

Don Kelly
Topsham
LD 667

I am against changing the inspection system to an electronic means. The system as it exists now is adequate. A change to electronic would mean added costs and also added security concerns for private citizens. The auto inspections should be reduced to every two years every year is too often