I would hope everyone understandings the dire circumstance our environment is in, and in turn our stability and health is. As such it is so important to continue to move forward on environmental issues, including restricting single use plastic. These items are leaching toxics and pollutants into the environment around us. These items are easily replaced and so the negative impact they produce doesn't come close to the benefit of the slight convenience they provide. Please do the right thing and keep up moving forward for ourselves and our children.
