SECTION I

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Maine State Harness Racing Commission ("Commission") was established in 1935 as the State Racing Commission. It received its present name in 1951, and in 1973, it was placed within the Department of Agriculture. Over the last 25 years, the 'Commission's responsibilities have expanded to include drug testing, off-track betting, simulcasting, and—most significantly—collecting in-state wagering revenue. That revenue is then redistributed to support Maine-bred racehorses, commercial tracks, harness racing purses, off-track betting, and Maine's agricultural fairs.

The Commission employs an Executive Director, a Program Director, a half-time Office Associate II, a half-time Resource Administrator, one State Steward (seasonal), and a Racing Technician. Two additional intermittent State Steward positions, one Veterinarian position, and one additional Racing Technician position are currently vacant. Commission staff perform oversight, financial management, licensing, and more.

There were a few setbacks to Maine harness racing in 2023. Due to cost factors, the Union Fair decided not to hold harness racing for the first time in 120 years. Midcoast OTB closed its doors in June of this year following the death of its sole owner. The Sire Stakes program had its lowest number of eligible horses in history. Maine has a minimal number of breeding farms, which may jeopardize the industry's future. Changes to the program, which may require changes to state law, would likely be needed in coming years to reinvigorate Maine breeding.

On a brighter note, planning for a new harness track in southern Maine is ongoing. Additionally, fiber optic cable has been installed at all Maine fairs hosting harness racing, enhancing the quality of the signal that goes out to the world for wagering. Infrastructure investments like these are examples of Maine taking the necessary steps to secure added economic benefits from the sport. The Commission welcomes the support and ideas of the Maine Legislature to continue to enhance harness racing in Maine.

SECTION II—STATUTORY

A. ENABLING AND AUTHORIZING LAWS

5 MRS Section 12004-G, subsection 32 authorizes the establishment of the Maine State Harness Racing Commission as a public policy board.

8 MRS Chapter 11 (Sections 261 through 300) provides regulatory oversight authority to the Commission for a variety of functions necessary to the operation and integrity of harness racing, including but not limited to licensing of participants; veterinary supervision of race horses; racing oversight by the state stewards and other track officials; regulation of off-track betting facilities; human and horse drug testing; and financial management of wagering revenue that benefits the industry.

B. DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAMS ADMINISTERED BY THE MAINE STATE HARNESS RACING COMMISSION

1. Licensing of participants, officials, tracks, and off-track betting; granting of race dates

Statutory Basis

8 MRS Sections 263-A, 268-271, 275-A through 275-O, 279 through 279-D, 283

Objectives

The Commission is charged with a range of licensing functions relating to harness racing and its participants. This program establishes standards to ensure that the industry operates in a manner that fosters fairness, integrity, transparency, and professionalism. For instance, drivers and trainers must achieve minimum competency standards before qualifying for a license, and horse owners must provide proof of adequate liability insurance. Similarly, the Presiding and Associate Track Judges must fulfill minimum continuing education standards to qualify for licensing. In addition, this program sets minimum age restrictions, allows for the completion of background checks, and requires assurance of financial capabilities for all participants.

Tracks and off-track betting facilities must submit detailed applications so the Commission can determine whether facilities are in good operating condition and have the financial means to operate responsibly. Facilities that fall under either category are subject to scheduled and random oversight by the Commission. In addition, race dates are assigned to licensed facilities in a manner that most benefits the entire industry.

The Commission has the right to refuse, revoke, or suspend a licensee found violating Commission statutes or rules or otherwise not in good standing in other racing jurisdictions.

Future Goals

- Create an online self-service portal for licensees.

2. Oversight and enforcement at harness racing facilities and pari-mutuel betting facilities

Statutory Basis

8 MRS Sections 268 - 272, 275-A through 275-E, 275-N, 277 - 279, 279-C

Objectives

The objective of the oversight and enforcement program is to ensure that licensed facilities are in good condition, are operating professionally, and are adhering to pertinent laws. At all races, qualified judges and stewards approved and licensed by the Commission are present and charged with enforcing applicable laws and otherwise upholding the integrity of the sport. These officials must submit written reports documenting their activities, the conduct of the race meetings, and their decisions to the Commission.

Future Goals

- Requiring that the State Stewards in the State of Maine be accredited by the Race Officials Accreditation Program (ROAP) and the State Stewards act as the Presiding Judge at all harness meets.

3. Drug testing of horses, drivers, and licensees

Statutory Basis

8 MRS Sections 279-A and 279-E

Objectives

This program aims to ensure that horses are not racing with prohibited substances in their system. Once a horse has been checked into the paddock, trainers of horses participating in any race must present their horse for testing—either pre- or post-race—at the discretion of the State Veterinarian, Presiding Judge, or State Steward. The winning horse of each race is always tested along with any other selected horses.

To provide a safe environment in the paddock and on the track, random or scheduled drug/alcohol testing of any licensee (i.e., a driver, trainer, groom, starting gate driver, or any licensee who enters the paddock) is permitted at the discretion of the State Steward. In addition, whenever drivers, judges, and starting gate drivers participate on a race day, they must submit to a breath analyzer test.

Future Goals

- Conduct more pre-race testing on horses to detect the presence of drugs that may be undetectable after a race.
- Obtain more out-of-competition blood samples on racehorses to 1) increase oversight of race professionals and 2) detect the presence of "blood doping" substances that are undetectable on race days.
- For human testing, research drug testing options for 1) instant tests and 2) different labs to send the drug tests that would provide results more quickly.
- Research and establish standard referee labs to accelerate the split sample process.

