

Brian Vansickle
sanford
LD 138

The last thing we need is to create or protect wildlife habitat around any airport. Maine has millions of acres of wildlife habitat. The hazard wildlife creates around airports is real. The state should be doing more to prevent wildlife on our airports to protect the pilots and the people in the surrounding towns. I have had several bird strikes my self. several close calls with turkeys and deer as well.