9                   as a major contributor does not apply to a political action committee, party committee or 10                   ballot question committee registered with the commission or a municipality.

11                   1. Notice to major contributor. Within 5 days of receiving more than $100,000 in

14                   this section and shall submit a copy of the notice to the commission. If the contribution 15                   that exceeds the $100,000 aggregate amount is received during the last 13 days before an 16                   election, the recipient committee shall provide written notice of the reporting requirement 17                   to the major contributor within 24 hours of receipt and submit a copy of the notice to the 18                   commission. The commission shall prepare a sample written notice for this purpose.

19                   2. Required reports. A major contributor shall file a report containing the 20                   information required in subsection 3 on or before the filing deadline under section 1059,
21                   subsection 2 for the recipient committee's October quarterly or 11-day preelection
22                   campaign finance report, whichever occurs first after the major contributor receives
23                   notice of the reporting requirement. If a major contributor makes a contribution of more 24                   than $100,000 during the 13 days before an election, the major contributor shall file a 25                   report within 2 business days of receiving notice from the recipient committee or the 26                   commission. The commission shall prescribe and prepare forms for these reports and 27                   may require major contributors to file reports electronically.

28                   3. Content. In the reports required under subsection 2, a major contributor shall 29                   provide:

30                   A. The name of and relevant contact information for the major contributor and the 31                   name of a responsible officer of the major contributor;

32                   B. The form of organization and purpose of the major contributor;

33                   C. The amounts and dates of each contribution from the major contributor to the 34                   recipient committee during the calendar year;

35                   D. A certification that the major contributor has not received contributions, in whole 36                   or in part, for the purpose of initiating or influencing a campaign in this State, or if 37                   the major contributor has received such contributions, the date, source and amount of 38                   any such contributions;

1 E. Information concerning the 5 largest sources of funds received by the major 2 contributor during the 12 months prior to the filing of the report, including but not 3 limited to the source and amounts of the funds and the dates received; and

4 F. A statement indicating whether the major contributor is exempt from taxation
5 under the United States Internal Revenue Code and a list of any governmental 6 jurisdictions within the United States in which the major contributor has filed 7 campaign finance reports during the previous 12 months.

8 The commission may require by rule additional information to be reported consistent with 9 subsection 3 to facilitate disclosure to citizens of this State of financial activity conducted 10 for the purpose of influencing elections in the State. The commission may, by rule, 11 permit major contributors to exclude the sources of funds that are restricted to purposes 12 unrelated to elections.

13 4. Noncompliance. The commission may assess a civil penalty against a major 14 contributor that does not file a timely report required under this section. The preliminary 15 penalty is 10% of the total contributions required to be reported, up to a maximum of 16 $50,000. Within 2 weeks of receiving notice of the preliminary penalty from the 17 commission, the major contributor may request that the penalty be waived in full or in 18 part. In considering a request for a waiver, the commission shall consider, among other 19 things, any lack of notice to the major contributor of the reporting requirement, the 20 number of days that the report was filed late and the amount of the contributions required
21 to be reported. The commission may assess a civil penalty in the same amount against a 22 recipient committee that has not provided written notice of the reporting requirements to 23 the major contributor, using the same procedures as set out in this subsection for penalties 24 against the major contributor.
