Report by the 2021 Apportionment Commission
To the 130th Maine State Legislature

PART I

This is the Report by the 2021 Apportionment Commission to the 130th Maine Legislature. Pursuant to Joint Order H.P. 4 of the 130th Legislature, and the Constitution of Maine, Article IV, Part Third, Section I-A, the Speaker of the House organized the Commission and convened the first meeting of the Commission on May 27, 2021. At that first meeting, the Commission elected a Chair and proceeded to discuss a work plan for carrying out its responsibilities.

As a first order of business, the Commission voted to petition to join an original action before the Maine Supreme Judicial Court, SJC-21-4. That action, brought by the Attorney General on behalf of Legislative Leadership, sought to extend the deadlines set in the Maine Constitution for the Apportionment Commission, the Legislature, and, if necessary, the Maine Supreme Judicial Court, to complete the 2021 apportionment of the House, Senate and Congressional Districts.

The Maine Constitution, Article IV, Part First, Section 3; Article IV, Part Second, Section 2; and Article IX, Section 24:

(1) required the Apportionment Commission to complete its plans for apportionment of the House, Senate, and Congressional Districts by June 1, 2021;

(2) required the Legislature to enact the Commission plans, or apportionment plans of its own, by June 11, 2021; and

(3) required that if the Legislature failed to enact an apportionment plan for the House, Senate, or Congressional Districts by June 11, 2021, within 60 days thereafter, the Supreme Judicial Court shall make an apportionment of any of the House, Senate, or Congressional Districts for which the Legislature had not enacted a plan.

To assure that the County Commissioner Districts were apportioned at the same time the Commission was doing its other apportionment work, the Maine Constitution, Article IX, Section 25(1)(C), required that the Apportionment Commission submit a plan for apportioning the County Commissioner Districts to the Legislature by June 1, 2021.

Action to extend the constitutional apportionment deadlines was necessary because the U.S. Bureau of the Census population data on which apportionment decisions are based, usually available early in the year (2021) after the Census has been conducted (2020), was not anticipated to be available until mid-August 2021, due to data collection challenges caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Supreme Judicial Court granted the Commission's petition to join the action of Legislative Leadership seeking to extend the constitutional deadlines. By Order of July 19, 2021, the Court extended the constitutional deadlines to set numbers of days after the Census data was received by the State. The Census data to support apportionment was received August 12, 2021. As a result, the Apportionment Commission's deadline to complete its apportionment plans is September 27, 2021, the Legislature's deadline to enact House, Senate, and Congressional District apportionment plans is October 7, 2021, and the Court's deadline to complete any apportionment plans not adopted by the Legislature in November 10, 2021.

An examination of the 2020 United States Census data, released August 12, 2021, indicates that Maine's House, Senate, Congressional, and some County Commissioner districts require reapportionment. As was the case after the 2010 Census, as reported in the 2013 Commission Report, the population of the southern and western areas of the State has grown at a faster rate than the northern and eastern areas of the State, and in some communities, there have been declines in population. These population shifts resulted in significant population deviations that were outside of the generally accepted thresholds for apportionment.

History of Apportionment in Maine

The results of the 1960 Census proved particularly significant in the development of law relating to equal representation and districting requirements. Nationally the 1960 Census results reflected dramatic shifts in populations resulting from economic, social, and demographic changes during and in the decade after World War II, notably, the shifts from central cities to the suburbs, and from rural to metropolitan areas, and the "baby boom" that accelerated population growth numbers in areas where population was growing the fastest. The Census data thus identified dramatic differences in populations and thus representativeness of single member districts for the U.S. House of Representatives and for many state legislative districts. In Maine, the 1960 Census resulted in loss of our Third Congressional District, requiring reapportionment into two districts for the 1962 election and thereafter.

