

David Payne
Cumberland
LD 953

LD953 provides a refined update to the definition of a machine gun, particularly with the specification "that shoots automatically." Remembering that a machine gun fires multiple rounds with the press of the trigger. Not multiple trigger pulls. This should pass committee