooperative will calculate the base rates offered for the processing of beverage containers using an account-based bulk processing program or pick-up agents;

(11) A certification that the cooperative will not share, except with the department as necessary, information provided by a commingling group or initiator of deposit that is proprietary information and that is identified by the commingling group or initiator of deposit as proprietary information. The certification must include a description of the methods by which the cooperative intends to ensure the confidentiality of that information;

(12) Information on how the cooperative will maintain a publicly accessible website regarding the program that includes, at a minimum, the following:

(a) A searchable list of all initiators of deposit and beverage container label registrations, including for beverages sold directly to consumers in the State, in a manner that allows redemption centers, dealers and consumers to obtain up-to-date information regarding whether a particular beverage is authorized for sale and redemption in the State;

(b) A search function through which consumers can identify nearby dealers or redemption centers offering redemption services based on information made available to the cooperative by the department; and

(c) The base rates for the processing of beverage containers by container type as determined in accordance with subparagraph (10);

(13) A proposed timeline for implementation of the program plan, if approved, designed to ensure implementation of the plan on or before July 15, 2025 and a description of how the cooperative will notify commingling groups, initiators of deposit, dealers, distributors, pickup agents and other affected entities regarding program implementation, which must include, but is not limited to, posting of information relating to program implementation on the website described in subparagraph (12);

(14) A description of how the cooperative will support the development of infrastructure throughout the State for the collection and sanitization of refillable beverage containers and for the return of those refillable beverage containers to initiators of deposit of refillable beverage containers for refilling and sale. That infrastructure development may involve redemption centers, centralized washing and sanitization facilities and other methods;

(15) Information regarding the advisory group formed by the board in accordance with paragraph A, including, but not limited to, its membership and the length of the terms of its members, a proposed meeting schedule and a description of the role and responsibilities of the advisory group, which may include, but are not limited to, advising the board regarding the development of the plan submitted under this paragraph;

(16) A description of how the cooperative will operate the program in a manner designed to achieve an overall statewide redemption rate for all beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter, as determined in accordance with subparagraph (3), of 75% by January 1, 2027; of 80% by January 1, 2032; and of 85% by January 1, 2037; and

(17) Any other information required by the department.

C. Within 120 days of receipt of a plan submitted by the cooperative under paragraph B, the department shall review the plan and approve the plan, approve the plan with conditions or reject the plan. Prior to determining whether to approve or reject a plan, the department shall hold a public hearing on the plan. The department shall notify the cooperative in writing of its determination and, if the plan is approved with conditions or rejected, shall include in the notification a description of the basis for the conditions or rejection.

(1) If the cooperative's plan is rejected, it may submit a revised plan to the department within 60 days of receiving the notice of rejection. The department may approve the revised plan as submitted or approve the revised plan subject to the implementation of specific changes required by the department.

(2) If the cooperative's plan is approved in accordance with this paragraph, the cooperative shall implement the plan on or before July 15, 2025 in accordance with the timeline for implementation described in paragraph B, subparagraph (13), subject to any changes or conditions imposed by the department. If the cooperative fails to implement an approved plan on or before July 15, 2025, the initiators of deposit that are members of each of the commingling groups included in the cooperative are deemed to be in violation of this chapter and are subject to penalties pursuant to section 3111.

D. If the department determines that the program implemented by the cooperative pursuant to a plan approved under paragraph C has failed to make adequate progress toward fulfilling the requirements of the plan, excluding the redemption rate goals described in paragraph B, subparagraph (16), the department shall notify the cooperative in writing of its determination and may direct the cooperative to implement specific changes to the program within 30 days of the date of the notification.

E. On or before April 1, 2026, and annually thereafter, the cooperative shall submit to the department and make available on its publicly accessible website a report that includes, but is not limited to:

(1) Contact information for the cooperative and a list of all initiators of deposit and beverage container label registrations, including for beverages sold directly to consumers in the State;

(2) Information on the rates of redemption for beverage containers calculated in accordance with plan requirements under paragraph B, subparagraph (3). The report must include information regarding the total number of beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter sold or distributed in the State during the previous calendar year by the members of each commingling group, aggregated within each commingling group to provide only a total, aggregated number for each commingling group. If the calculated overall statewide redemption rate for beverage containers is less than the applicable redemption rate goal described in paragraph B, subparagraph (16), the report must include recommendations for changes to the operation of the program that are designed to achieve the required rate, which may include, but are not limited to, recommended increases in the deposit and refund value for beverage containers;

(3) Detailed information on the calculation and expenditure of unclaimed deposit funds in the previous calendar year in accordance with section 3108-A;

(4) A description of the education and outreach efforts implemented under the program in the previous calendar year to encourage participation in the beverage container redemption program, reduce instances of fraud in redemption and educate businesses and consumers on the value and safety of refillable beverage containers. The report must include the results of an assessment, completed by an independent 3rd party, of the effectiveness of the efforts;

(5) Any recommendations for changes to the program to improve the convenience of the collection system under the program, consumer education or program evaluation and any goals for supporting the use of refillable and reusable containers;

(6) A financial report on the program, as determined through a 3rd-party financial audit, that identifies the total cost of implementing the program and the specific administration, collection, transportation, disposition and communication costs for the program, including all costs associated with payment of handling fees, and an anticipated budget for the subsequent program year; and

(7) Any other information required by the department.

For the report due April 1, 2026 only, the department may modify or waive any of the reporting requirements set forth in this paragraph upon a finding that the information required cannot feasibly be determined or provided by the cooperative due to a partial-year operation of the program.

F. Within 90 days of receiving approval of a program plan from the department under paragraph C, the cooperative, in consultation with the department, shall contract with an independent 3rd party to conduct a study: examining operating costs for redemption centers of a variety of sizes, in a variety of geographical locations and using a variety of redemption technologies; analyzing the effects that eliminating brand sorting of beverage containers may have on transportation costs and redemption center operating costs, including, but not limited to, labor and utilities costs; recommending a handling fee schedule and payment schedule designed to facilitate a stable and sustainable redemption system; and recommending other recycling-related services that may be provided at redemption centers to support statewide recycling efforts and diversify the redemption center business model.

(1) In consultation with the department, the cooperative shall ensure that the study contract specifies the scope of the study and provides for publication of an interim progress report or reports and a final report. All costs associated with the study must be paid by the cooperative.

(2) The cooperative shall provide any interim progress reports and the final report under subparagraph (1) to the department and, after receipt of the final report, the department shall provide a copy of the final report, along with any additional comments or recommendations of the department, to the joint standing committee of the Legislature having jurisdiction over environment and natural resources matters. The final report and any additional comments or recommendations of the department may be included in the report required pursuant to section 3115, subsection 3. After reviewing the final report and the department's additional comments or recommendations, if any, the committee may report out legislation relating to the final report or to the department's comments or recommendations.

G. The cooperative shall pay to the department a reasonable annual fee established by the department, not to exceed $600,000, as provided in this paragraph.

(1) On or before July 15, 2025, the cooperative shall pay to the department the annual fee under this paragraph to cover the department's costs for review of the program plan submitted by the cooperative pursuant to paragraph B and the department's costs prior to program plan implementation in its oversight of the development and implementation of the commingling program under this subsection. The department may require the cooperative to pay a portion of the fee required under this subparagraph at the time the cooperative submits a program plan for review and approval pursuant to paragraph B to cover the department's cost for review of the program plan.

(2) On or before April 1, 2026, and annually thereafter, the cooperative shall pay to the department the annual fee under this paragraph to cover the department's costs for review of the cooperative's annual report under paragraph E and the department's costs in the previous calendar year for its oversight, administration and enforcement of the commingling program implemented under this subsection. The cooperative shall pay the fee required pursuant to this subparagraph at the time it submits the annual report required pursuant to paragraph E.

H. Reports submitted to the department under this subsection must be made available to the public on the department's publicly accessible website, except that proprietary information submitted to the department in a plan, in an amendment to a plan or pursuant to reporting requirements of this subsection that is identified by the submitter as proprietary information is confidential and must be handled by the department in the same manner as confidential information is handled under section 1310-B.

I. Beginning July 15, 2025, an initiator of deposit that is not in compliance with all applicable requirements of the single commingling program implemented pursuant to this subsection:

(1) Commits a violation of this chapter and is subject to penalties pursuant to section 3111; and

(2) Is prohibited from selling or distributing in the State any beverage container subject to the requirements of this chapter as long as the violation exists. A distributor or dealer may not sell or distribute in the State any such containers of the initiator of deposit, and the department may remove from sale any such containers of the initiator of deposit.

The department may adopt rules as necessary for the implementation of this subsection and the oversight of the cooperative and the single commingling program implemented pursuant to this subsection. Rules adopted pursuant to this subsection are routine technical rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

Sec. 27. 38 MRSA §3108, as enacted by PL 2015, c. 166, §14, is repealed.

Sec. 28. 38 MRSA §3108-A is enacted to read:
§3108-A. Unclaimed deposits

This section governs unclaimed beverage container deposits.

1. Commingling group; unclaimed deposits. Prior to July 15, 2025, unclaimed deposits for nonrefillable beverage containers that are subject to a commingling agreement pursuant to section 3107, subsection 1-A or 1-B are the property of the members of the commingling group administering the agreement. The commingling group shall determine the disposition and use of those unclaimed deposits.

2. Commingling cooperative; unclaimed deposits. Except as provided in paragraph D, beginning July 15, 2025, unclaimed deposits for nonrefillable beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter are the property of the cooperative and, in accordance with rules adopted by the department pursuant to subsection 3, must be deposited and maintained by the cooperative in a separate account or accounts and expended only in accordance with this subsection.

