SUMMARY

This amendment, which is the majority report of the committee, strikes the provisions in the bill that define "caucus political action committee" and the provision that requires each appointed legislative leader of a political party in the House of Representatives and the Senate to designate one caucus political action committee to promote the election of nominees to be the party's appointed leader. The amendment also strikes the provision in the bill that directs the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices to submit an annual statistical report of campaign finance activity.