Nationally, significant litigation was initiated, challenging single member districts with very different populations as violating constitutional rights of equal protection and equal representation of those in districts with much larger populations than other, similarly represented districts. Beginning with Baker v. Carr, 369 U.S. 186 (1962), applied in a series of opinions, Reynolds v. Sims, 377 U.S. 533 (1964); Mahan v. Howell, 410 U.S. 315 (1973); Gaffney v. Cummings, 412 U.S. 735 (1973); and Brown v. Thompson, 462 U.S. 835 (1983), the U.S. Supreme Court had held that Congressional Districts, state legislative districts, and other election districts must be drawn so that populations do not differ widely from district to district.

Anticipating the need to meet the constitutionally required standards, the Legislature, in 1966, drafted a proposed constitutional amendment to Art. IV, Pt. 2, §§ 1-4 that would (1) authorize a Senate of not less than 30 nor more than 40 Senators,¹ (2) have districts conform “as near as may be to county lines,” (3) with each Senate district to have as close to a median number of 30,000 inhabitants as possible, but (4) “in order to follow county and municipal boundaries,” deviation from this figure was allowed so that the smallest district shall not have less than 27,000 inhabitants, and the largest district shall not have more than 33,000 inhabitants, based on the most recent Federal census. Opinion of the Justices, 216 A.2d 651, 653 (Me. 1966). The redistricting would be done by the Legislature convening in 1967, and then in 1971 and “every tenth year thereafter.” Id.

The Legislature requested an Opinion of the Justices as to whether this proposed standard for apportionment of the Senate was constitutional. Id. 654. The Court responded that: “In our opinion the permitted deviation of 10% from the median number of inhabitants for each senatorial district is within constitutional standards.” Id. 645-655. The 1966 opinion in effect approved a potential 22% difference between the 27,000 population of the most overrepresented district and the 33,000 population of the most underrepresented district.

Subsequently, in an appeal of Legislatively approved reapportionments, In re 1983 Legislative Apportionment of House, Senate, and Congressional Districts, 469 A.2d 819 (Me. 1983), the Court modified the 1966 opinion to hold that an “aggregate deviation” of 10% or less (5% on either side of the median size) would be presumptively proper, but a “plan with a larger aggregate deviation creates a prima facie case of discrimination that must be justified by the state.” Id. 326. The opinion then (i) approved an 8.153% aggregate deviation in population of Maine Senate Districts as presumptively proper, and (ii) found that a 12.72% aggregate deviation in Maine House Districts was proven to be the product of the Legislature’s implementation of a “rational state policy of respecting municipal boundaries as required by the Maine Constitution.” Id. 828-829.

Turning back to 1966, the proposed constitutional amendment creating an apportionment process was adopted. After requesting an Opinion of the Justices that, before the 1983 opinion, approved a 20% difference in district populations, Opinion of the Justices, 231 A.2d 104, 105-106 (Me. 1967), the Legislature could not agree on the apportionment of the Senate. Pursuant to Me. Const. Art. IV, Pt. 2, § 2, the Court was required, for the first time, to make a reapportionment. It did so in Apportionment of Senate, 233 A.2d 137 (Me. 1967). The Court apportioned the State into 32 Senate districts, with the largest, District 32, Washington County with a population of 32,908, and the smallest, District 14, four precincts in Lewiston and 10 surrounding towns in Androscoggin County with a population of 27,121. Id.

The Senate reapportionment opinion was amended in 1968 to add the Penobscot Indian Reservation to District 27. Apportionment of Senate, 239 A.2d 688 (Me. 1968). The population of the Reservation had been included in the District 27 population count, but the Reservation had not been listed among the political subdivisions included in the district. Id.

In 1969, Art. IV, Pt. 2, § 1 of the Maine Constitution was amended to specify, as it does today, that the Senate have an odd number of districts, between 31 and 35. Amendment CX.

Following the 1970 Census, and after unsuccessful efforts by the Legislature to reapportion the Maine House of Representatives and the Maine Senate, the Supreme Judicial Court issued advisory opinions warning the Legislature of problems with the reapportionment process. Opinion of the Justices, 283 A.2d 234 (Me. 1971) (Senate); Opinion of the Justices, 307 A.2d 198 (Me. 1973) (House). Thereafter, the Court proceeded to make the apportionments. In re Apportionment of Senate, 287 A.2d 421 (Me. 1972); In re Apportionment of House of Representatives, 315 A.2d 211, amended, 316 A.2d 508 (Me. 1974).

