

Nicole Johnson
Lewiston
LD 444

As a solar adopter for two year, I strongly reject the changes to our solar policy in Maine. The cost to solar in Maine is negligible when considering the cost CMP passes along to customer for a poorly maintained grid and record profits for their shareholders. I'm unwilling to risk solar adoption in Maine with the realities of climate change we are already facing in order to save an out of our country company from hauling in record profits. It's time for the PUC to take a stand.