SimKit
LD 210

SimKit was fortunate enough to be an awardee of the domestic trade grant from the Maine Jobs & Recovery Plan program. Funds such as this for a small start-up business are absolutely critical in a state like Maine trying to improve the environment for small businesses. SimKit was able to use these funds to launch our medical education company aimed at improving critical physician skills. SimKit has tried to lean heavily on local vendors, education programs, including interns and university programs, and funding. The domestic trade grant helped us develop our curriculum and leverage local vendors for logistics and manufacturing. Programs like this bring much-needed support to grow local businesses and new businesses. Without granting programs like this SimKit would have struggled significantly to develop and contribute to the local economy.
