We will tell children they cannot protect themselves, that they cannot consume, that they cannot travel, that they cannot wield; but to tell them that they were born in the wrong body, to infer that they are not born already perfect and as who they are meant to be... that is now right? Never. To bypass the parent and keep secrets from them in a PUBLIC setting, even worse. What parent would not sue? What would drive a public school to such secrecy? Only misdeeds can lead to such a need for a bull such as this - one that further fractures families in a time when family is needed most. Have school workers been so misunderstood their whole lives, they must project the same misunderstanding onto innocents?

Pronoun use is irrelevant to the comfortable and healthy upbringing of a child. Skewing a child's self-image is treacherous to their well-being. Separating their growth from their parents, and labeling parents as abusers for not conforming to pronoun use is glaring. It is nothing short of torture inside a mind and soul to those who are most pure. I vehemently oppose LD 394 and will never submit my child into any school system that plans to implement such misdeeds. The school system will crumble under such obviously ridiculous and abhorrent law.
