

Claire Fogg
Belfast
LD 217

Contraceptives are the best way to prevent teen pregnancy. Making condoms available for free would allow students access to no questions asked contraceptives that they may not be able to afford or have any support to obtain. There are no negatives to making condoms available, and the cost is significantly lower than supporting teen parents.