I am fully against instituting another broken track and trace system for medical cannabis in Maine. It is absolutely broken for adult use, over priced, ineffective, and over complicated. Not to mention that the director of the OCP is currently being investigated by the house ethics committee for conflicts of interest, with the company that this legislation would enable even further if this passes.

Finally, the medical program already has a tracking system. They are required to keep trip tickets and have them available for inspection.
