

Janet Williams
Searsport
LD 1293

It is time to ban forever the vile practice of wildlife killing contests. Coyotes are not a public safety issue and provide a vital service in controlling rodents and small mammal populations that carry ticks/Lyme disease. Killing contests are not effective wildlife management, they are just a shameful display of cold blooded ignorance.

Wildlife killing contests are opposed by the vast majority of the public, including hunters, so please do the right thing and pass this bill.