LD 2007

It is time that we live together as equals and not continue to discriminate against the Wabanaki. What they ask of us is so little compared with what we have done to them. I fully support LD2007. Let's stop postponing the inevitable; they have a right for self-determination and the right to restore back to them the rights, privileges, powers, duties and immunities enjoyed by other federally recognized Indian tribes within the United States, which were restricted by the Maine Implementing Act. to be treated as other tribes are throughout the nation. If they thrive we will thrive as we are beginning to learn.
