

STATE OF MAINE

IN THE YEAR OF OUR LORD
TWO THOUSAND TWENTY-FIVE

An Act to Increase Storm Preparedness for Maine's Communities, Homes and Infrastructure

Emergency preamble. Whereas, acts and resolves of the Legislature do not become effective until 90 days after adjournment unless enacted as emergencies; and

Whereas, the winter storms of December 18, 2023, January 9, 2024 and January 13, 2024 caused an estimated $90,000,000 of damage to public infrastructure and significant additional damage to private property, including homes, wharves and businesses; and

Whereas, the damage demonstrates an urgent need for increased preparedness for improved resiliency from future extreme weather events; and

Whereas, the Department of Defense, Veterans and Emergency Management, Maine Emergency Management Agency has obligated the existing balance of the Disaster Recovery Fund to fund the state match for funding for previously declared disasters and requires additional funding to fully fund the state cost share for funding for current open disasters; and

Whereas, the Maine Emergency Management Agency currently lacks the capacity to apply for competitive hazard mitigation grant funds, improve much-needed statewide emergency systems and provide matching funds needed for United States Department of Homeland Security, Federal Emergency Management Agency disaster and hazard mitigation loan funds; and

Whereas, in its November report to the Governor, the State of Maine Infrastructure Rebuilding and Resilience Commission recommended a set of immediate actions to improve emergency communication, increase community resilience, prepare for future extreme weather events and increase public safety; and

Whereas, county, municipal and tribal leaders, regional planners, state agencies and emergency managers at the state, county and local level lack up-to-date hydrological and sea level rise modeling data and are operating with outdated Federal Emergency Management Agency maps; and

Whereas, only 1.3% of all homes and buildings in the State are covered under the National Flood Insurance Program, a number that has declined while people in the State who do have flood insurance are filing more claims; and

Whereas, in the judgment of the Legislature, these facts create an emergency within the meaning of the Constitution of Maine and require the following legislation as immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and safety; now, therefore,

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Maine as follows:

PART A

Sec. A-1. 24-A MRSA c. 101 is enacted to read:

CHAPTER 101

HOME RESILIENCY PROGRAM

§7701. Definitions

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise indicates, the following terms have the following meanings.

1. Administrator. "Administrator" means the bureau or an entity with which the bureau contracts for the administration of the program.

2. Fund. "Fund" means the Home Resiliency Fund established in section 7702.

3. Grant. "Grant" means the award of funds for an approved project.

4. Home resiliency project; project. "Home resiliency project" or "project" means a project designed to make a home more resistant to damage from extreme weather events.

5. Program. "Program" means the Home Resiliency Program established in section 7702.

§7702. Home Resiliency Program

1. Program established. The Home Resiliency Program is established within and under the direction of the bureau to provide grants to homeowners for the purpose of performing home resiliency projects.

2. Home Resiliency Fund. The Home Resiliency Fund is established as a nonlapsing Other Special Revenue Funds account administered by the bureau for the purposes of funding the program. The bureau may transfer available balances from other bureau accounts to the fund, and the fund may receive money from any gift, grant, contribution, legislative appropriation, allocation or transfer or bond proceeds. The money in the fund may be used only for the purpose of awarding grants under the program and paying the costs of the administration of the program.

3. Program administration. The bureau may contract with other entities for the administration of the program and other services, including, but not limited to:

A. Promotion of the program, including the creation and maintenance of a publicly accessible website containing information about the program;

- B. Development of an application form;
- C. Verification of applicant eligibility;
- D. Determination and distribution of grants;
- E. Establishment of standards for project completion, including contractor approval;
- F. Verification of project completion;
- G. Development of a mechanism for the return of unused grant money;
- H. Development of a list of home resiliency projects that would be eligible for a grant; and
- I. Development of standards to be used to determine whether a home resiliency project has been completed satisfactorily.

4. Program eligibility. An individual is eligible for a grant if the individual:

- A. Has not previously received a grant under the program;
- B. Submits an application on a form approved by the administrator;
- C. In the application submitted under paragraph B, designates a home resiliency project from the list approved pursuant to subsection 5 to be performed on a home:
 - (1) Owned by the applicant;
 - (2) In which the applicant resides as the applicant's permanent residence; and
 - (3) That was not the subject of a previous home resiliency project; and
- D. Submits all information regarding the individual, the individual's home and the proposed home resiliency project as required by the bureau and the administrator.

5. Home resiliency projects; list. The bureau and the administrator of the project shall approve a list of prospective projects eligible for grants under the program. The administrator shall publish the list of approved prospective home resiliency projects in the promotional materials for the program and on the publicly accessible website maintained to promote the program.

6. Grant determination. The bureau may establish 2 or more tiers of eligibility based on factors that reflect the income or financial means of the applicant. The bureau shall set maximum grant amounts and, if income or financial means tiers are established, shall set the maximum grant amounts for each tier. The administrator shall make grants under the program to eligible persons. The administrator shall review applications in the order in which they are received. An application is considered received when all required information has been submitted. The administrator shall award grants under the program until funds in the fund are exhausted.

7. Post-grant verification. The recipient of a grant under the program shall provide to the administrator information that is required by the administrator and that is sufficient to allow the administrator to verify that the home resiliency project has been completed within the standards developed under subsection 3 for home resiliency project completion within 2 years of the grant. The recipient of a grant shall return to the administrator any funds provided to the recipient but not used for the approved project.

8. No private right of action. This chapter does not provide an express or implied private right of action.

9. Rulemaking. The superintendent may adopt rules necessary to implement the program. Rules adopted pursuant to this subsection are routine technical rules as defined in Title 5, chapter 375, subchapter 2-A.

§7703. Date of grants

The bureau and the administrator are not required to award a grant before May 1, 2026.

Sec. A-2. Transfers from available fiscal year 2024-25 Department of Professional and Financial Regulation, Insurance - Bureau of, Other Special Revenue Funds balances to the Department of Professional and Financial Regulation, Home Resiliency Fund, Other Special Revenue Funds account.
