Amber Bougie
Fayette
LD 975

Making abortion illegal not only takes away a woman's right to medical autonomy it also potentially puts lives in danger. I nearly died from an ectopic pregnancy and required an emergency surgery to abort the pregnancy that nearly killed me. This procedure was performed at a Catholic hospital.
I fear for women in unsafe situations may that be an unchangeable life circumstance whether it be an abusive relationship or a medical condition- that makes bringing a child unsafe; either for them or the child. Keeping abortions legal allows for women and medical practitioners to make the best decisions for themselves and their patients.