

Linda Jones
Warren
LD 394

As a parent, legal guardian, mother, grandparents raising three sets of grandchildren I do not support, teachers, counselors or social workers from not sharing information regarding a child in there care at school, counseling sessions or groups. We, the caregivers must be made aware of any and all issues, decisions, or concerns that the children we are raising have. It takes a village to raise children but not a divided village. It takes everyone to be honest, truthful and forthcoming with any information regarding a child and all aspects of their development to all the parties and parents who have legal rights to the child.

Please protect our children and parental rights. Schools are not the judgement or final deciding factors of our children, the parents and guardians are.