

Ed Wolfe
Portland
LD 676

I would rather see the mountain division trail headed in a more 'outdoor recreation' direction than restoring rail use for what seems more tourist-focused than transit-focused. I would imagine there are more economical ways to move tourists and locals along that corridor, like a bus route, and preserving the historic rail avenue as an accessible way to get people active and outdoors seems much more in line with the culture of the state.