I STRONGLY URGE you to vote OUGHT TO PASS on LD1207, An Act to require the Department of Environmental Protection to assess existing water retention structures and water levels. This is absolutely necessary. We are so worried about car emissions and global warming, but the real danger is all these products we put out there to create a more "environmentally friendly" environment. Then we put all these plastics and environmentally detrimental products into a useless solar energy field and kill the environment with detrimental products. SO, we have a non-productive field of detrimental products. What could go wrong?! EVERYTHING! We need to be sure these solar field aren't poisoning our air and water, i.e., runoff, as well! Please vote on the side of planet safety. Make them prove their product is good for our environment. Your grandchildren will Thank You! I Thank you! Vote OUGHT TO PASS on LD1207.