Changes in the Maine Constitution and Maine law in 1975 authorized creation of the bipartisan Apportionment Commission to advise the Legislature on reapportionment, and also provided new substantive standards to guide the Commission and the Legislature in formulating apportionment plans. Me. Const. Art. IV, pt. 1, §§ 1-3; Art. IV, pt. 2, §§ 1-2; Art. IV, pt. 3, § 1-A. Included in the new standards was a requirement that Apportionment Plans receive a 2/3 vote of the House and the Senate to be approved. Later the Constitution was amended to direct the Apportionment Commission to address Congressional Districts, Art. IX, § 24, and County Commissioner Districts of the 16 counties, Art. IX, § 25.

The 1980 Census was the first Census to be addressed by the Apportionment Commission and the Legislature acting under the new more detailed standards in the Maine Constitution. And that Census report presented a particular challenge. Between 1970 and 1980, Maine's population increased 13.2%, the largest population increase in the Twentieth Century, with more than half, 57%, of this increase consisting of persons who had moved to Maine from other states.² In contrast, between 2010 and 2020, according to the August 12, 2021 Census report, Maine's population increased by only 2.6%, from 1,328,361 persons to 1,362,359 persons.

² Maine: Fifty Years of Change 1940-1990, joint publication of The University of Maine, the Maine State Planning Office, and the Maine Department of Labor (1983) pp. 30, 43-50. The 1983 Fifty Years of Change report had noted that according to the Census Bureau, Maine's population was 60% rural in 1940 and had changed to 48% urban (or 52% rural) by 1980, and predicted that trend to continue. Just ten years later, in 1993, the Commission to Study the Future of Maine's Court's report, New Dimensions for Justice, at 7, noted that the recession at the start of the 1990's had brought Maine's population growth to a halt, and slower growth, or no growth, was predicted at least through 2010. The 2010 Census reported that Maine's population was 61% rural, a percentage point higher than in 1940.

From 1980 forward, after the Census report, the judiciary has been required to have some involvement with the reapportionment process, either by (1) itself doing reapportionments when the Legislature was unable to make the necessary reapportionment; see In re 2003 Apportionment of the State Senate & United States Congressional Districts, 2003 ME 86, 827 A.2d 844 amended by 2004 ME 55, 846 A.2d 995; In re 1993 Apportionment, No. SJC-93-229 (Me. June 29, 1993) (apportioning the House, Senate, & Congressional Districts);³ or (2) hearing appeals from reapportionment plans approved by the Legislature, see In re 2003 Legislative Apportionment of the House of Representatives, 2003 ME 81, 827 A.2d 810; In re 1983 Legislative Apportionment of House, Senate, & Cong. Dists., 469 A.2d 819, 827 (Me. 1983).

After the 2010 census, the only issue reaching the courts involved an effort to have the Congressional Districts reapportioned the first year after the Census rather than the third year after the Census, as had been the practice. After a federal court action, those issues were resolved by the Legislature, P.L. 2011, ch. 466. See DeSena v. LePage, 847 F. Supp. 2d 207 (D. Me. 2012) (three judge court).

On August 31, 2011, the Apportionment Commission issued a divided report regarding reapportionment of the Congressional Districts. However, the Legislature subsequently reached agreement on reapportionment of the Congressional Districts. 21-A M.R.S. § 1205. Thus, reapportionment of Congressional Districts did not reach the Court. In 2013, based on a unanimous Apportionment Commission plan developed over six months of Commission work, the Legislature reached agreement on reapportionment of the State Senate, 21-A M.R.S. § 1203-B, the House of Representatives, 21-A M.R.S. § 1204-B, and the County Commissioner Districts, 30-A M.R.S. § 66-B. The Census data on which the 2013 report was based had been available since early 2011.

