

Stephanie Shipp
Steuben
LD 252

While I understand that implementation of the National Popular Vote Compact is complicated and will require further clarification across the states choosing to be part, I strongly believe that a foundation of democracy is that the individual who acquires the most votes should be the president. I do not want Maine to withdraw from the compact.