I have been deeply and fervidly in love with a cute and clean woman this time. I know now that my children are intelligent again. I would never allow any wife of mine or any girlfriend or acquaintance to abort a Sheppard. No! But! When a woman is certain through a proper evaluation and a proper evaluation period that she is ready to challenge the will of man and the will of God, then she may request an abortion from the state of Texas first; the Supreme Court second and the state of Maine third. Only then after being judged by the final stage/Governor of Maine would she be allowed to proceed with an abortion. Each case will be judged by Texas Judiciary first; and then second stage judiciary at the Supreme Court; then third stage judiciary with the Governor's office in Maine. This 3 stage method I have manufactured with thoughts of love and thoughts of abridgements are/is the only logical solutions for a more and more "checks" and "balances"- to test the extreme people, the woman abortion patient and the scholarly and well and also the down hearted, sad, scared and lonely women.

Judgements

- 1) An abortion is ill-considered.
 - A. No is the answer. But maybe; when USA Judiciary works in 3 stages.
 - B. An abortion in Maine needs three Judiciary systems to judge meticulously. Yes or No. End of judgement. No more appeals.
 - C. The Yes. Abortions only in Maine.
 - D. The No. Maine helps with rehabilitation and mental health services after judgement and until rehabilitated.
- 2) When yes is the answer, Maine should then provide a clean, safe, comfortable, affordable, professional, QUIET, isolate, well lit, and managed properly room for patient being prepped and prepared for operation/abortion.
- 3) Maine operates and makes conclusive statements to media or state governance selectable office or both.
- 4) Patient rest for 7 days; after 7 seven days, if the patient has the will to leave, only then will the patient be allowed to leave the facility/hospital.

I am trying hard to help Maine find a solution this time.
Republicans seem so determined to stop a woman from having a chance with abortions. A woman needs some litigation to have hope if she is sincere about her Constitutional Rights.

I needed to at least find a method for a possible solution in Maine Legislature.

Thank you for the considerations,
God bless the children of Maine!
