

dan haiss
Pittston
LD 494

This unconstitutional move to force people to use their taxes to pay for something they believe to be morally abhorrent is grounds for complete denial of any state authority over its citizens. It is a war on its most defenseless and has grave consequences that will result in further societal collapse. I oppose this mindset and will work tirelessly against the state to minimize any taxes it would ordinarily get based on trust.