

Wendy Rider
Coastal Shores
LD 979

Facilities are struggling to remain open with the current regulations. Increasing the staffing ratios will put further financial strain on the facility. Finding caring, qualified staff is difficult - especially following the covid pandemic. Where are we going to find the staffing required under the new rules? With the added financial costs of the additional staff, is the reimbursement going to reflect these changes? This could be the final straw for facilities who are already struggling.