4. Collection and disbursement of wagering revenue

Statutory Basis

8 MRS Sections 272-B and 286 - 300

Objectives

The Commission collects and deposits revenue from wagering fees and licensing revenue and then distributes the money by prescribed statutory formulas. Wagering revenue is generated at racetracks, interstate and intrastate off-track betting facilities, and slot machines at 'Maine's two licensed gambling facilities.

The accounts where wagering money is deposited include the 'Commission's Operating Fund, the Agricultural Fair Stipend Fund, the Sire Stakes Fund, the Harness Racing Promotional Board Fund, the Purse Supplement Fund, the Fund to Support Racing at Commercial Tracks, and the Off-Track Betting Simulcast Fund. These funds are crucial for supplying revenue to facilities related to the harness racing industry and 'Maine's Agricultural Fairs.

Future Goals

- Modernize the 'Commission's technology capacity to streamline the submission, management, and distribution of revenues.

5. Promotion and support for the Maine Standardbred racehorse breeding industry

Statutory Basis

8 MRSA Sections 281, 281-A and 288

Objectives

The Commission is charged with various responsibilities intended to ""encourage and promote the breeding of a strain of Maine Standardbreds"." Those responsibilities include registration of in-state stallions, registration of in-state two- and three-year-old Standardbred racehorses, establishment and oversight of dedicated races for Maine-bred horses (referred to as the ""Sire Stakes""), and collection and disbursements of wagering revenue to promote Sire Stakes racing and to supplement the Sire Stakes purses.

Future Goals

- Collaborate with the industry to increase the number and quality of Maine-bred racehorses and to enhance the popularity of the Sire Stakes program.

Organizational Structure

D. COMPLIANCE WITH FEDERAL AND STATE HEALTH AND SAFETY LAWS

The Commission takes proactive measures to ensure compliance with all federal and state health and safety laws and certifies that it will comply with all federal standards relating to nondiscrimination, which include, but are not limited to (a) Title VI of the Civil Rights Act—prohibits discrimination based on race, color or national origin, (b) Title XI of the Education Amendments of 1972—prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex, (c) Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973—prohibits discrimination on the basis of handicaps, and (d) The Age Discrimination Act of 1975—prohibits discrimination on the basis of age.

As a unit of the Department of Agriculture, Conservation, and Forestry, the Commission participates in safety compliance inspections conducted by the Maine Bureau of Labor Standards. Work site evaluations have been performed for all employees using video display terminals to provide specific recommendations to enhance employee safety, comfort, and efficiency. Ergonomic workstations have been obtained, when necessary, for all employees to implement the recommendations contained in the work site evaluations.

E. FINANCIAL SUMMARY

The Commission collects and redistributes wagering revenue from three sources: the Bangor Racino, the Oxford Casino, and regular and exotic wagers from licensed in-state pari-mutuel harness racing wagering facilities. Annually, $13.5 million is received from these revenue sources, which is redistributed according to statutory formulas to provide financial support to racing purses, Maine-bred racehorses (Sire Stakes), commercial tracks, off-track betting, harness racing promotion, and agricultural fairs.

Dedicated wagering and licensing revenues have wholly funded the Commission since the end of 2008 after the harness racing industry worked with the Maine Legislature to replace the General Fund revenue on which it was partially dependent.

In State Fiscal Year 2023, the Commission expended $13,618,760 million for operational purposes, with $1,173,370 of the expended funds allocated between personal services and contractual services for drug testing.

J. EMERGING ISSUES

The Maine harness racing industry faces several critical challenges that threaten the industry's viability in both the short and long term. Many of these issues are interrelated and generally arise from a reduction in the percent of 'Maine's population operating farms. As a result, agriculture and livestock are not a part of daily life for most Mainers. Thus, there is a diminishing knowledge and attraction to large animals like racehorses and the associated sport and profession. Likewise, other forms of available entertainment options are plentiful, which creates intense competition for the 'public's dollars and attention.

Horse supply is reaching a crisis stage. Owning racehorses has become much more expensive than when most people lived on or near farms. Furthermore, all farms are experiencing the effects of increasing costs of agricultural inputs like feed and bedding. In addition, harness racing wagering has decreased, which reduces the purses. These factors have discouraged many horse owners and would-be horse owners from continuing to invest in the sport. When there are fewer horses to race, it results in smaller fields, which are less appealing to the wagering public. The Harness Racing Commission voted to reduce racing at fairs by one day in 2023 to alleviate the horse shortage. The intent is to have fewer race-backs with a day off midweek at each venue.

Breeding program in need of a change. Maine Standardbred breeding is at an all-time low. Without changes to the breeding program, it will likely decline further. This is not beneficial to Maine harness racing or an economic benefit to the state.

Harness racing wagering has experienced a precipitous decline. There are many ways one can choose to be entertained today and many ways to wager money. Online betting (such as fantasy football), casinos containing slots, card games, etc., now present intense competition for wagering dollars. For those who remain interested in wagering on harness racing, there are now various ways to bet, including by telephone, the internet, and off-track betting facilities. This results in fewer people visiting tracks, which in turn takes ancillary income away from the tracks and lends to the appearance of a bygone pastime.

Small fairs are struggling. Some of 'Maine's agricultural fairs are struggling to break even on the harness racing portion of the program. Many of the factors cited above that affect the popularity of harness racing and wagering on the sport, combined with the increasingly high overhead associated with hosting harness racing meets, leave some agricultural fairs questioning the financial wisdom of continuing with the sport. In 2023, Union Fair decided not to host harness racing for the first time in 120 years. Competition with commercial tracks may also be a factor in some cases.
