With regard to LD1578, no thank you!

Maine has and shall always have its own voice.

I moved here almost 14 years ago expecting to bring my family to a state...The Way Life Should Be. 14 years later, this state is almost unrecognizable. I watch people struggling to live, moving away to escape what they once called home.

Shame on you people who have dishonored and disgraced this once beautiful state.

Maine needs its own voice. We are not looking to be NY, CA, MA, or anywhere else nor do we wish to be mandated that our elections be decided by larger urban centers in such states. I live in Maine.