A. The cooperative shall expend unclaimed deposit amounts as provided in paragraphs B and C and may not expend unclaimed deposit amounts to offset legal or lobbying fees or fines incurred by the cooperative, a commingling group or an initiator of deposit.

B. The cooperative shall expend unclaimed deposit amounts for the following purposes:

(1) Payment of the annual fee to the department as provided in section 3107, subsection 3-B, paragraph G;

(2) Reasonable costs of administering the program under section 3107, subsection 3-B, including, but not limited to, staffing costs and office operating costs;

(4) Reimbursement to dealers and redemption centers of the costs of plastic bags pursuant to section 3106, subsection 9; and

(5) Payment of $1,000,000 annually to the department for deposit into and use in accordance with the Cost and Carbon Efficient Technology Fund established in section 3114-A.

The cooperative shall include in its annual report required under section 3107, subsection 3-B, paragraph E any recommendations for a reduction in or other amendment to the payment required under this subparagraph that the cooperative believes necessary due to a reduction in the amount of unclaimed deposits available for expenditure in accordance with paragraph C, a surplus of undistributed funding within the Cost and Carbon Efficient Technology Fund established in section 3114-A or for other reasons specified by the cooperative.

C. Any deposits determined by the cooperative to be unclaimed in accordance with the rules adopted by the department pursuant to subsection 3 that are not expended by the cooperative as otherwise required by this section may be expended by the cooperative to offset other costs incurred by the program, including, but not limited to, costs of beverage container pickups and payment to dealers or redemption centers of required handling fees under section 3106, subsection 7, as long as such expenditures are designed to equitably offset those costs incurred by each member commingling group as determined pursuant to the approved program plan under section 3107, subsection 3-B, paragraph B, subparagraph (2).

D. Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, if the cooperative fails to implement a program plan approved by the department pursuant to section 3107, subsection 3-B, paragraph C by July 15, 2025, until the cooperative implements an approved program plan, unclaimed deposits for nonrefillable beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter must be deposited and maintained by the cooperative, or, in the event the cooperative has not been established, by each commingling group, in a separate account or accounts and in the manner directed by the department must be paid to the department for deposit into and use in accordance with the Beverage Container Enforcement Fund established under section 3114.

3. Rules. The department shall adopt rules as necessary to implement this section. Rules adopted pursuant to this subsection are routine technical rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A. The rules must include, but are not limited to:

A. Provisions requiring the deposit by the cooperative into and the maintenance by the cooperative of a segregated account or accounts, separate from all other revenues, of the refund value for all non-refillable beverage containers subject to the requirements of this chapter and sold by the members of the cooperative;

B. Provisions regarding the method and process by which the cooperative shall calculate the total amount of deposits determined to be unclaimed during the previous calendar year and the total amount of those deposits expended by the cooperative in accordance with this section during the previous calendar year; and

C. Any other provisions relating to the accounting for, determination of or expenditure of unclaimed deposits by the cooperative pursuant to this section.

Sec. 29. 38 MRSA §3109, sub-§5-A, as enacted by PL 2019, c. 526, §9, is amended to read:

5-A. CHAPTER 15

An Act to Create the Guilford-Sangerville Utilities District

Emergency preamble. Whereas, acts and resolves of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the residents of the Town of Guilford and the Town of Sangerville are in immediate need of forming a joint utility for the purposes of cost savings and rate stabilization; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

Sec. 1. Territorial limits; corporate name; purposes. The inhabitants and territory within the Town of Guilford and the Town of Sangerville, in the County of Piscataquis, constitute a public municipal corporation under the name of "Guilford-Sangerville Utilities District," referred to in this Act as "the district," for the purpose of supplying the inhabitants of the district with pure water for domestic, sanitary, manufacturing and municipal purposes and to construct, maintain, operate and provide the sewers with all their appurtenances.

Sec. 2. Source of supply. The district, for the purposes of its incorporation, is authorized to take, collect, store, hold, divert, use, flow, detain and distribute water from any lake, pond, stream or river and from any surface or underground brook, spring or vein of water in the Town of Guilford and the Town of Sangerville and from any other source from which the Guilford-Sangerville Water District is now authorized to take water, including sources outside the Town of Guilford and the Town of Sangerville.

Sec. 3. Powers; authority; duties. The district has all the powers and authority and is subject to all the requirements and restrictions provided to a water district in the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 35-A, chapter 64 and a sewer district in Title 38, chapter 10. The district may also supply existing customers of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District in the Town of Parkman and the Town of Abbot, in the County of Piscataquis, with pure water for domestic, sanitary, manufacturing and municipal purposes.

Sec. 4. Number of trustees. The board of trustees of the district is composed of 5 trustees. Three trustees must be appointed from the Town of Guilford and 2 trustees must be appointed from the Town of Sangerville. A trustee must live within the municipality the trustee is appointed to represent.

Sec. 5. First board. The first board of trustees of the district is appointed by the municipal officers of the Town of Guilford and the municipal officers of the Town of Sangerville. The terms of the first board are governed by the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 35-A, section 6410 and Title 38, section 1036.

Sec. 6. Terms of trustees. After the appointment of the first board of trustees of the district, trustees are appointed to 3-year terms.

Sec. 7. Acquisition of property; assumption of debts. The district, through its trustees, shall acquire by purchase in accordance with this section all of the plants, properties, assets, franchises, rights and privileges of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District, including, without limitation, lands, buildings, waters, water rights, springs, wells, reservoirs, tanks, standpipes, mains, pumps, pipes, machinery, fixtures, hydrants, meters, services, tools, equipment, apparatus and appliances used or useful in supplying water for domestic, commercial, industrial and municipal purposes and shall, by appropriate instruments, assume, in accordance with this section, all of the outstanding debts, obligations and liabilities of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District, including, without limitation, the assumption of any outstanding bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District that are due on or after the date of transfer.

Sec. 8. Sale of property; assumption of debts. The Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District shall, in accordance with this section, sell, transfer and convey to the district by appropriate instruments of conveyance all of their plants, properties, assets, franchises, rights and privileges, including, without limitation, lands, buildings, waters, water rights, springs, wells, reservoirs, tanks, standpipes, mains, pumps, pipes, machinery, fixtures, hydrants, meters, services, tools, equipment, apparatus and appliances used or useful in supplying water for domestic, commercial, industrial and municipal purposes, in consideration of the assumption by the district of all of the outstanding debts, obligations and liabilities of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District including, without limitation, the assumption of any outstanding bonds, notes or evidences of indebtedness of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District that are due on or after the date of the transfer.

Sec. 9. Transfer of contracts, permits and licenses. All contracts between the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District and any person, firm or corporation that are in effect on the date of acquisition pursuant to section 7 are assumed and must be carried out by the district. All permits and licenses held by the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District that are in effect on the date of acquisition pursuant to section 7 are assumed by the district.

Sec. 10. Approval of Public Utilities Commission. The sale and transfer by the Guilford-Sangerville Water District to the district of its plants, properties, assets, franchises, rights and privileges and the assumption by the district of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District's outstanding debts, obligations and liabilities and the subsequent use of the plants, properties, assets, franchises, rights and privileges by the district within the limits of the district are subject to the approval of the Public Utilities Commission under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 35-A, Part 1.

Sec. 11. Emergency clause; referendum; effective date. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this Act takes effect when approved only for the purpose of permitting its submission to the legal voters within the Town of Guilford and the Town of Sangerville at a referendum called for that purpose and held after May 1, 2023, but within 2 years after the effective date of this Act. The referendum must be called by the municipal officers of the respective towns and must be held at the regular voting places. The referendum must be called, advertised and conducted according to the law relating to municipal elections. The registrars shall make a complete list of all the eligible voters of the proposed district as described in this Act. The list prepared by the registrars governs the eligibility of a voter. For the purpose of registration of voters, the registrars of voters must be in session the regular workday preceding the referendum. The subject matter of this Act is reduced to the following question:

"Do you favor creating the Guilford-Sangerville Utilities District and permitting the Guilford-Sangerville Utilities District to acquire the assets and assume the liabilities of the Guilford-Sangerville Water District and the Guilford-Sangerville Sanitary District?"

The voters shall indicate by a cross or check mark placed against the word "Yes" or "No" their opinion of the same. The results must be declared by the municipal officers of the Town of Guilford and the municipal officers of the Town of Sangerville, and due certificate of the results filed by the clerks with the Secretary of State. This Act takes effect for all other purposes immediately upon its approval by a majority of the legal voters of each town voting at the referendum. Failure to achieve the necessary approval in any referendum does not prohibit subsequent referenda consistent with this section as long as the referenda are held within 2 years after the effective date of this Act. If, after May 1, 2023, but prior to approval of this Act, a referendum on the question specified in this section is held in accordance with this section and a majority of the legal voters of each town voting at the referendum casts votes in favor of the question and due certificate of the results are filed with the Secretary of State, this Act takes effect when approved.

Emergency clause. In view of the emergency cited in the preamble, this legislation takes effect when approved.

Effective pending referendum.