The Maine Constitution now requires that reapportionments occur and sets specific deadlines in which the actions by the Apportionment Commission, the Legislature, and, if necessary, by the Supreme Judicial Court, are to occur in the first year after the Census. The Legislature must approve reapportionment plans by a 2/3 majority or the reapportionment task falls to the Court. In 2021, as discussed above, because of Covid-19 related delays in the Census reporting of Census tract information essential for reapportionment, it became necessary to petition the Maine Supreme Judicial Court to seek delays in the deadlines for reapportionment of House, Senate, County Commissioner, and Congressional districts.

The 2021 Apportionment Process

Over the 6 and ½ week period after the Census Bureau data was received, Commission members, support staff, and consultants, with hard work, creativity, and outreach to numerous individuals and groups, have developed draft district descriptions and maps to accomplish the redistricting objectives established by law. The work is highly technical and detail oriented, requiring significant skill and comfort with use of digital applications to translate the great volume of Census data into district descriptions and maps to support Maine elections.

Much of the effort to develop draft district descriptions and maps has been done by Commission members, staff and consultants working through the respective Democratic and Republican Caucus Offices, with frequent and friendly exchanges between the Caucus Offices as district descriptions were developed, ideas were exchanged, and differences were resolved. Commission members frequently worked with the Caucus Offices in person and remotely. The staff members and consultants who spent significant time at the Commission or Caucus offices and also worked remotely include: David Emery, Greg Olson, Julia Brown, Shawn Roderick, Kerri Withee, Brian Colleran, Lydia-Rose Kesich, Emery Younger, Susan Pinette, and Stefan Hankin. The Commission also received important support and assistance from Deputy Secretary of State Julie Flynn, head of the Elections Division, and Assistant Attorney General Jonathon Bolton. In addition to this report, the Commission will supply the Secretary of State with boundary descriptions, drafted maps and digital shapefiles to support the Elections Division work to set descriptions for areas served by each polling place and State Election Ballots appropriate for each of sometimes over-lapping districts.

Before the Census data was received, the Commission met on 2 occasions to discuss plans and schedules for Commission action once the Census Data was received. Since the Census data was received the Commission met on 6 occasions to discuss proposed plans and criteria for reapportioning Maine's House, Senate, Congressional, and County Commissioner Districts and to receive and consider public comments and suggestions.

In the apportionment process, as required by law, the Commission has given top priority to the constitutional principle of one person-one vote, but it also considered other criteria stated in the Maine Constitution, laws, and court opinions.

Under the one person-one vote standard, the ideal or median population for a House District is 9,022, for a Senate District it is 38,925, and for a Congressional District it is 681,180 – half of the State’s 1,362,359 population. The median size varies by county for County Commissioner Districts. Except for Congressional Districts, where United States Supreme Court opinions authorize only de minimis deviations from precise mathematical equality, precedents indicate that district size deviations of up to 5% above and below the median are presumptively permissible. Population differences of more than 10% from the least populous district to the most populous district must be well justified to meet court approval. There are no population differences in excess of 10% in any of the 4 apportionment plans recommended in this report.

Redistricting Criteria

The Apportionment Commission applied the following criteria in recommending the apportionment plans.

1. Equal Population

The population deviation between electoral districts shall not exceed that deemed permissible by the United States Supreme Court and by the Maine Supreme Judicial Court applying the 14th Amendment, Section 1 of the United States Constitution, and Art. I, §§ 1, 2, and 6-A, and Art. II, § 1 of the Maine Constitution. See Kirkpatrick v. Preisler 394 U.S. 526 (1969); Karcher v. Daggett, 462 U.S. 725 (1983); In re 2003 Legislative Reapportionment of the House of Representatives, 2003 ME 81, ¶ 10, 827 A.2d 810:

The foremost principle guiding reapportionment is the requirement that each person receive equal access to representation. See Chapman v. Meier, 420 U.S. 1, 22 (1975). Any apportionment plan must comply with Federal Constitutional mandates, including the “one person, one vote” principal of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. See id. at 23 (acknowledging “that some leeway in the equal population requirement should be afforded states in devising their legislative reapportionment plans”). Thus, state legislatures must “make an honest and good faith effort to construct districts . . . as nearly of equal population as is practicable.” In re 1983 Legislative Apportionment, 469 A.2d at 826 (quoting Reynolds v. Sims, 377 U.S. 533, 577 (1964)).

