Please advance LD 958. I find it shameful that the four Wabanaki Nations in Maine are subject to local eminent domain policy in conflict with the federal policy that applies to almost all of the other federally recognized tribes across the US. I'm confident that if the state is able to now fully recognize their sovereignty and work with them collaboratively in a government-to-government relationship, we'll develop better solutions for everybody. Maine is currently behind the rest of the country on this. Let's improve.
