Reducing pollution from the transportation sector is a cornerstone of Maine's Climate Action Plan. But we're not making the progress we need to meet our goals. The solutions are within reach – and will not only help meet our climate goals, but will improve public health, boost local economies, strengthen community safety, and protect the air we all breathe – if our decision-makers are willing to act.

LD 1138 would:

Measure the climate impacts of our future transportation investments
Incentivize investment in safe, clean alternatives like public transit, active transportation, and safe walkable downtowns
Align our transportation agencies with Maine's Climate Action Plan