2. Compactness and Contiguity

“Each . . . District shall be formed of contiguous and compact territory and shall cross political subdivision lines the least number of times necessary to establish as nearly as practicable equally populated districts. Whenever the population of a municipality entitles it to more than one district, all whole districts shall be drawn within municipal boundaries. Any population remainder within the municipality shall be included in a district with contiguous territory and shall be kept intact.” Me. Const. Art. IV, pt. 1, § 2 (House); Art. IV, pt. 2, § 2 (Senate). See similar requirements in Art. IX, § 24 (Congressional Districts) and Art. IX, § 25 (County Commissioner Districts).

“When reapportioning districts, where possible, the . . . Apportionment Commission shall attempt to form functionally contiguous and compact territories. For purposes of this section, a ‘functionally contiguous and compact territory’ is one that facilitates representation by minimizing impediments to travel within the district. Impediments to travel include, but are not limited to, physical features such as mountains, rivers, oceans and discontinued roads or lack of roads. The commission shall recognize that all political subdivision boundaries are not of equal importance and give weight to the interests of local communities when making district boundary decisions.” 21-A M.R.S. § 1206-A. All districts must be of adjoining territory. However, contiguity of legal boundaries by water is permissible. See 2003 Legislative Apportionment of House of Representatives, 2003 ME 81, 827 A.2d 810.

Due to Maine’s population demographics and geography, and the important and unique roles of municipalities and counties in the political process, including the administration of elections, any apportionment process must use reasonable efforts to protect the integrity of municipal and county boundaries. See 2013 Apportionment Commission Report, pp. 4-5.

Maine municipal boundaries were not drawn on square grids like municipal boundaries in the Plains States. Maine boundaries were set by meandering stream beds, valleys, shorelines, and trails – some still in existence, some long gone. Placing several municipalities together to create a district meeting constitutionally mandated one person one vote standards, while protecting the integrity of municipal and county boundaries, in the Maine geography, can result in some strange looking districts. Such districts result not from any improper motivation to advantage one group or another, but from respect for the constitutional and statutory obligations incident to the apportionment process.

3. Displacement

Per the criteria stated in the Maine Supreme Judicial Court's 2003 Apportionment Order, and the 2013 Apportionment Commission Report, reapportionment should attempt to avoid displacing voters and municipalities from their historical districts to the extent possible. The avoidance of disruption allows communities to maintain their existing lines of accountability and cooperation and minimizes confusion for voters and local election officials.

4. Geographic Size and Travel Impediments

As stated in 21-A M.R.S. § 1206-A, and the Maine Supreme Judicial Court's 2003 Apportionment Order, the reapportionment process must consider geographic size as a factor and attempt to minimize the travel burdens created by geographically large districts to the extent practicable.

5. District Description and Mapping Preferences to Avoid Confusion

In addition to Constitutional and Statutory requirements and guidance from Maine and U.S. Supreme Court opinions, the Commission identified certain preferences that are important in redistricting to minimize confusion of election officials and voters, particularly by minimizing the instances where, at a single municipal polling place, two or more State election ballots may be required to be used. Those redistricting preferences, not necessarily stated in order of priority, are:

- A. Keep Districts As Compact As Possible,
- B. Keep Communities of Interest Together As Much As Possible,
- C. Avoid Splitting Municipalities As Much As Possible,
- D. Cross County Lines When Necessary To Avoid Splitting Municipalities,
- E. Keep Smaller Districts Within Larger Districts As Much As Possible.

Achievement of preferences, while a goal, is not always possible because of the requirement that districts be relatively equal in population.

