

Debra Gray
Fort Fairfield
LD 975

I have three daughters, and I have had complications in my past deliveries. I am concerned that if I do get pregnant again the same complications or worse could occur. I have one daughter that was born without any thyroid glands and there's a possibility that this or down syndrome might occur, and I should have a choice rather than want to risk these complications with another a child not all contraceptives work all the time.