Those Maine citizens who choose to live on coastal islands do so with a fragile balance between needs and wants while simultaneously maintaining a robust defense of their space and property. These challenges are nature made. This hearty and independent population accepts the rules and asks only for fair judging and equal access. It is therefore shocking and demoralizing when our human state authorities dictate unilateral ferry changes that impact the very sole of our communities, threatening our access to home and health and even the longevity of island living.

Please PASS the above referenced 3 legislative bills now before the state government and help preserve a unique Maine heritage.
