

Tribal self-governance has been granted to 570 tribes throughout the U.S. with the notable and deplorable exemption of the Wabanaki Nations in Maine. I urge you to meet our moral and judicial responsibility to pass LD 2007 so that Federal self-determination policies that benefit hundreds of other tribes can serve Maine's tribes. These tribes have formed the foundational structure of our state and continue to serve as caretakers of our land that we love and regularly promote to others, as part of our economic growth intentions. Native Wabanaki tribes DESERVE their OWN opportunities for sustained economic growth and can guide us in caring for the land simultaneously. I urge you to pass LD 2007 today!!!
Thank you, Bonnie Rukin/educator/Camden, ME

Bonnie Rukin
Camden
LD 2007

Tribal self-governance has been granted to 570 tribes throughout the U.S. with the notable and deplorable exemption of the Wabanaki Nations in Maine. I urge you to meet our moral and judicial responsibility to pass LD 2007 so that Federal self-determination policies that benefit hundreds of other tribes can serve Maine's tribes. These tribes have formed the foundational structure of our state and continue to serve as caretakers of our land that we love and regularly promote to others, as part of our economic growth intentions. Native Wabanaki tribes DESERVE their OWN opportunities for sustained economic growth and can guide us in caring for the land simultaneously. I urge you to pass LD 2007 today!!!
Thank you, Bonnie Rukin/educator/Camden, ME