I am a school nurse and mother to five, I was formally a neonatal nurse. I worked in the trenches during covid 19. I am against a parent's right choose what is put inside of their child's body. I believe that exemption should exist because most vaccines are not even studied and pharmaceutical companies are exempt from responsibility if there is a vaccine injury.

Why are we giving babies who are barely 24 hours old a hepatitis B vaccine?

Hepatitis B is contracted from using dirty needles or risky sexual activity. Why not draw a titer on the mom? If she is negative, than this baby is not at risk.

Vaccines need to be held to the SAME gold standard of all other drugs/medications and be studied and scientifically proven to be safe prior to use. Almost none of the vaccines on the schedule have been studied. Look at the vaccine schedule from the 80's and today, it is terrifying how many shots a child gets in their life time. We need to do better for our children!