Apportionment Plan Approvals

The Apportionment Plans for the House, the Senate, the Congressional, and the County Commissioner Districts were each approved by a separate recorded vote of the Apportionment Commission, all Commissioners, in each instance, voting in the Affirmative to adopt each plan.

PART II

Apportionment Plan for the Maine Congressional Districts

In apportioning Maine's two Congressional Districts, the Commission utilized the 2020 U.S. Census population figure of 1,362,359 for the State of Maine. Half of that number, the median population for a Congressional District, is 681,179.5, rounded up to 681,180. The Congressional Districts recommended by the Commission would result in the 2nd District having a population of 1 person more than the 1st District, well within the very narrow population differences for Congressional Districts allowed by the courts.

Further, respecting the directives that municipalities and counties be divided the fewest times possible and that "reapportionment should attempt to avoid displacing voters and municipalities from their historical districts to the extent possible," 15 of Maine's 16 counties remain entirely within one district or the other. And, within Kennebec County, the only county divided between Congressional Districts in this and the last two apportionment processes, no municipalities are divided. Avoiding dividing municipalities while achieving near equal division of population necessarily results in lines dividing communities in the First District from communities in the Second District that track the meandering municipal boundaries set two centuries or more ago. These lines reflect no improper purpose, and are necessary to comply with the law.

The Commission recommends that the Congressional Districts be as follows:

1. First District. Population 681,179.

The First District consists of the counties of Cumberland, Knox, Lincoln, Sagadahoc, and York, and the following municipalities and areas within Kennebec County: Albion, Benton, China, Clinton, Litchfield, Pittston, Unity Township, Vassalboro, Waterville, West Gardiner, Windsor, Winslow.

2. Second District. Population 681,180.

The Second District consists of the counties of Androscoggin, Aroostook, Franklin, Hancock, Oxford, Penobscot, Piscataquis, Somerset, Waldo, and Washington, and the following municipalities and areas within Kennebec County: Augusta, Belgrade, Chelsea, Farmingdale, Fayette, Gardiner, Hallowell, Manchester, Monmouth, Mount Vernon, Oakland, Randolph, Readfield, Rome, Sidney, Vienna, Wayne, Winthrop.

PART III

Apportionment Plan for the Maine House of Representatives

In apportioning Maine's 151 House Districts, the Commission utilized the 2020 U.S. Census population figure of 1,362,359 for the State of Maine. The median or ideal district was determined to have a population of 9,022. A district population 5% above the median would be 9,473; a district 5% below the median would be 8,571.

Note that the House District numbers used here are for presentation purposes only and may not reflect the final numbers assigned to the Districts by the Legislature.

The Commission recommends that the Maine House Districts be as follows:

House District 1 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions and unorganized territories of Allagash, Ashland, Eagle Lake, Fort Kent, Garfield, Masardis, Nashville, New Canada, Northwest Aroostook, Portage Lake, St. Francis, St. John, Wallagrass, and Winterville.

House District 1 has a population of 8683 and a deviation from the median of -3.76%.

House District 2 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions of Frenchville, Grand Isle, Madawaska, Perham, Square Lake, St. Agatha, and Van Buren.

House District 2 has a population of 9130 and a deviation from the median of 1.19%.

House District 3 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions of Caswell, Connor, Cyr, Easton, Fort Fairfield, Hamlin, Limestone, New Sweden, Stockholm, Westmanland, and Woodland.

House District 3 has a population of 9246 and a deviation from the median of 2.48%.

House District 4 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions of Caribou, Wade, and Washburn.

House District 4 has a population of 9152 and a deviation from the median of 1.44%.

House District 5 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil division of Presque Isle.

House District 5 has a population of 8797 and a deviation from the median of -2.5%.

House District 6 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions and unorganized territories of Blaine, Bridgewater, Castle Hill, Central Aroostook, Chapman, Dyer Brook, Hammond, Hersey, Littleton, Mapleton, Mars Hill, Merrill, Monticello, Moro, Smyrna, and Westfield.

