I'm confused as to why the government of Maine is doing what they do? It would be nice to have some sort of idea as a new Mainer. First time parent, it's time for me to get involved. I believe in parental rights. My daughter is my responsibility until she is 18 years old and an adult. I should be the one to take care of her without the governments involvement. Any and all information pertinent to her health and well being is vital to making sure I do my job.
