

Jeremy Nuppula
Union
LD 1020

It's disgusting you want to destroy one of the last real aspects of rural Maine in southern maine. Maine promotes itself as a rural state in the way life should be, but all it is lately is sell out to anybody with deep pockets. What is the point of living here if it turns into just every other state and every other overbuilt city?