House District 6 has a population of 8732 and a deviation from the median of -3.22%.

House District 7 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions of Houlton, Linneus, Ludlow, New Limerick, and Oakfield.

House District 7 has a population of 8671 and a deviation from the median of -3.9%.

House District 8 consists of:

A. In Aroostook County, the minor civil divisions and unorganized territories of Amity, Bancroft, Crystal, Glenwood, Haynesville, Hodgdon, Island Falls, Macwahoc, Orient, Reed, Sherman, South Aroostook, and Weston; and

B. In Penobscot County, the minor civil divisions of Carroll, Drew, Kingman, Lakeville, Lee, Mattawamkeag, Prentiss, Springfield, Stacyville, Twombly Ridge, Webster, and Whitney; and

C. In Washington County, the minor civil divisions of Codyville, Danforth, Talmadge, Topsfield, Vanceboro, and Waite, and the following census blocks from the unorganized territory of North Washington:

PART IV

Apportionment Plan for the Maine Senate

The Maine Constitution indicates that the Maine Senate may be composed of an odd number of districts between 31 and 35. The Commission recommends no change in the present 35 number of Senate districts. The Commission plan for the 35 districts divides only 4 municipalities. (Technical corrections have been made to pp. 154, 156, 157, & 158.)

In apportioning Maine's 35 Senate Districts the Commission utilized the 2020 U.S. Census population figure of 1,362,359 for the State of Maine. The median or ideal district was determined to have a population of 38,925. A district population 5% above the median would be 40,871; a district 5% below the median would be 36,979. The districts recommended by the Commission range in population size from a low of 37,121 to a high of 40,798. The largest deviation above the median for the Senate plan is 4.81%, and the largest deviation below the median is - 4.63%.

The following chart depicts the population and deviation from the median population for each of the 35 Senate Districts.

PART V

Apportionment Plan for the Maine County Commissioner Districts

In apportioning Maine's County Commissioner Districts the Commission utilized the 2020 U.S. Census population figure for each county as the official figure for apportioning county populations. The ideal or median district population number varies from county to county depending on population and number of districts in each county. The Commission found that in 6 counties, while the population did change, the existing county commissioner districts were all within the acceptable 5% deviation above or below the median district population measured by the 2020 Census data. Accordingly, the Commission recommends that the County Commissioner Districts for Hancock, Kennebec, Lincoln, Oxford, Sagadahoc, and Washington Counties remain as described in 30-A M.R.S. § 66-B (2020).

County Populations, Commissioner Districts, Median District Population

| County | Population | Districts | Median Population |
|--------------|------------|----------------|-------------------|
| Androscoggin | 111,139 | 7 | 15,877 |
| Aroostook | 67,105 | 3 | 22,368 |
| Cumberland | 303,069 | 5 | 60,614 |
| Franklin | 29,456 | 3 ⁴ | 9,819 |
| Hancock | 55,478 | 3 | 18,493 |
| Kennebec | 123,642 | 3 | 41,214 |
| Knox | 40,607 | 3 | 13,536 |
| Lincoln | 35,237 | 3 | 11,746 |

⁴ There will be a referendum vote in Franklin County this November on a proposal to have five County Commissioner Districts in Franklin County.

| | | | |
|-------------|---------|---|--------|
| Oxford | 57,777 | 3 | 19,259 |
| Penobscot | 152,199 | 3 | 50,733 |
| Piscataquis | 16,800 | 3 | 5,600 |
| Sagadahoc | 36,699 | 3 | 12,233 |
| Somerset | 50,477 | 5 | 10,095 |
| Waldo | 39,607 | 3 | 13,202 |
| Washington | 31,095 | 3 | 10,365 |
| York | 211,972 | 5 | 42,394 |

The apportionments are listed by County below. The number at the start of each District listing corresponds to the number for the County listing in current 30-A M.R.S. § 66-B (2020). The Commission recommends that the Maine County Commissioner Districts be apportioned as follows:
