The sewer issue has been a constant thorn in the side of the Vassalboro residents to whom it applies for years. The price increases to citizens are not supportable. This is not a wealthy town and we are discouraging people to move here because of the astronomical sewer bill. It's also been completely unclear what we are paying for and when increases go into effect, as the past committee has wavered back & forth on pricing as the outrage in the town has grown. We need the money from the state to help cover the cost of the sewer connection that was necessary years ago, that we are apparently still getting increases for.
