

Valerie Caruso
Augusta
LD 13

The Secretary of State's decision to provide funds necessary for the production and delivery of election materials is a commendable step towards ensuring fair and efficient elections. By allocating resources to this important aspect of the electoral process, the Secretary of State is demonstrating a commitment to upholding democracy and promoting voter participation.

Furthermore, the decision to reconvene the Working Group to study polling places at schools shows a willingness to address potential logistical challenges and improve the voting experience for all citizens. By actively seeking input and feedback from stakeholders, the Secretary of State is taking a proactive approach to ensuring that polling places are convenient and accessible to all voters.

Overall, the Secretary of State's actions reflect a high level of creativity and dedication to improving the electoral process. By prioritizing the production and delivery of election materials and addressing issues related to polling places, the Secretary of State is demonstrating a commitment to promoting transparency, efficiency, and inclusivity in the electoral process.