Good Morning to all. I hope this testimony finds you in good spirits. I have testified and spoke on the behalf of cannabis numerous times. But nothing so close to my heart before. Being a veteran and trying to find your footing amongst people who will never understand you is tough on its own. Let alone those who are seeking alternatives medical routes to prolong their life span rather than shorten it. No matter how you splice and dice it, every single veteran is angry, and there is nothing western medicine can do for that. Let us use cannabis and protect our rights as we have yours.
