

Amy Berry
Auburn
LD 1578

Trying to change the way we vote for president, and especially in an election year, is very sneaky and devious. Why should the electors go with who won the popular vote in the whole country? My vote matters, and this is unconstitutional. This is not what the founding fathers set up. You are trying to change so you can get people in who you want in, when my vote should matter. You are taking away my right to vote.