Great Works Regional Land Trust supports the Self-determination for Wabanaki Nations. The politicians who drafted the 1980 Settlement Act called it a “living document” that should not be set in stone as it has been for more than 40 years to the detriment of the Wabanaki and rural Maine communities and the state of Maine. Bottom line: MICSA provides for the State of Maine, Passamaquoddy Tribe and Penobscot Nation to amend the law within broad areas. It’s time to modernize this broken deal and begin a new era of partnership with the Wabanaki Nations for the betterment of everyone in Maine. We need to do better as a country and more importantly as people.
