LD 227

As an educator, a parent, and a concerned citizen, I am extremely concerned about LD227 and its implications for the future of our children. This bill has previously been vetoed but is now being resurrected with the added piece concerning transgender policies which will in all likelihood, remove the role of the parent in these monumental decisions...decisions which will have life long consequences! This bill would allow decisions of this nature to be made by the 'state' or other entities to make these critical decisions without the input of parents.
