Definitions

Witness - Someone who we believe has some knowledge to support or to refute an allegation (May be a subject-matter expert (SME))

- Subject Someone against whom a non-criminal allegation is made
- Suspect Someone against whom a criminal * allegation is made
- Preponderance of Evidence Evidence which is of greater weight or more convincing than the evidence which is offered in opposition to it; that is, evidence which as a whole shows that the fact sought to be proved is more probable than not. Preponderance of the evidence may not be determined by the number of witnesses, but by the greater weight of all evidence.
- Substantiated Conclusion drawn at the close of an investigative inquiry or investigation when the preponderance of credible information suggests that the subject or suspect actually did what was alleged.
- Not substantiated Conclusion drawn at the close of an investigative inquiry or investigation when the preponderance of credible evidence suggests that the subject or suspect did not do what was alleged in the allegation.

Planning Tools for Organizing Investigations

- Investigation Plan
- Force Flow Diagram
- Evidence Matrix

Investigation Plan

- Formulate a plan of how you will obtain facts and information pertinent to the allegations you have received.
- At a minimum, your plan should include: a witness list, the interview questions, and the itinerary for when and where interviews will take place.
- The planning process begins with your assessment of the facts you must gather to substantiate or refute the fact that a violation of a standard occurred as alleged. This assessment occurs through a careful examination of the standard violated and the essential elements of that standard.
- You must determine where you go to gather those facts. Generally, this step involves deciding whom you must interview (witnesses) to gather and corroborate those facts and the questions you must ask to elicit the required information. You then develop a logical sequence for conducting the interviews. At this point, you also assess what documentary or physical evidence might be available that would contribute to your investigation.

Force-Field Diagram

- A force-field diagram for each allegation is an invaluable tool for graphically depicting the assigned weight of evidence, determining facts, and assessing the preponderance of evidence.
- Next, divide your evidence or, more specifically, facts into two groups:

(1) evidence that tends to support substantiating the allegation and

(2) evidence that tends to support not substantiating the allegation.

• The resulting columns of evidence and facts are then weighed and compared against the elements of proof to determine a preponderance of credible evidence.

Finding Allegation 1

• ALLEGATION 1: COL Brown conducted an adulterous relationship with his secretary in violation of Article 134, Uniform Code of Military Justice (UCMJ). Substantiated.

SYNOPSIS: An anonymous complainant alleged that COL Brown had an adulterous relationship with his secretary, Ms. Sallie Smith, Secretary, DPCA, FVS. Article 134, UCMJ, prohibited adultery. The elements of proof were [the incidence of] sexual intercourse, [one or both were] married, and the conduct [was prejudicial to] good order and discipline. Ms. Smith testified that she and COL Brown had an adulterous relationship during March and April 2005. Other witnesses testified they believed the two were having an adulterous relationship because they saw them kissing, because of their "unusually familiar" behavior and demeanor, and because they occasionally arrived at work together when COL Brown's wife was out of town. Motel receipts and registration slips indicated COL Brown registered for a double room at the Notel Motel in Lynchburg, Virginia, with "Mrs. Brown" on 21 March, 27 March, and 15 April 2005. A witness saw COL Brown with a woman in the motel lobby on those dates. COL Brown denied the allegation. COL Brown testified that his wife, Jenny Brown, was out of town during March and April 2005. COL Brown testified that he stayed in the motel occasionally to avoid the stress of being in his house by himself and that the registration slips with "Mrs. Brown" registered were a mistake. COL Brown testified that he had dinner with Ms. Smith on the occasions he stayed in the motel but no more. Ms. Smith's testimony that she had sexual intercourse with COL Brown on multiple occasions, supported by documentary evidence and corroborated by witness testimony, was more credible than COL Brown's denials. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated that COL Brown violated Article 134, UCMJ.

Finding Allegation 2

• ALLEGATION 2: COL Brown sexually harassed female of Army Regulation (AR) 600-20, Army Command Policy. Unsubstantiated.

SYNOPSIS: An anonymous complainant alleged COL Brown sexually harassed female employees within the DPCA, 66th ID. AR 600-20 prohibited sexual harassment. The elements of proof were "unwelcomed sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature," to include "telling sexual jokes," that threatened the individual's job or career. No witnesses testified that COL Brown harassed them. One witness testified that he saw COL Brown harassing others, but his testimony was not credible due to his personal grudge against COL Brown. Witnesses testified that COL Brown frequently used endearing terms ("Honey, Darling") to female employees but attributed this behavior to his age and background. Two female witnesses testified that they heard COL Brown tell a "mildly off-color" joke on one occasion, but they thought it was funny and were not offended. COL Brown admitted that he had a habit of referring to women as "Honey" and "Darling" and once told a "dirty" joke in the office, which he suggested was a lapse in judgment. He denied harassing anyone. None of the women in the office, or any credible witness, objected to either the use of terms of endearment or the joke or felt that their jobs or careers were threatened. The preponderance of credible evidence indicated COL Brown did not violate AR 600-20.