CHAPTER 12

H.P. 44 - L.D. 69

Resolve, to Direct the Public Utilities Commission to Consider Methods to Educate Customers About Electricity Supply

Sec. 1. Public Utilities Commission; information on cost components of supply. Resolved: That the Public Utilities Commission shall issue a request to competitive electricity providers and standard-offer service providers for the following information:

1. Whether it is feasible for competitive electricity providers and standard-offer service providers to supply transmission and distribution utilities with a cost in cents per kilowatt-hour for each power source used by each provider to serve the provider's load to be included by the transmission and distribution utilities on residential and small nonresidential consumer disclosure labels;

2. If it is feasible, how useful is the information under subsection 1 to residential and small nonresidential consumers in understanding their electric supply costs and what are the estimated costs to competitive electricity providers and standard-offer service providers for supplying the information;

3. If it is not feasible, what are the barriers to providing the information under subsection 1 to transmission and distribution utilities and what information is available to competitive electricity providers and standard-offer service providers that may be provided to assist consumers in understanding their electric supply costs; and

4. Whether it is feasible for competitive electricity providers and standard-offer service providers to calculate the levelized cost of electricity for each power source used by each provider to serve the provider's load and, if not, what data elements would be needed in order to calculate the levelized costs. For the purposes of this subsection, "levelized cost of electricity" means a measurement of the cost of building and operating a source of electrical generation over an assumed lifetime.

Sec. 2. Electric consumer education. Resolved: That the Public Utilities Commission shall consider methods the commission could undertake to better educate electric consumers on their electric energy supply and the reasons for fluctuations in the price for that supply.

Sec. 3. Report. Emergency preamble. Whereas, acts and resolves of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the viability and stability of local, regional and state economies depend upon our heritage industries, and the regional catastrophic losses in the timber industry, a heritage industry in our State, constitutes an emergency; and

Whereas, a transition to cross-laminated timber and other climate-friendly building materials in our region, country and world is under way, and this transition would be a tremendous economic driver in this State, especially for timber producers, with the resultant boost benefiting the economic, education, health, housing and other goals of the entire State for decades; and

Whereas, an increase in demand for cross-laminated timber in this part of the country would help attract manufacturers to this State, revitalizing mill communities and all components of the timber sector in this State; and

Whereas, this State could have the first cross-laminated timber manufacturing plant in New England, and a manufacturing plant based in this State could supply countless building projects in these densely populated regions that otherwise would forgo cross-laminated timber due to transportation costs; and

Whereas, the University of Maine System is a world leader in forestry and advanced building materials, and this resolve directs the University of Maine System to study and make recommendations for more widespread use of cross-laminated timber; and

Whereas, the study must be initiated before the 90-day period expires in order that the study may be completed and a report submitted in time for submission to the next legislative session; and

Sec. 1. University of Maine System study.

Resolved: That the University of Maine System, within existing resources, shall study the barriers to more widespread use of cross-laminated timber and make recommendations for any professional training or other measures that would promote its use in construction. The University of Maine System may apply for and receive funds, grants or contributions from public or private sources to carry out the study as provided in this resolve as long as the person providing the funds, grants or contributions does not have a vested pecuniary interest in the outcome of the study.

mankind. Government programs benefiting America's elderly must be distinct and visibly separate from other government services. We believe our policy provides that programs serving older people may be integrated with programs serving broader populations in those instances where gross duplication of identical programs would otherwise result. We also believe that programs with features specifically needed by older people must not be integrated with programs serving broader populations -- even though the programs may be similar -- except where it is conclusively demonstrated that such specific features will be retained or that greater benefits will accrue to the elderly from the integration of programs.

facsimile signature of such officer or officers as may be authorized in the resolution to execute the bonds, but at least one signature on each bond ~~shall~~ must be a manual signature. Coupons, if any, attached to the bonds ~~shall~~ must be executed with the facsimile signature of the officer or officers of the district designated in the resolution. In case any officer, whose signature or facsimile signature appears on any bonds or coupons, ceases to hold that office before the delivery of the bonds, the signature or its facsimile ~~shall~~ is nevertheless ~~be~~ valid and sufficient for all purposes, as if ~~he~~ the officer had remained in office until the delivery. Notwithstanding any of the other provisions of this chapter or any recitals in any bonds issued under this chapter, all such bonds ~~shall~~ be ~~are~~ deemed to be negotiable instruments under the laws of this State. The bonds may be issued in coupon or registered form, or both, as the board of directors may determine, and provision may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to principal alone and as to both principal and interest, and for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest. The board of directors may sell the bonds in the manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as they may determine to be for the best interests of the district. The proceeds of the bonds of each issue ~~shall~~ must be used solely for the purpose for which those bonds have been authorized and ~~shall~~ must be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions as the board of directors may provide in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or in the trust agreement securing the bonds. The resolution providing for the issuance of bonds, and any trust agreement securing the bonds, may contain such limitations upon the issuance of additional bonds as the board of directors may ~~deem~~ consider proper, and these additional bonds ~~shall~~ must be issued under such restrictions and limitations as may be prescribed by that resolution or trust agreement. Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the board of directors may, under like restrictions, issue interim receipts or temporary bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when those bonds are executed and are available for delivery. The board of directors may provide for the replacement of any bond ~~which~~ that is mutilated, destroyed or lost.

WHEREAS, Whole Foods Market has announced that it will stop selling Gulf of Maine lobster in its more than 500 stores nationwide; and

WHEREAS, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group have made similar announcements; and

WHEREAS, the announcements were in response to a statement by the London-based Marine Stewardship Council that it is suspending the certification of sustainability for the Gulf of Maine lobster fishery, due to concerns over harm to the North Atlantic right whale; and

WHEREAS, notwithstanding the statement by the Marine Stewardship Council, there has never been a North Atlantic right whale death attributed to Maine lobster gear; and

WHEREAS, Maine lobster harvesters have a 150-year history of sustainability, and Maine's lobstering community has consistently demonstrated its commitment to protecting North Atlantic right whales; and

WHEREAS, the Maine Lobster Marketing Collaborative has stated that the Marine Stewardship Council's suspension of the Gulf of Maine lobster fishery's certification of sustainability is due to flaws with the National Marine Fisheries Service's regulatory plan and not due to actions by the lobster harvesters themselves; and

WHEREAS, the suspension of the lobster fishery's certification of sustainability and the refusal of Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group to continue to sell Gulf of Maine lobster harm the livelihoods of hard-working men and women up and down Maine's coast; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED: That We, the Members of the One Hundred and Thirty-first Legislature now assembled in the First Regular Session, on behalf of the people we represent, take this opportunity to express our disappointment over the outrageous decision by Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh

Group to discontinue the sale of Gulf of Maine lobster; our belief that the Marine Stewardship Council, Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group are following misguided recommendations rather than science; our hope that the Marine Stewardship Council, Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group will reconsider their potentially devastating decision; and our hope that the public will refuse to patronize Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group until those retailers recognize that their concerns regarding the danger of Maine lobstering to the North Atlantic right whale are unfounded and flawed and that their refusal to sell lobster from the Gulf of Maine based on these unfounded and flawed concerns maligns the men and women in Maine engaged in the lobster industry and Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group resume selling lobster from the Gulf of Maine; and be it further

RESOLVED: That suitable copies of this resolution, duly authenticated by the Secretary of State, be transmitted to the corporate offices of Whole Foods Market, Blue Apron Holdings and HelloFresh Group and to the Marine Stewardship Council.

STATE OF THE BUDGET ADDRESS OF
GOVERNOR JANET T. MILLS
FEBRUARY 14, 2023

Governor Mills' 2023 State of the Budget Address

Introduction

Mr. President, Madam Speaker, Mr. Associate Justice, Mr. Attorney General, Madam Secretary of State, Mr. Treasurer, Members of my extraordinary Cabinet, Members of the 131st Legislature, esteemed guests –

We come together for the annual, time-honored tradition of a Governor's Address to you, the peoples' representatives, on the same day as another time-honored tradition – Valentine's Day.

I know one of these time-honored traditions is more fun than the other, but I am grateful for your willingness to be here this evening. And I know that you do it out of a sense of duty and responsibility for our state.

And I am grateful for the love you have for the people of Maine and for the honorable pursuit of public service that, despite our varied ideological beliefs, unites us in pursuit of a common, noble cause: to improve the lives and livelihoods of Maine people.

As my Valentine's Day gift to you, when you leave the Chamber you will find chocolate lobster treats from our friends at Wilbur's of Maine in Freeport – a treat I hope that tastes that much sweeter in the wake of our victory in Congress to pause the unfair right whale regulations imposed by the Federal government on our lobster industry.

So, we raise a chocolate lobster toast to our lobster fishermen. Right, Billy Bob?

Okay, so –

"As we look to the future, it is my pleasure to report that Maine's budget is in a stable and secure position. We have taken a cautious approach to budgeting during these uncertain times and have made investments in key areas, such as education, infrastructure, and healthcare, to support economic growth and stability."

Well, at least that's what ChatGPT tells me I should say.

In all seriousness, though, that's not far off from my own words.

State of the Budget

Our state stands on a solid fiscal footing, and we are prepared to weather whatever economic challenges may come. The state of our budget is strong.

Fiscal Outlook

We approach the end of the 2023 Fiscal Year in the black, with a substantial surplus. Like surpluses before it, with your bipartisan support last month, we are returning money to the people of Maine to provide some small measure of relief from high energy prices. Those checks are in the mail now, and by the end of next month, every eligible Maine taxpayer should receive one.

Looking forward, our revenue outlook for the next two fiscal years is also strong.

According to the independent, nonpartisan Revenue Forecasting Committee – comprised of experts in the economy – the State can anticipate a total of $10.5 billion in revenue over the next two years.

That is $1.1 billion more than the current baseline budget.

On top of that, for the following two Fiscal Years – 2026 and 2027 – the Revenue Forecasting Committee projects approximately $11.6 billion in revenue.

These strong revenue projections did not just happen by themselves.

They are the direct result of a strong economy, created by Federal support and deliberate policy and financial choices we have made in State government to fuel our recovery from the pandemic and create the conditions necessary for sustained economic growth.

The Economy

And today, despite years of pandemic-driven turmoil and even with the possibility of a recession still on the horizon, our economy remains strong.

Since 2019, our Gross Domestic Product – an important measure of economic growth – grew by 10.1 percent, the 9th best growth rate in the nation and the best in New England. In fact, Maine has experienced more economic growth over the last four years than it did in the entire preceding fifteen years.

Wages are up substantially. Even when adjusting for inflation, Maine people are earning about eight percent more than they were just a few years ago. Nationally, new businesses are starting at some of the fastest rates on record. Last year alone, nearly 14,000 new businesses registered with the Maine Secretary of State's office.

Our unemployment rate stands at 3.8 percent, down from 4.1 percent a year ago.

Our State's credit ratings are in good shape, reaffirmed during the pandemic when other states experienced downgrades.

Our Unemployment Trust Fund remains solvent, while other states had to borrow from the Federal government and then repay that money with interest.

And, with your help, we built up Maine's Rainy Day Fund to a record high of more than $900 million.

We have become a top destination for people relocating in New England. Between July 2019 and July 2021, we boasted the 7th highest in-migration rate in the nation.

In 2021, we experienced the largest population gain from net migration since the 1950s. In the last two years, a net 34,237 people moved here – about 31,000 coming from other U.S. states.

This is all welcome news, but Maine is not without its challenges – even with our strong influx of new people, we face an alarming shortage of workers and high costs.

Right now, as elsewhere across the nation, there are two job openings for every unemployed person in Maine.

"Help Wanted" signs hang in the front window of shops and factories across the state – and the shortage is taking its toll.

Some schools have canceled classes because too many teachers and bus drivers are out sick. Police and firefighters are working extra shifts to fill gaps in coverage. Shops and restaurants are closing early, some closing altogether, because of staff shortages.

How do we address it?

Well, my guiding belief as Governor is that the foundation of Maine's economy is our people.

SELECTED ADDRESSES TO THE LEGISLATURE

And I firmly believe that if we are to build a stronger, more prosperous state where opportunity is available to all, then we must invest in the people of Maine.

That is why my budgets and my Jobs Plan have focused on investing in health and education and in the infrastructure working people need – including housing, child care and broadband.

Maine Jobs & Recovery Plan

Two years ago you enacted my Maine Jobs & Recovery Plan, investing nearly $1 billion in Federal American Rescue Plan funds to improve the lives of Maine people and families, to help businesses create and fill good-paying jobs, and to build an economy poised for future prosperity.

Since that bill took effect, we have delivered direct economic relief to nearly 1,000 small businesses and we have supported more than 100 infrastructure projects around the state to create jobs and revitalize communities.

We have invested $300 million to support our workforce, in everything from job training, to business supports, to housing, to child care. These critical investments are helping tens of thousands of people acquire skills and find good paying careers in health care, in the trades, in teaching, and in paid apprenticeships for all sorts of employers so that people with skills may quickly enter and remain in our workforce.

Our investments are also connecting 6,000 high school students with paid, hands-on work experience with Maine employers through the Maine Career Exploration Program. Since last fall, more than 2,000 young people have signed up to gain skills and mentoring so they can discover good careers right here in Maine – and provide some extra help to Maine businesses at the same time.

There are more slots available. So, if there is a teenager in your family who would like to explore a career, please ask your school about this program.

In addition to job training, the Jobs Plan has invested in child care, housing and reliable broadband – the things people tell us they need to enter and remain in the workforce.

Previous Budget

The new biennial budget proposal complements the budgets we enacted in the last legislative session. Lest anybody forget, we actually got a lot done in those budgets, you and I! –

We achieved 55 percent state funding for education for the first time in Maine history, putting funds directly into classrooms to benefit Maine kids regardless of their zip code.

We became the second state in the nation to provide universal free food in the public schools, erasing the shameful divide between the have's and have not's.

We delivered two-years free community college to recent high school graduates, driving enrollment up by a record 12 percent and restoring the dreams of higher education that so many young people gave up on during the pandemic.

We fully restored municipal revenue sharing to five percent, sending nearly $700 million of our revenues to the towns to reduce the property tax burden and to fund services like fire and police.

We provided significant tax relief, reducing income taxes for retirees and property taxes for seniors.

Bipartisan progress on issues critical to Maine people became the foundation for the biennial budget proposal before you now.

Health Care

I have long said that we cannot have a healthy economy if we do not have healthy people.

It's pretty hard to hold a job, support a family, or pay attention at school if you are sick or suffering.

Having health care enables you to shape your future and contribute to your community and to our economy – as it did for one woman who approached me at the polls last November to tell me that MaineCare expansion allowed her to get much needed heart surgery that saved her life.

Over 100,000 more Maine people receive treatment for accidents and illnesses, prescriptions and procedures, and – now – dental care just through the Medicaid expansion.

And now, independent of Medicaid, we're also providing dental care to hundreds of Maine veterans who could not otherwise afford to see a dentist through a partnership between my administration and Northeast Delta Dental, supported by members of Maine Masonic Lodges and others. If you know a veteran who could benefit, please contact the Maine Bureau of Veterans' Services.

We established CoverME.gov to help 63,000 people get health insurance through the Affordable Care Act. – People like Pamela Gray of Gorham, a cancer survivor who is now getting the health care she needs thanks to affordable coverage through CoverME.gov.

Together, we have reduced our uninsured rate from 8 percent in 2019 to 5.7 percent in 2021 – the largest decline of any state in the nation.

And we have made sure Maine people will not be charged more or be denied coverage based on a pre-existing condition.

But there is more we can do to make Maine a healthier state. I propose we focus on some of our most vulnerable – and valued – residents.

Last year, I signed an Executive Order creating the Cabinet on Aging to mobilize State government to keep making strides in taking care of older Mainers.

This year, I am proposing $144 million in federal and state dollars combined to expand and improve services that will allow older Mainers to age safely in their homes and communities, with home-delivered meals, and with programs that reduce abuse, neglect and exploitation.

We are also investing in the health and wellbeing of people with disabilities.

I am the grandmother of a beautiful, loving child with autism. I understand the difficulty that parents of children with disabilities face on a day to day basis, especially when it comes to finding consistent help to support the needs and strengths of their child.

My budget proposes $84 million in state and federal funds to improve access to services for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities, including those in urgent need of comprehensive residential care through "Section 21," and eliminating the waitlist for day and work support services, known as MaineCare Section 29.

Maine can do better by people with disabilities. Many of the individuals on the waitlist are children whose parents have reserved a spot years in advance, anticipating the more intensive services those children will need as they grow into adulthood.

STATE OF THE BUDGET ADDRESS

When it comes time to move these children into adult services, our system of care right now leaves these families with abrupt and burdensome transitions.

Carrie Woodcock, Executive Director of the Maine Parent Federation, described her experience of caring for her child with a developmental disability as "episodic," saying that it was so much work to keep up with her child's case that she became fluent in filling out eligibility paperwork.

That's not right. And it's why my budget proposes a fundamental reform in how we deliver these services.

We are proposing a "lifespan waiver" that flips the system to focus on the services individuals need, not on the bureaucracy that provides those services. With a lifespan waiver, people can get services that are tailored to their preferences, age, and needs, along with help finding a suitable job and a plan for their future that can be updated as circumstances change.

I ask you to approve this initiative. Individuals with disabilities and their caregivers deserve the peace of mind of a system of adaptable and individualized supports.

Education

Education remains a central piece of this budget. We recognize that education is a great equalizer in our society and that every child, regardless of where they live, deserves a world-class education that will prepare them for a successful adulthood. And we recognize, and applaud, the talented support staff and the educators who step into the classroom every day with our students.

Two years ago, we met the state's obligation to pay 55 percent of local education costs – for the first time since the voters told us to do so in 2004. My budget proposal includes $101 million to continue this commitment, investing directly in our schools, teachers, and staff and helping our communities hold the line on property taxes.

Two years ago, you passed – and I signed – nation-leading legislation spearheaded by Senate President Jackson to ensure that no child in Maine goes hungry during the school day. My budget continues this crucial program to ensure that no child has to try to learn on an empty stomach.

Last year, we worked together to make two years of Community College free for recent high school graduates impacted by the pandemic. We believed that it would not only help students pursue higher education debt-free but that it would make ready a trained workforce in much needed sectors of our economy.

Students like Elisabeth "Tip" Ackerman, who was able to go back to school because of this initiative. Tip will soon graduate with a degree in early childhood education and will help fill our need for more child care workers.

And students like Zim Cunningham, who says that while he struggled academically in high school, he is now excelling at Washington County Community College and will soon enter the workforce, without college debt, trained to become a powersports and small engine technician.

And students like Margarida Celestino, who last year told her advisor that she would have to drop out because she needed to earn money. Free community college has allowed her not only to stay in school, but to enroll full time, instead of just picking up one or two classes whenever she had enough saved up.

Because of our initiative, Maine's Community Colleges experienced record enrollment last year and, now, students like these can spend less time worrying about how to pay for college, and more time focused on earning the credential or degree they need to succeed in Maine's workforce.

Free community college is working. Let's keep it up for another two years!

My budget also includes $71 million for the University System, the Maine Community College System, and Maine Maritime Academy, which includes a 4.5 percent across the board increase – along with $10 million to boost the Maine State Grant Program, increasing the maximum grant award to $3,000 to help more Maine students afford the cost of college.

If you approve that increase, we will have doubled the Maine State grant award over the past four years.

Transportation & Infrastructure

This biennial budget also proposes one of the largest investments in our roads, bridges, and other multimodal infrastructure in history.

For years, we have been playing catch-up when it comes to upgrading the critical infrastructure on which Maine people rely every day to go to work, to go to school, or just to get around.

A lack of resources has forced the Maine Department of Transportation to operate in what Commissioner Van Note calls "MacGyver Mode" – stretching each dollar as far as it can go to fix problems when and as they arise.

MaineDOT – and all of state government – should always aim to get the most value out of every dollar. But addressing problems only when they become critical costs us more over the long term and makes our roads, bridges, and highways – and the people who travel over them – much less safe.

In 2020, the American Society of Engineers gave Maine a "C-" for our infrastructure, and a "D" for our roads. The average age of our bridges is about 55 years!

That's unacceptable. And it's dangerous. And it's costing all of us in repairs and wear and tear on our cars and trucks each year.

The good news is, in 2021, the United States Congress – with the support of our Congressional Delegation – passed and President Biden signed the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law, which makes available historic levels of federal funding for infrastructure projects.

Now, much of this new funding requires a matching contribution from the state, so my budget proposes making $400 million available to MaineDOT to leverage hundreds of millions of additional dollars in federal funds to make long-term investments in our roads, bridges, highways, and in our iconic villages and downtowns, making them safer for vehicles, pedestrians and bicyclists as well.

If you approve my proposal, these federal dollars, along with our state match, will allow MaineDOT to pave more than 3,000 miles of road, reconstruct 271 miles of highway, and fix 302 bridges – on top of many other worthy multimodal projects.

Pothole season will be here soon. So, as my friend Gretchen Whitmer of Michigan likes to say, "let's fix the damn roads."

The Environment

Protecting our environment is always a priority. And I am especially proud of the important, bipartisan progress we have made over the past four years.

Together, we have reinvigorated the Land for Maine's Future Program, which has already conserved 37 new projects, preserving working farmland, working waterfront, working forests and the largest deer wintering areas ever.

We have led the nation in combating PFAS contamination, which is devastating many communities in Maine – forcing some schools to switch to bottled water, leaving farmers in financial shambles, and fishermen and hunters questioning whether the wildlife they harvest might be contaminated.

In all, with your help, we have dedicated more than $100 million over the past two years to address PFAS – funding environmental testing and remediation, creating a Trust Fund to assist farmers, installing more than 300 drinking water treatment systems, and establishing temporary standards to protect drinking water.

Now I am asking you to approve an additional $6 million in State and Federal funds to further strengthen our ability to detect and mitigate PFAS, including sampling and continued testing of wells, soils and wildlife.

Climate Change

Of course, one of – if not the – greatest threat to our environment is climate change, which United Nations scientists have called "a code red for humanity."

In 2019, I stood before the United Nations General Assembly and told the world that Maine will not wait to act.

Our environment, our people, and our infrastructure remain at serious risk from climate change – and it is our communities that are on the frontlines of this battle.

Communities that are reeling from storms that are growing more severe and more frequent, damaging more infrastructure and threatening our safety.

Just two days before Christmas, a winter storm battered our coast, with heavy rains and high winds that caused extensive flooding and power outages.

We have to make our communities more resilient to the impacts of storms like these.

So our Community Resilience Partnership is providing grants and assistance to more than 130 communities across Maine to reduce their carbon emissions, transition them to clean energy, and protect them from rising seas and extreme weather events.

For example –

STATE OF THE BUDGET ADDRESS

We provided $41,000 to the Town of Paris to install a solar array on the roof of the police station, with the goal of integrating battery storage and ensuring that the police station remains operational during power outages.

The City of Rockland is using a $50,000 grant to redesign the piers and seawall of its downtown waterfront which is increasingly vulnerable to more powerful storm surges.

I am proposing $3 million more to continue this important work and ensure that our communities are better prepared to protect our people from the impacts of climate change.

Energy Prices

Fighting climate change also requires us to embrace clean sources of energy, which will also help us rein in outrageous energy prices.

Whether it is the cost of heating fuel or electricity, the price of energy in Maine is getting to be simply unaffordable and it discourages people from staying here and businesses from coming here.

We know what the problem is: it's the stranglehold that fossil fuel companies have on our state and on our people.

We are the most heating oil dependent state in the nation, with nearly sixty percent of our homes relying on heating oil or kerosene to stay warm. The national average? Just four percent.

The electricity from our grid, which we share with the rest of New England, is overly reliant on natural gas – and the price of natural gas has shot through the roof, in large part as a result of Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

Every year, Maine people send more than $4 billion out-of-state to line the pockets and the profits of big fossil fuel companies, money that could be better spent here at home, while our families and our environment remain at their mercy.

Enough is enough.

We are making unprecedented strides to embrace renewable energy; to weatherize more homes and businesses; and to install more efficient heating and cooling technologies, like heat pumps.

SELECTED ADDRESSES TO THE LEGISLATURE

And it is working. Maine is now among the nation's leaders in energy efficiency. In 2019, I set a goal of installing 100,000 new heat pumps by 2025. Today, we are well on our way, with more than 82,000 new heat pumps installed.

Maine people are recognizing the value of these measures – not only for their wallets, but for our environment and for our economy.

The Washington Post recently asked a woman named Marianna from Freeport if she missed her propane furnace after installing a heat pump. Her response?

"Oh, hell no."

She went on to say that her heat pump is comfortable, quiet, and a really good system.

"I'm excited our state is so forward thinking," she said, "and we have to be, because we live in a drop-dead gorgeous part of this country and we're invested in keeping it that way."

To that I say, hell yeah, Marianna!

To bring down the cost of electricity for Maine people, to protect our environment from harmful carbon emissions, and to create new and exciting jobs that attract young people to Maine, we have to loosen the stranglehold fossil fuel has on our state.

We must diversify our energy sources.

In 2019, I signed into law a bipartisan bill requiring our state to achieve 80 percent of our electricity from renewable sources by 2030. The resulting low-cost energy contracts saved Maine ratepayers more than $68 million last year.

Today, 48 percent of our electricity comes from renewable sources. We expect that to be 53 percent by the end of this year.

The time has come to be bolder: I am announcing tonight that I am directing my Energy Office to draft legislation requiring that 100 percent of our electricity come from clean energy by 2040.

By accelerating our pace toward 100 percent clean energy, we will reduce costs for Maine people, create new jobs and career opportunities that strengthen our economy, and protect us from the ravages of climate change.

Housing

Something else that has become unaffordable is housing: it's just too scarce and too high priced for too many.

More competition within the housing market has driven up rents and home prices, here and around the country.

When combined with higher interest rates, home affordability has soared out of reach for far too many.

The problem cuts across nearly every facet of our society, contributing to homelessness and limiting our ability to expand our workforce.

Bath Iron Works, one of the largest employers in Maine, recently said that their main problem is not actually finding workers, but, instead, finding those skilled workers places to live.

The company hired 400 people in 2021 and 2022 who needed to relocate to take the jobs. When all was said and done, a quarter of those people – 100 of them – could not take the job because they were unable to find housing.

That is unacceptable. But it is all too common a story I hear when traveling the state.

MaineHousing has told us that we need more than 20,000 new housing units to meet demand.

That's why we've made the largest investments in housing in our state's history: signing the long-overdue senior housing bond; enacting the affordable housing tax credit; renewing the historic rehabilitation tax credit, and committing $50 million to housing through my Jobs Plan. All combined, these actions have resulted in more than 1,500 new residential units that are built or on their way to being built, with hundreds more in the pipeline.

But we have our work cut out for us.

In my budget I propose an additional $30 million to build more housing, especially in rural Maine.

$15 million of that funding would recapitalize the Rural Rental Program established in my Jobs Plan.

In 2021, we dedicated $20 million to that very popular program – and now there are more than 130 units of affordable housing being built in towns from Norway to Madison to Presque Isle.

The other $15 million will build on another Jobs Plan program to leverage matching Federal housing tax credits. With the money we have provided already through the Jobs Plan, we have added more than 325 affordable housing units in communities from Hartland to South Portland to Bridgton.

I ask you tonight to approve this funding so we can continue to ensure that Maine people are adequately housed.

I also understand there is a bill before the Legislature that espouses the concept of "housing first." Housing First has proven to be a very successful and cost effective approach to addressing the needs of people experiencing chronic homelessness, many of whom are struggling for stability while suffering from acute mental illness and/or substance use disorder.

This bill would create a path to ending chronic homelessness in Maine by expanding the Housing First model statewide.

Under this legislation, Maine would provide permanent supportive housing for hundreds of Maine's citizens, providing communities across Maine with a desperately needed resource to address chronic homelessness and reduce health care and public safety costs.

The time for this legislation has come. Tonight, I call on the Legislature to send that bill to my desk. I will sign it.

I am also aware that Senate President Jackson and Speaker Talbot Ross and this Legislature have established a Joint Select Committee on Housing.

My Administration will work closely with Committee Chairs Senator Pierce, Representative Gere, along with Republican Leads Senator Pouliot and Representative Bradstreet, as you work to address homelessness, build and preserve workforce and affordable housing, and support reasonable zoning and land use changes that will expand housing opportunities across our state.

Housing is not a partisan issue. It is an issue that cuts to the core of our identity, because a home is not simply where we live. A home is where my late husband, Stan, and I raised our five daughters, where we gathered for holidays and sat around the table with loved ones, where we laid our heads to rest at night, knowing we were safe and together.

We can and will work together across the aisle to make sure that every person in our state has a safe, secure and affordable place to call home.

STATE OF THE BUDGET ADDRESS

The Opioid Crisis

Many of those who are unhoused are struggling with substance use disorder.

The scourge of addiction continues to reach into every corner of our state – rural and urban – robbing us of friends, family and loved ones, diminishing our sense of community, our workforce, and our future.

Since 2019, we have taken significant actions to respond to this crisis, addressing the three legged stool of prevention, interdiction, and treatment. We began by expanding Medicaid, which has provided substance use disorder treatment to more than 25,000 individuals in Maine, leading them back into productive lives.

We sharply increased access to the life-saving overdose medication naloxone, distributing more than 276,000 doses, which have been used to reverse more than 7,100 overdoses that otherwise would have been fatal.

We increased access to treatment and recovery, adding 140 residential treatment beds and detox beds. And I have directed the Department of Health and Human Services to invest another $2 million to further increase the availability of those beds across Maine.

In the Maine State Prison System, we provided substance use disorder treatment to more than 2,200 incarcerated individuals, a nationally-recognized strategy that has reduced assaults, self-harm, and overdoses – and a strategy that should be expanded to every county jail in Maine.

And last year, working closely with Democrats and Republicans, we enacted one of the best Good Samaritan laws in the country to encourage people to call for help if they witness an overdose.

This work is good. It is important. It is necessary. But it is not enough.

Last year alone, there were more than 10,000 overdoses in Maine. Out of those, 716 were fatal.

In December alone, there were 928 overdoses, with 75 people dying – the highest number of deaths of any month on record.

This is a crisis.

And, right now, it's driven by the ever-increasing prevalence of fentanyl, the highly lethal and highly addictive synthetic opioid often mixed with heroin, cocaine, methamphetamines and pills consumed by unknowing users.

SELECTED ADDRESSES TO THE LEGISLATURE

In Maine, as in the rest of the nation, fentanyl is now not only the leading cause of overdose. It is responsible for nearly 80 percent of all drug deaths.

Eighty percent.

Last year law enforcement officers seized more than 36 pounds of fentanyl in Maine, nearly 60 percent more than in 2021. That's "pounds!" – It's enough fentanyl to kill every man, woman and child in the State of Maine and then some!

The prevalence of fentanyl, along with methamphetamines and now xylazine, contributes to deadly traffic accidents, police involved shootings and the health, safety and academic performance of our children. It is sneaking into every community and stealing the lives and livelihoods of valued citizens.

What can we do?

First of all, I am announcing tonight that we will increase the State's purchase and distribution of naloxone by 25 percent – a strategy that has contributed to a 93 percent survival rate among those who experience an overdose. We start by saving lives, pure and simple.

Then, with non-taxpayer funds committed by Attorney General Aaron Frey, we will double the number of trained individuals who join law enforcement on calls related to substance use and who can lead people to treatment and recovery services.

Last December alone, these "OPTIONS liaisons" responded to dozens of calls with law enforcement officers and got nearly 100 people into treatment.

"OPTIONS" is working and by expanding it we will save more lives.

Attorney General Frey, thank you for helping us provide this life-saving program to more people.

As part of this budget, I am also proposing an historic $237 million in combined State and Federal funding for substance use disorder and mental health services, to include an increase in rates paid to providers.

This will allow, for example, a 48 percent increase for methadone treatment and an 8.2 percent increase for intensive outpatient services, to complement an increase in recovery residences and a 24/7 drop-in center.

And recognizing that the pandemic has taken a toll on the mental health of Maine people – including our children – our budget strengthens Maine's mental health system, proposing rate increases starting at 15 percent in crisis residential services, 30 percent in school and community-based services, and other improvements as part of our commitment to end the 30-year old AMHI consent decree.

I ask you, please, approve all these much-needed investments.

Look, there is not a person in this room who has not been touched by the scourge of substance abuse disorder. People like:

The family of Hannah Flaherty of Eustis, only 14 years old, a straight A-student who had no history of drug use and who was loved by her community, who died after ingesting what Hannah evidently thought was cocaine. It was pure fentanyl.

Then there was the 11-month old baby girl in Corinna who overdosed on some fentanyl that her parents had lying around. She was saved by naloxone and by the heroism of first responders. Police found traces of fentanyl in her crib and on her teddy bear.

And, then, of course, there was three-year old Hailey Goding of Old Town, whose mother is serving 19 years in prison for the fentanyl overdose death of that little child.

Child Welfare

We must acknowledge that the drug epidemic is jeopardizing the safety, security and welfare of our youngest children as well as our adults, our families and our workforce. Prevention programs in our schools and communities are also key. But we must protect children at risk, first and foremost. Substance use disorder is identified as a risk factor in 53 percent of cases when a child is removed from the home.

To improve the safety of our children, we must recognize that Maine's drug epidemic is a grave threat to the safety of our children.

And tonight I am announcing a series of new actions to address both.

First, we will partner with the Maine Child Welfare Action Network to develop a new, comprehensive plan to keep children safe by keeping families strong – by ensuring kids have healthy food, safe housing, and child care, and by supporting parents with job training and education, and mental health and substance use services.

If we keep families healthy, then we can keep children safe.

Second, I am directing the Department of Health and Human Services to embed a clinical expert in substance use disorder in every child welfare district in Maine to better recognize the influence of substance use, to navigate the risks to children, and to steer parents into treatment.

We know this strategy works because we have done it before, providing experts in domestic violence to help caseworkers identify and confront abuse in the home and combat its profound effects on children in particular.

Third, I have directed the Department of Health and Human Services to engage recovery coaches with lived experience to assist parents struggling with substance use disorder.

Remembering that "the opposite of addiction is not (simply) sobriety but connections," these people can share their own experiences with parents and walk with them along the road to recovery, while making sure the children are protected.

Lastly, I want to expand the number of Family Recovery Courts in Maine. These specialty courts work with families whose children are at risk because their parents are struggling with substance use disorder. I will engage with the Chief Justice, the Attorney General, and others to expand these courts and promote them aggressively as an effective means to get parents into treatment, to closely monitor their progress, and, ultimately, to reunite them with their children only when it is appropriate to do so.

This approach recognizes that the safety of our children is deeply intertwined with the safety of our families and our communities – and that each of these is threatened by the growing prevalence of dangerous drugs.

It also complements the significant action undertaken by my Administration and the last Legislature to improve the child welfare system – enacting bipartisan legislation to strengthen the Office of the Child Welfare Ombudsman; investing more than $30 million to bridge the gaps in the child welfare workforce; and improving our policies and practices in child welfare.

STATE OF THE BUDGET ADDRESS

To date, we have increased caseworker positions by 29 percent, we have increased the number of resource (or foster) homes by 31 percent, and we have replaced an outdated child welfare information system.

We have created a new unit to respond 24/7 to emergency reports of suspected abuse or neglect. And we improved our intake systems for reports of abuse and neglect, including launching an online reporting system for school personnel, medical professionals and law enforcement who suspect a child is at risk.

Tonight I also ask the Legislature to approve my request for nearly $15 million for foster care and adoption assistance so that we can support those who care for children in state custody.

I welcome the Legislature's continued oversight of child welfare. Every death of a child in any way connected to the child welfare system should be scrutinized for ways to improve and strengthen our system while preserving the ability of the state to put behind bars anyone who caused that child's death.

As we talk about ways to improve our child welfare system, we must also have a robust debate about all the ways we can improve the overall wellbeing of all children and families.

I pledge to you that my Administration will not shy away from any good, effective idea to ensure that every child in Maine is happy and healthy. We cannot and shall not rest in this fight.

Court System

To that same end, we need the assistance of the courts who are facing an unprecedented backlog of cases stemming from the disruption of the pandemic.

In this budget, I am proposing $15 million to allow the courts to hire additional marshals and clerks, which will enable the courts to operate safely and more efficiently.

To build on this investment, I am also announcing that I will also propose an additional four district court judgeships to relieve the backlog of cases and to allow the courts to prioritize the most urgent matters such as domestic violence, serious crimes and child protection cases and intensive but effective specialty courts such as Family Recovery Courts.

And I know the Legislature is concerned about our Constitutional obligation to provide legal counsel to low-income Maine people.

SELECTED ADDRESSES TO THE LEGISLATURE

I am too.

I have proposed funding for ten new public defenders, building on the five positions established during the last legislative session. I ask you to approve these positions.

And to complement this effort, I have written to dozens of law firms around the state asking them to designate one or more attorneys to join the roster of counsel available to accept indigent legal cases. It is good for the firms, good for the courts, and good for the people.

This problem will require a comprehensive effort, inside and outside of government, including, first and foremost, reducing the backlog in our courts, as the rising number of cases discourages many lawyers from accepting court appointed matters.

I look forward to working with the Legislature throughout the budget writing process to discuss what steps we can take to strengthen our legal system and the delivery of justice to all Maine citizens.

Conclusion

My friends, this budget proposal is strong. It is balanced. It lives within our means. It does not raise taxes. It makes meaningful investments in the things people rely on every day – while maintaining our record high Rainy Day Fund to protect us against an economic downturn.

18-time baseball All-Star Yogi Berra said, "If you don't know where you're going, you might not get there."

Well, we know where we are going – and this budget is our blueprint to get there.

You know, I have never wavered in my fundamental belief that the people of Maine are our greatest asset.

We have weathered long winters, terrible storms, wars, floods, famines, recessions, and, yes, pandemics.

We've taken to deep coastal waters to haul lobsters; we've worked the fields of the County to harvest potatoes; and we've ventured far into the Maine woods to fell trees.

Some have traveled "from away," braving the daunting prospect of change and, in some circumstances, even risking life and limb – to come to this beautiful place we call home.

SELECTED ADDRESSES TO THE LEGISLATURE

STATE OF THE BUDGET ADDRESS

In each of these acts is unshakeable courage, a spirit of independence and self reliance, a fortitude that is as fearless as it is inexhaustible.

That is the inherent character of Maine people.

Our job, our responsibility, is to foster that character. If we provide the human infrastructure – a strong health care system, good schools, housing, roads, child care, broadband – then the people of Maine will do the rest.

And that is what this budget does – it carries forward what we promised to the people of Maine. With it, we will unlock our vast potential.

I look forward to working with all of you in the coming months to enact a strong, bipartisan budget that is worthy of the people we serve and that addresses our most pressing needs.

It is always a privilege to be here in this historic chamber with you.

Happy Valentine's Day, from me to all of you!

Thank you.

MAINE JUDICIAL BRANCH
THE STATE OF THE JUDICIARY
A Report to the Joint Convention of the First Regular Session
131st Maine Legislature

Presented by Chief Justice
Valerie Stanfill
March 23, 2023

Governor Mills, President Jackson, Speaker Talbot Ross, distinguished Members and guests of the 131st Maine Legislature, and people of the State of Maine:

I am honored to be here and bring you some updates on the state of the Judiciary, Maine's third branch of government. Now that we have all learned to protect against some of the dangers of COVID transmission, I am particularly delighted to be able to address you in person this year, for the first time, as I tell you about how the Judicial Branch has weathered the pandemic and how we are moving forward.

Before I begin, however, I would like to take this opportunity to introduce and thank members of the Judicial Branch who have accompanied me here today:

Foremost, Senior Associate Justice Andrew Mead, who has appeared in front of you in my stead as recently as last week, as well as in his role as Acting Chief Justice before my appointment to this position. We owe him our deepest gratitude for steering us in the darkest days of COVID.

My colleagues and members of the Maine Supreme Judicial Court: Associate Justices Andrew Mark Horton, Catherine Connors, and Rick Lawrence. And our newest member, Justice Wayne Douglas, appearing for the first time in his new role. Justice Joseph Jabar was unable to be here today as he is in Vienna on a trip that was cancelled and rescheduled more than once due to COVID. And I confess, Rene Jabar has more pull with him than I do.

I would also like to introduce the Chiefs of the Trial Courts: Chief Justice Robert Mullen of the Superior Court, and Chief Judge Brent Davis and Deputy Chief Judge Lea-Anne Sutton of the District Court.

Key members of our administrative team are here as well. First and foremost, our State Court Administrator, Amy Quinlan. With her are two people many of you know: Barbara Cardone, our Director of Legal Affairs and Public Relations, and Julie Finn, our Legislative Analyst. Judges are often the public face of the Judicial Branch, but we cannot function without the talented and critical members of our administrative office.

I specifically want to recognize a few people who are not here:

- Dave Packard, our Chief Information Officer, and the whole information technology team. They have had to respond to an ever-changing explosion of technology needs and have kept us all working.
- Sue Bement, the Clerk of Lewison District Court, and Michele Lumbert, the Clerk of the combined Augusta District and Kennebec Superior Courts. Both helped to navigate their teams through the unprecedented changes in the last few years, as did all of our clerks, and both are retiring in the next few weeks after more than 4 decades of service to the people of Maine. They will be missed.
- Ted Ross, our Judicial Marshal, and his team of Deputy Marshals. They have kept all of us safe while the pandemic tasked them with the need to screen for COVID symptoms and figure out Zoom while appropriately responding to an increasingly agitated and frustrated public.

And finally, I want to recognize and thank all of the women and men who comprise the Judicial Branch – far too numerous to name – for their hard work, dedication and willingness to serve the interests of justice. I am truly blessed to be surrounded by extraordinary people every day working to serve the people of this State.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

In this address, I would like to discuss with you the following topics:

- First, case backlogs, staffing, and other resource pressures on the courts as we emerge from the pandemic;
- Next, what we are asking you to do;
- Third, the status of implementation of Maine eCourts and Odyssey, our new case management system; and
- Finally, I would like to end on a high note and discuss successes we have had despite the pandemic hardships and shortage of resources.

Backlogs and Shortage of Resources

I have been a judge for 16 years. And during my years in particular on the District Court, before COVID and coronavirus were part of our lexicon, it certainly felt like I was working harder and longer, that there was less breathing room, that it was increasingly difficult to get to cases in a timely fashion. We seemed to be running faster all the time and yet struggling to keep up. And I knew that the numbers of cases filed were flat or even down, which seemed inconsistent with my perception. But I also knew that many others, judges and clerks, felt the same way. And indeed, as Chief Justice, I am digging into the data, and it backs up my experience.

The state court system never closed during the pandemic, but there were about 15 months where some dockets, especially jury trials, were significantly curtailed to comply with emergency orders and CDC recommendations concerning distancing and capacity. This led to a buildup of cases that we are still trying to address.

When we talk about backlogs, there really are two issues: an increase in the numbers of cases pending as well as the length of time a case takes. Both of those measures increased dramatically since the beginning of the pandemic, but it turns out that the increases in the number of cases pending as well as the time they take actually started before that, despite overall decreases in filings.

I would like to dive in a little deeper in some areas with you.

Criminal dockets

SELECTED ADDRESSES TO THE LEGISLATURE

- We have about 65% more cases pending now than before the pandemic primarily because of our inability to hold any jury trials for a significant period of time. Even though most cases resolve without actually having a trial, it generally does not happen until the trial is scheduled. Without trials being scheduled, far fewer cases are resolved.
- That increase in pending cases fluctuates a little but has held steady for about 2 years now.
- Significantly, the caseload is not evenly distributed across the types of cases. Although the caseload is up 65% overall,
  - Civil violations are actually down about 35%;
  - Misdemeanors are up about 60%;
  - Most importantly, the most serious cases – felonies – are up about 87%.

Obviously more serious felonies tend to take longer both to prepare for trial and to try. They may have more court events. They contribute more heavily to the backlog.

But, again, this trend started before the pandemic: despite modest decreases in overall criminal filings, felonies were an increasing portion of the cases filed before the pandemic. Failures to appear and continuance rates were increasing before the pandemic, again especially in felonies. Judges, prosecutors, and defense attorneys have been working hard to come up with fair and creative ways to dispose of cases, but additional conferences and appearances take additional judge and clerk time.

And it is not just felonies that have become more time consuming. Think of a typical OUI prosecution. When I started as a lawyer, the evidence consisted of a one-page report together with the results of a breath test. Now the reports are many pages, and with the use of body and cruiser cameras by law enforcement it takes far longer for prosecutors and defense counsel to review the evidence. It also takes longer to present the evidence in pretrial motions, with the judge now reviewing all the video. The trial takes longer because hours of video may be played for the jury – what used to be a half-day trial now takes one or one and a half days. Multiply that out by every case filed!

Other factors in complexity and delay include high rates of mental health and substance use disorders. The opioid epidemic and substance use disorders drive not only drug crimes but also crimes involving property and violence. Unless a full range of treatment resources are available both in the community and during incarceration, the cycle simply continues to repeat itself.

Significant mental health disorders are also adding to the complexity of the cases. Judges ordered three times as many mental health examinations in 2022 as we did in 2014. This means a longer pretrial wait while the evaluation is being done, and then additional proceedings once we have the result. Findings that defendants are incompetent to stand trial have more than tripled, even for misdemeanors.

A couple of other docket trends

The number of child protective cases brought by the Department of Health and Human Services was fairly flat between 2010 and 2017. Then, in 2018-2019 – before the pandemic – protective custody filings nearly doubled. The increased volume of protective custody cases has led to a 50% increase in the number of pending cases, and the amount of court time devoted to child protective cases, which has always been significant, is now about 75% higher than in 2010.

The average time to disposition in family cases was modestly increasing before the pandemic but has significantly increased since the pandemic. This leads to increasing numbers of cases pending, and families with children being left to wait longer periods of time for resolution of their living situations.

Numerous other changes have affected the time devoted to cases. Just a few examples: as a result of the foreclosure crisis, foreclosure cases typically now require trials, which may be short but must occur. Changed statutory procedures for debt-buyer cases require a judge to review every case upon filing. Electronic processes and remote proceedings are efficient for court users but not necessarily for the courts: it takes court clerks about 5 times as long to schedule mediation to be held remotely as for an in-person mediation.

Finally, one of our most pressing struggles is with the scarcity of constitutionally required counsel. All of us care deeply that the constitutional rights of the people who come before us are protected as they face criminal charges or the loss of their children. I know that you recognize the problem. It also affects Maine's court operations in many ways. Our clerks are spending hours and hours trying to find lawyers in cases rather than making a single phone call. Our trial courts shift operations on a regular basis to accommodate the needs of attorneys strained by their case load and spread out through many counties. This means increased use of Zoom, even when it is not otherwise effective. It means cases are continued, whether formally through motions or informally, because there is just too much for the attorneys to handle.

