My heart breaks as I watch the erosion of morality in what used to be a wonderful nation under God. Satan is the great deceiver and seeks to destroy. God designed our wonderful nature and beautiful systems. Above all God created people in his image and likeness and said it is very good. The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom.

Please don't tell me our own leaders don't fear God or love and protect the least and most beautiful of all of Gods creation. Are you not a person? Were you not an unborn person at one point? "Love your neighbor as yourself". Isn't one of Gods commands "Thou shalt not murder"? Have you forgotten Jesus came as a humble servant the first time but will return someday as a holy, just, perfect, and all powerful judge? Do you dare to kneel one day before God and be judged for your intentional and deliberate violation against His most precious creation through approving the breaking of one of his crystal clear commandments? And, if you vote to pass this violation, how many baby murders might he hold against you?

For your sake, please remember that letting Satan deceive you into thinking there is no God, will not rescue you from holy accountability and judgement. Better safe than judged. God bless you.
