I am against LD 1619. Late term abortion is murder of a live baby. It is unfair to the child as they do not get a say. If born at 28, 32 weeks and so on they would be born alive. Then what? Lots of children are born with handicaps and live good happy and productive lives. Let's not forget about the psychological repercussions that the mother will experience if she goes along with this. Her life will never be the same. Later children who are born from this mother's womb will experience growing and developing in a haunted womb space. What do you think their emotional development will be developing in a womb where the baby before them wasn't welcomed and subsequently murdered? I was pushed into an abortion as a young child and it was the worst mistake of my life. That baby was 8 weeks when it took place and I to this day regret the abortion, yet was encouraged and pushed into it by medical providers. Now we are talking abortion after 24 weeks. This is crazy stuff. How many mother's may get pushed into something that they will regret and how many haunted wombs will produce psychologically disturbed other children, that is what I want to know.