While this crisis is not directly "the court's problem," we are all interconnected in this justice system. The problem is multi-factorial, including an aging bar, shrinking rural practices, and not enough new attorneys entering the practice of law. And the lack of lawyers is felt not only in cases where attorneys are constitutionally required, but also in civil cases as well. Our civil legal services providers do what they can, but many people struggle to represent themselves in cases involving their families, housing, protection orders, and other critical needs. Indeed, in most family cases at least one of the parties is self-represented.

Budget Requests

I have gone into some detail to try to explain how the increased number of cases and the lengthier times to disposition were not created solely by the pandemic. Rather, the pandemic was the tipping point that unmasked the reality that even before 2020, the courts and judicial system were straining to keep up with the demand of cases. We are still struggling to provide appropriate security leading to courthouse closures. We continue to wrestle with the pandemic backlog. Courts are facing progressively complicated cases, new technology demands, overburdened and decreasing numbers of counsel to handle the caseload, and an increasingly frustrated public who also continue to struggle with the fallout from the pandemic.

Together with Amy Quinlan, our State Court Administrator, I have traveled around the state, from Fort Kent to York and Calais to South Paris, visiting our courthouses and the people who work there. I have talked with the judge so discouraged because she cannot make headway regardless of how many cases she jams into dockets or how late she works. I have seen that our clerks are working nights and weekends to try to catch up. I have listened to judges tell me how the light has gone out of the job for them, leading to some early retirements. Our technology folks are working day and night to respond to demand. I witness the marshals calmly responding to increasing agitation and mental health issues at entry screening. Judicial Branch employees are feeling the weightiness of a realization that no matter what we do, we cannot address the backlog. Frankly, it hurts my heart. For folks whose goal is public service and helping others, that is a crisis of confidence.

So what are we asking from you, the 131st Legislature? Our budget requests have focused on resources to address long-term staffing needs.

The Governor's budget includes a substantial number of new positions for the Judicial Branch, as well as general funding for some other existing positions. I should tell you that we actually proposed more new positions to try to stabilize operations. Specifically, our budget request is focused on operations: judges, clerks, marshals, electronic filing specialists, court technology assistants and the like. It also includes funding for increased facility operations, technology, and licensing costs.

With the support of the Governor, I am proposing to add four new judges, three in the District Court and one in the Superior Court, to allow us to handle more cases in a timely manner. Along with each judicial position, we must also add one clerk and one judicial marshal, because we can't move cases along in a courtroom without a clerk and a marshal working with the judge.

These requests were carefully thought out; they were not plucked from thin air. In addition to working hard internally to identify our greatest needs, last fall we asked the National Center for State Courts to collect data and analyze the work loads of our clerks and judges. They have reported that we are significantly under-resourced. We do not have the final written report, but their preliminary data shows that we actually need substantially more judges and clerks than we requested to staff our court system adequately. And that is just to continue at the pace we are going, without regard to the extra work we need to do to clear the backlog.

One other important point to mention about resources. Maine judges are among the lowest paid judges in the nation and have been for years. Maine ranks 51st in judicial salaries, when corrected for the cost of living – 48th in raw numbers. The 3% cost of living adjustment currently in statute is not enough to change that or even keep pace with inflation. I am asking for a modest salary increase for Maine judges to lift them from the bottom. Even with such an increase, Maine's judicial salaries will remain well below our peers in New England. This is a matter of equity for Maine's judges, but it is also necessary because of the salary compression we are experiencing across all positions. Our employees at every level are paid too little for their hard work, and this has led to significant problems with hiring and retaining qualified people, which puts additional strain on the system.

There are many important issues, and we can't do everything at once. Our requests go a long way toward addressing our most pressing needs. I am immeasurably grateful that the Governor has recognized the position the Judicial Branch has been in and has supported these requests, and I hope you will as well.

Odyssey

I would next like to update you on the status of Maine eCourts, the system known as Odyssey. Odyssey is a fully integrated electronic system for filing, docketing, and case management. Users can file electronically, be notified of court orders, and access documents remotely. In addition, it will be integrated with law enforcement systems, as our current system is, for bail, protection orders and the like.

Odyssey is an "off the shelf" product but one that, critically, can be configured to our needs and processes. Toward the end of 2020, we began accepting electronic filings for all civil and family matters cases except for protection order and civil violation cases in the Bangor District and Superior Courts and in the statewide Business and Consumer Docket. We had previously gone live in the Violations Bureau for all traffic cases statewide.

Unfortunately, the Bangor and Business Court implementation happened during the pandemic, which created even more obstacles to the already complex implementation process. Our IT Department was nothing short of heroic, trying to implement Maine eCourts while also trying to implement new technologies to equip us for remote hearings during the pandemic. Frankly, there were more hitches and issues than expected, and it was much harder on the clerks and judges than anyone anticipated. I cannot thank them enough for how hard they have been working on this project.

In any event, when I became Chief Justice, I became concerned about the number of problems we were encountering, and I wanted to make sure the implementation of Maine eCourts would succeed. At my urging we hired BerryDunn's justice systems consulting group to conduct a Point in Time Assessment of the Maine eCourts project. While work continued behind the scenes on programming, troubleshooting, integrations and the like, we paused any further roll-out or extension of the project in 2022 while we conducted the assessment. That has led to a governance reorganization, and we also hired BerryDunn to continue to work with the Judicial Branch as consultants on the project. In other words, we are setting the stage to maximize success in the next phases of the advancement of Odyssey.

As an aside, I can't help but note that we sometimes underestimate obstacles that aren't obvious. An example: Maine is the only court system in the country working on an Apple system – I work on a Mac laptop. The switch to Odyssey also means switching out all the hardware to PCs, and many of our courthouses simply don't have the wiring or physical space to support running 2 systems while we transition. I promise you no other state faced that problem in implementing electronic filing and case management systems!

So, where are we going? We have been working with the Department of Public Safety to ensure a smooth integration of Odyssey with the Metro switch, the system that moves protection orders, bail, warrants and the like out to law enforcement. Public Safety has expressed concern that they cannot be ready with their end of the integrated software, so we are focusing on implementing Odyssey for civil and family cases in additional courts. Our intent is to bring the family and civil case type package to Lewiston/Auburn later this year and then move to other implementations. We will keep the public informed of the changes to the system and provide information to help system users to navigate the system.

Successes

And now I want to highlight some successes, because it is far from being all gloom and doom. Some accomplishments to celebrate:

- For too long people who have walked into our courtrooms have felt excluded because they look different than the portraits on the walls. We are working hard at increasing diversity and inclusion and decreasing implicit bias in the Judicial Branch through educational programming and outreach. For example, we have a new initiative which started in Lewiston to hire court interns born in Somalia. (Our first intern, Amran Osman, is with us today and I ask that she stand and be recognized.) There is now a standing court committee to address these issues; we expect to engage more broadly with our justice partners to expand efforts out into the communities we serve and to try to become a much more diverse and inclusive organization.
- We have increased training for our judges in the use of problem-solving courts, such as treatment courts and veterans' courts, to help address the root of the problems that have resulted in the criminal activity.
- We have expanded the use of mental health dockets, to try to better address the significant mental health challenges in our criminal dockets.
- We have improved public court access using Zoom and hybrid appearances, language access, physical access, accommodations for those with hearing loss or other disabilities, and improvement of forms that make document preparation easier.
- We are now using the ShareFile platform for email transmission of filings in criminal cases and are prepared to use it to provide remote access to jury questionnaires.
- We developed a system of email processes for protection orders so that people in need of protection need not make their way to the courthouse.

- Our Violations Bureau is now on a 100% Zoom platform, with the presiding judges based in Lewiston, so that those wishing to challenge a civil traffic violation can do so remotely without having to travel to court.
- We partnered with The Opportunity Alliance to develop and offer information sessions for parents involved in the child welfare system; sessions led by a parent with experience in the child welfare system.
- We continued through the pandemic to offer an annual educational conference to professionals who work in the child welfare system. The 2022 conference focused on trauma-informed practices. Next week will be the first in-person conference since 2020; the focus is on fostering a deeper understanding of the communities the child welfare system aims to serve.
- We are developing resources, practices, and policies to better support self-represented litigants and court users and facilitate their engagement in their court proceedings. New materials include videos about the court process and handouts that explain how to start certain common case types.
- In August 2022, in partnership with Home to Home and the Maine Coalition to End Domestic Violence, we were awarded a Justice for Families federal grant of $550,000 to expand the availability of affordable supervised visitation services in Maine and to provide domestic violence training to court-based and court-related personnel who work with families with a history of domestic and sexual violence.
- And, last but far from least: the new York Judicial Center in Biddeford brings the District Courts in Springvale, York, and Biddeford as well as the Superior Court in Alfred all together to one location. It is a modern, fully accessible, and energy efficient facility that will help us realize operational efficiency by not having to duplicate clerk's offices, facility operations, and security screening. We expect to open the building for court business during the month of May, and to have a grand opening for the public in the beginning of June. I hope to see many of you there. And, most importantly, words not often said: the project is on time and on budget.

Conclusion

I could go on, but from what I have said I hope it is apparent that we are working hard to stabilize Maine's court system and increase transparency, communication, and collaboration with our justice partners. And that is perhaps the most hopeful message of all: working together, we can improve the essential services we offer to our citizens. We can stop the erosion of public trust in our institutions. Together, we can ensure that everyone has confidence that our justice system will serve the public interest, protect individual rights, and provide meaningful access to justice for all of Maine's people.

Thank you.
