My name is Britney Noble. I am a single mama of 2 and have solely done it by myself for 8 years with my oldest and over a year with my youngest. I am also currently a stay at home mom and not by choice because it's hard to find a job with school hours. It's been a struggle doing it on my own and every little bit will help me support my babies. I am currently also enrolled into college classes, I am trying to better life for my kids and myself.
