My income is under $100,000. 00 and, gratefully, I don't want or need fuel assistance. I think weatherization should be required and square footage should be a factor. Also, heating costs are no different if recipients are married or not. Before my husband died, our fuel usage was the same as it is now. The house requires a certain amount of fuel to maintain heat no matter how many people live in it.

I wish there were a better way to assist those in need.
