Due to an infestation of curly leaf pondweed in East Pond it is critical that boaters are made aware of the location of the infestation and how to avoid that area due to potential to spread this to other locations in the lake or to other water bodies. With the removal of the informational kiosk at the East Pond boat launch our ability to communicate vital information to boaters has been compromised. 7 Lakes Alliance and the East Pond Association should be authorized to post appropriate information about invasives. The Town of Woodstock maintains an excellent kiosk at their Bryant Pond launch site. It not only contains information about the milfoil infestation but also has a map of the location of the infested areas. All this is posted behind plexiglass to prevent unauthorized tampering.
